Steel Shards:

Steel Tony Fry, Anne-Marie Willis, 2015-02-26 Steel has over centuries played a crucial role in shaping our material and in particular urban landscapes This book undertakes a cultural and ecological history of the material examining the relationship between steel and design at a micro and macro level in terms of both what it has been used to design and how it has functioned as a world making force The research for the book is informed by diverse sources including industry journals contemporary accounts and technical literature all framed by rich early accounts of iron and steel making from the middle ages to the opening of the industrial age and most notably the crucial works of Vannoccio Biringuccio Georgius Agricola Andrew Ure and Harry Scrivenor In contrast trans cultural accounts of the history of metallurgy from eminent sinologists and cultural historians like Joseph Needham and G E R Lloyd are used Readings on the pre history and history of science as well as histories and philosophies technology from scholars such as Siegfried Giedion Merritt Roe Smith L T C Rolt Robert B Gordon inform the analysis Social and economic history from historians such as Eric Hobsbawm William T Hogan and David Brody are consulted labour process theory is also examined particularly the influential writings of F W Taylor in the late 19th and early 20th centuries and his contemporary critics like David Noble and Harry Braverman Many other disciplines also inform the account histories of urban design and architecture transport and military history environmental history and geography

Steel Fortress Michael Sargent Martin, 2014-02-04 Steel Fortress is a story of survival about a flyboy aboard a B 17 bomber who is catapulted into the extraordinary experience of flying the heavies in the never to be replicated arena of World War II air combat He flies the gauntlet of Germany's defensive network in 1944 battling the demons of war in the European Theater and also in his mind It is a commentary on the totality of the human experience of war from the brutal realities of combat to the internal battle that goes on within each individual survivor On a cold February morning in 1944 Harold leaves his new bride at an Iowa train platform and embarks on a stark and riveting journey where camaraderie is the key to survival and loss is the lesson learned Heroism combined with humanism drives this compelling saga of the human spirit at its most triumphant and most vulnerable Steel Fortress joins ranks with the most poignant of commentaries on war it is a story for the ages and evidence of the universal spirit of man
