Skeeter A Cat Tale:

Skeeter Anne L. Watson, 2005-04 When a stray kitten romps into Lynne's life she has no idea what she's getting into Lynne describes in a series of letters to her friend Angie how Skeeter is high spirited contrary and inventive And when Angie comes for a visit she meets the irrepressible cat Skeeter Anne L. Watson, 1900 Dealing with a dog to put it crudely is like dealing with a person who's a bit dumb Dealing with a cat is like dealing with a person who's more than a bit crazy When a stray kitten romps into Lynne's life she has no idea what she's getting into As Lynne describes in letters to her friend Angie Skeeter is all cat high spirited contrary and inventive He's so goofy that he reminds Lynne of her own nuttiest escapades so irrepressible that even Lynne's neighbor Mark gets wound around his paw And when Angie visits to see Skeeter for herself Well no one who meets Skeeter will ever be quite the same again ABOUT THE AUTHOR Anne L Watson a retired historic preservation architecture consultant is the author of numerous novels plus books on such diverse subjects as soapmaking and baking with cookie molds A former resident of San Pedro California the setting of Skeeter Anne currently lives in Bellingham Washington with her husband and fellow author Aaron Shepard SAMPLE January 29 2000 Dear Angie Skeeter is not entirely happy about the way we live For example he doesn't like my going to work With more justification he disapproves of some of my attitudes Most of my experience with animals is with dogs In a relationship with a pet I elect myself pack leader Cats are not pack animals Skeeter a democrat considers us equals and resents my bumptious ways This is particularly true when it comes to food I buy various kinds of food for Skeeter so he won't become too set on one type or flavor I had a friend in high school whose cat Sparkles would eat nothing but Kitty Queen Tuna No other brand would do even people tuna Kitty Queen Salmon would not do either My friend's family had Kitty Queen Tuna crises when none could be found Did you try the all night drugstore We went there last time remember They don't have it The cat probably would have starved before it ate anything else My friend's mother had a strange relationship with the cat She believed Sparkles to be the reincarnation of her own mother long deceased So the cat ruled the household I am not going down that road with Skeeter A gauntlet has been thrown though regarding turkey Till last week he ate it with obvious enjoyment The two cans I've given him this week have gone untouched Someone said it might be spoiled that I should smell it A longtime vegetarian I think meat always smells spoiled but I gave it a whiff Disgusting but not rancid I won't buy it again though if he feels that way This morning he got beef which he accepted In fact he made a pig of himself After breakfast he returned to the bedroom belching alarmingly Would Monsieur like a potato with the steak next time I asked Perhaps a small glass of red wine Monsieur looked interested A salad No sale I think I'll continue being pack leader Like all despots I perpetuate Skeeter's servitude by monopolizing the means to freedom the checkbook the car keys the can opener It's unfair that I should be the leader just because I'm bigger and smarter and have opposable thumbs But it's going to stay that way as long as I can manage it If Skeeter is the reincarnation of my mother she can learn to eat what she's given Love Lynne Benecia's

Mirror Anne L. Watson, 1900 Susan Jarvin could hardly be more surprised when her elegant musician mother Benecia accepts her invitation to visit Washington's San Juan Island. But more surprises are in store as Benecia shows a new strong interest in Susan's young son and then starts dating his diving instructor, a man more than a decade her junior. It's all a bit much to cope with on top of dealing with an ex-husband that Susan never quite stopped loving. This is Book 3 in Anne L. Watson's Island Women trilogy which includes Cassie's Castaways, Willow's Crystal, and Benecia's Mirror. Anne L. Watson, a retired historic preservation architecture consultant, is the author of several novels plus books on such diverse subjects as soapmaking and baking with cookie molds. Living now in Bellingham, Washington, she lived for many years in Friday Harbor in the San Juan Islands, the home base of her Island Women trilogy. SAMPLE Our food came then and for a few minutes we busied ourselves with the chowder and accompanying salad. Finally I said I got a message from Mom on my machine. Chris stopped with a spoonful of chowder halfway to his mouth. Oh, What did she say? She's accepting my invitation to visit. Here Good lord, Suz, how'd you pull that off? She's never come here. You didn't tell me you'd asked her. When's she coming? We haven't worked out the details. I wrote her a note and told her it would be fun to see her. I've no idea why she took me up on it. Didn't expect she would. Well, congratulations. But we've both invited her before. You have any idea why she's coming this time? Maybe Dad's letter. His stories about her. Maybe. But I doubt she'd bother to come all this way to defend herself against Dad's gossip. She's not that much into what other people think. The dogs bark but the caravans roll on, that's what she liked to say about stupid talk. If it's not that, I have no idea. I said. Over the next few days I kept wondering. I didn't kid myself that she was coming solely for the pleasure of our company. Mom wasn't a witch mother, but she was an extremely strange one. She'd been more than adequate as a parent, but she seemed studied as if she were conscientiously following instructions from a couple of how-to books in her room. She hadn't been abusive in any way. I'd simply been sure she didn't love me. Or Chris, either, for that matter. As an adult, I came to the conclusion that she didn't have it in her to love anyone. Neither of us was surprised when she showed no interest in Brian's birth or Chris's marriage. I might never have seen her again if I hadn't invited her to the island. I was beginning to wonder why I had. And why she'd accepted. It promised to be a memorable visit.

SAMPLE Housekeeping has gotten a bad rap Somehow the subject has shrunk to discussions of clutter control and cleaning a bit like when your mom told you to pick up your room But that s the dull part Necessary of course I wrote a book Smart Housekeeping that s mostly about getting to a state of order But housekeeping is no more about clutter control than gardening is about weeding Yes you have to do some of both but why stop short of the interesting stuff Housekeeping is making yourself comfortable in your home whatever that takes A lot of housekeeping is about what you do and why you do it after you ve taken care of the obvious chores How do you set up a guest room Unclog a sink Keep garbage odors out of the kitchen Arrange toy storage so that the kids will use it on their own What s the best way to wash a family quilt To be safe on a ladder To choose appliances Housekeeping isn t just housework it s setting the stage for your whole life at home which includes play enjoyment and creativity This book is arranged as an almanac because the more skilled housekeeping tasks tend to follow the calendar We do what we need to for seasonal celebrations and we try to get the weather on our side when we paint a room air dry a comforter or get the carpets steam cleaned Other tasks and concerns are less linked to the seasons but also don't need to be revisited often once you've arranged things to please yourself So considering them on an annual basis is probably about right You may want to use this book as much as a reference as a read through especially if your seasons are different from mine or even nonexistent Smart Housekeeping featured felted white mice at least on the cover As mice will do they have now taken over the house and are shown throughout this book doing their chores handling household crises and entertaining other small animals And they step out each month enjoying adventures together and just having fun I recommend that for all of us

SAMPLE At the restaurant we found a corner table a little away from other patrons When we d ordered Enid sipped her ice water Tell me more she said I ve been seeing ghosts in the house I said Or maybe they re not ghosts A friend of mine calls them visions A bad start I tried again I think I told you I d been a caregiver for my father Well he was living in the house I grew up in and now it s mine But I keep seeing him and my mom and my sister and brother and me all over the house Really What are these visions about Scenes from the past I suppose it sounds crazy Not at all You said your dad passed away recently What about your mom She died a few years ago Suddenly That s when we found out Dad had Alzheimer s So you were his caregiver after that Are your brother and sister still living Yes I m closer to my sis than to my brother My guess is the ghosts are leftover emotional energy from intense experiences in the house I gather they re not doing everyday tasks like peeling apples and mopping floors Mostly not But even the everyday normal things they do feel intense She nodded I can see why What else did your friend say The one who called them visions That it was a form of teaching That they d go away once I learned what I needed to

Departure Anne L. Watson, 1900 When Henry wakes up he finds himself walking along an empty stretch of road on modern day San Juan Island He doesn t remember much about himself besides his name and the fact that he s dead How did he die How long ago What was his life Did he have a family Why is he still on the island And most important what is a ghost like him supposed to do now On Henry s journey of discovery he meets another ghost in the same predicament a little girl named Charlotte Together they navigate the byways of the island and of their own memories in search of the keys that will finally free them for departure Part ghost story part historical novel part fable Anne L Watson s latest offering weaves island lore human insight and spiritual wisdom into a magical tale of redemption and fulfillment

SAMPLE I went down to the harbor which was only a couple of blocks from the big shop A little girl was sitting on a bench there crying and I knew she was a ghost too She was a pretty little thing maybe ten years old She had on a fancy pink party dress ribbons in her curly yellow hair shiny black shoes She looked like one of the rich children from my time Or maybe a while later I thought studying her She was like children I d seen but just a touch different Of course I d never have spoken to a rich man s little girl when I was alive But now that we were both dead why not So I went to her and knelt on the ground What s the matter I asked She sobbed I want my mother I sighed I didn t really think I could help but it tugged at me I was sure I hadn t had children but somehow a little girl crying for her mother was something I couldn t ignore Where is she I don't know she wailed We could look for her I suggested But I don't think she's around here At least I haven't seen any women likely to be her I wanted to ask if her mother was dead Or if she realized that she was I thought she probably knew but it didn't seem polite to ask I guess children don't worry so much about that kind of thing because the next words out of her mouth were You're a ghost I nodded So are you She didn't pipe up and agree with me but she didn't disagree either Where are the others she asked Which others The other ghosts We can't be the only ones It was a good question I didn't know the answer

Watson a retired historic preservation architecture consultant is the author of numerous novels plus books on such diverse subjects as soapmaking and baking with cookie molds Anne has lived at various times in New Orleans Baton Rouge and San Pedro California the settings of Pacific Avenue She currently lives in Bellingham Washington with her husband and fellow author Aaron Shepard

SAMPLE I chose a window seat on the Greyhound but I didn't look out For almost the whole trip I stared at the rough tan upholstery of the seat in front of me It had a rip on one side and three dark stains A woman settled into the aisle seat She raised her footrest but it clunked back down When I glanced her way she caught my eye and smiled How do you make these things stay put she asked I meant to answer the words were lined up in my mind But before I could say them they slipped apart like beads when the string breaks I gave up and studied the seat cover again Still tan still ripped still stained The next time I looked the woman was gone Evening came but I didn't use my reading light Late at night awake in the breathing dark I imagined running my fingers over the seat back erasing the stains mending the seam In the morning I almost believed I could fix it So I took care not to touch it not to find out for sure In the afternoon the bus left the freeway and crept through downtown traffic I turned then and peered through the mud-spattered window As far as I could see Los Angeles was a city of warehouses I sank back into my seat When we reached the station I claimed my suitcase and dragged it through the waiting room to the street Outside I found blank walls and empty sidewalks No direction and no one to ask Well I ran away from college then from New Orleans and then Baton Rouge Is it too soon to run away from here

SAMPLE Next morning I picked out Will s car parked on the street in front of the coffee shop No room for doubt Will had a real screamer of a car an old red Mustang convertible Not that he described it that way His version started off with 1964 1 2 for the model year and poppy red for the color then veered into details about the color of certain key engine parts at which point I had always zoned out so far I didn t hear the rest of the speech There it sat parked at the curb in Peregrine Falls Idaho already collecting a few admirers Not even counting the vanity plate ORGAN4U the car had so much of Will s personality attached to it I felt mildly nauseated As an alternative to kicking a fender I slammed into the coffee shop Whoa Mirai Remember us The crew had gathered at the only big table in the Clearwater Cafe I d been so wrapped up in my own problems I hadn t even seen them They were all there Evangeline Harvey Mr Papadakis And Will Neither fight nor flight was practical I sat down at the table The waitress hurried to me with a coffeepot and mug I ordered the special and sipped my coffee Clearwater was certainly the word for that coffee they must have named the restaurant after it I glanced around the table skipping over Will Mr Papadakis caught my eye What s the agenda he asked We ll go to the park as soon as we re done here Check out the carousel then have lunch with the committee We have to give the owners a preliminary report tomorrow morning Evangeline smiled How long are you staying she asked me All week You I ll stay awhile I may want to work on things in place In Evangeline s case awhile could mean several months She had an answering service but no permanent address At the moment I envied her It was Will s turn so I had to look toward him then He sat quietly holding a coffee cup Will had never worn jewelry but now a ring glinted on his finger A plain gold ring on the fourth finger of his left hand A wedding ring
