So You Want To Do Ministry:

So You Want to Do Ministry? John J. Walsh, James DiGiacomo, 1993 As the saying goes ice cubes do not sell among the Eskimo Yet many in Christian pastoral and educational ministries try to do just that by presuming they know what people need while ignoring the situation around them As the authors point out the most important change in the Church in the thirty five plus years since Vatican II came not in ritual structure or practice enormous as those changes have been but in people

So You Want to Dig a Well in Africa? Jeff Palmer, 2020-10-14 Typical missions projects involve dozens of people in identical T shirts getting on an airplane to go somewhere and help a needy community But do those projects actually help people in the long run Does this work create long term systemic change in individuals and the community And does the work lead to intentionally sharing Christ In other words is our mission work based on good missions strategy that brings about sustainable change and kingdom impact for communities or is our approach focused only on creating a positive experience for everyone involved So You Want to Dig a Well in Africa highlights ten common myths people and organizations believe about missions Exploring the ways in which American churches take on missions author Jeff Palmer highlights pitfalls of equating mission trips with ministry projects offers valuable techniques to avoid unintentional but harmful practices that stem from a poor community development model presents tools for designing implementing and evaluating strong mercy oriented mission strategies and discusses key elements for evaluating mission programs participation sustainability and transformation Offering a resource for those seeking to work for the good of people but also for the glory of God this guide highlights faulty models used for mercy oriented missions and give a framework for creating sustainable change in people and communities

So You Want to Be a Diplomat? George Lambrakis,2019-12-10 This book of memoirs is not like most George Lambrakis an American Senior Foreign Service Officer with over three decades of service and two decades of teaching international relations and diplomacy tells it in detail exactly as it was and still is fun warts and all His vivid anecdotes take us through live and dangerous action interacting with world leaders and common folks as we visit Vietnam and Laos West Africa s pro Communist Guinea Middle Eastern hotspots like Israel and Lebanon during civil war where he has policy disagreements with Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and Director of Personnel Ambassador Carol Laise and on to Iran before and after its revolution passing through Munich Rome London the U N in New York and Geneva Africa s Guinea Bissau and Swaziland All this with assignments of great variety in Washington culminating as director of an office that is trying to limit the political fall out of the U S military build up in the Middle East a build up which later reverses Saddam Hussein s invasion of Kuwait but leads to the tragic invasion of Iraq and probably invites Osama Bin Laden s attack on America
