

Steins;Gate

The universe has a beginning, but no end. A paradox.
The story has two timelines, one that allows changing the future, another, where it is impossible to do so. In the end, the only way to save the world is to accept the fact that the future is already set. And that is the only way to save the world. The only way to save the world is to accept the fact that the future is already set. And that is the only way to save the world.
