Office of Education, 1952 Bulletin United States. Office of Education, 1952 Current Literature, 1928 Poetry Unbound Mike Chasar, 2020-04-28 It's become commonplace in contemporary culture for critics to proclaim the death of poetry Poetry they say is no longer relevant to the modern world mortally wounded by the emergence of new media technologies In Poetry Unbound Mike Chasar rebuts claims that poetry has become a marginal art form exploring how it has played a vibrant and culturally significant role by adapting to and shaping new media technologies in complex unexpected and powerful ways Beginning with the magic lantern and continuing through the dominance of the internet Chasar follows poetry's travels off the page into new media formats including silent film sound film and television Mass and nonprint media have not stolen poetry's audience he contends but have instead given people even more ways to experience poetry Examining the use of canonical as well as religious and popular verse forms in a variety of genres Chasar also traces how poetry has helped negotiate and legitimize the cultural status of emergent media Ranging from Citizen Kane to Leave It to Beaver to best selling Instapoet Rupi Kaur this book reveals poetry's ability to find new audiences and meanings in media forms with which it has often been thought to be incompatible Illuminating poetry's surprising multimedia history Poetry Unbound offers a new paradigm for understanding poetry's still evolving place in American culture How Children and Teacher Work Together Elsa Schneider, 1952

The New Red Negro James Edward Smethurst, 1999-04-15 The New Red Negro surveys African American poetry from the onset of the Depression to the early days of the Cold War It considers the relationship between the thematic and formal choices of African American poets and organized ideology from the proletarian early 1930s to the neo modernist late 1940s This study examines poetry by writers across the spectrum canonical less well known and virtually unknown The ideology of the Communist Left as particularly expressed through cultural institutions of the literary Left significantly influenced the shape of African American poetry in the 1930s and 40s as well as the content One result of this engagement of African American writers with the organized Left was a pronounced tendency to regard the re created folk or street voice as the authentic voice and subject of African American poetry Furthermore a masculinist rhetoric was crucial to the re creation of this folk voice This unstable yoking of cultural nationalism integrationism and internationalism within a construct of class struggle helped to shape a new relationship of African American poetry to vernacular African American culture This relationship included the representation of African American working class and rural folk life and its cultural products ostensibly from the mass perspective It also included the dissemination of urban forms of African American popular culture often resulting in mixed media high low hybrids
