Stepping Out The Golden Age Of Montreal Night Clubs 1925-1955:

Montreal After Dark Matthieu Caron, 2025-06-13 Sex and jazz liquor and gambling Montreal in the early twentieth century was a city that offered an exceptional nighttime scene in North America By mid century that scene came under scrutiny and Montreal's influential mayor Jean Drapeau would be elected for the first time on a reformist platform that promised to end corruption Over more than three decades Drapeau would endeavour to transform Montreal into a world class global city by regulating its nightlife Montreal After Dark chronicles the spaces where nighttime regulations were enforced and contested City authorities understood the night as enabling disorder and they reorganized policing and crafted bylaws to gain control over it Police and politicians mutually reinforced each other's drive to morally cleanse the urban landscape especially for international events like Expo 67 and the 1976 Olympics But in an era of social unrest Drapeau's administration also found itself responding to the protective services discontent The political culture of the city was quickly transformed following terrifying nights without their services Matthieu Caron shows how in an effort to incorporate the night into the expansionary tendencies of consumer capitalism municipal authorities took sides in a debate over who had the right to public space at night what constituted acceptable behaviour or expression whose sexual activity sustained the social order and whose threatened to destroy it In terms that are strikingly familiar today Montreal After Dark elucidates how the desires of politicians would come to reorganize how consumption and leisure labour and dissent noise sex and art were lived in Montreal after the sun went down

Stepping Out Nancy Marrelli, 2004 The Paris of North America So Montreal was known from the 1920s to the early 1950s a glamorous wide open city with a lively jazz and nightclub scene In this pre television era people of all ages stepped out at night for fun and entertainment They went to clubs to socialize to see their favourite performers to hear the latest music to have dinner or enjoy a fancy cocktail and especially to dance the night away With rare photographs and memorabilia Stepping Out captures the golden age of Montreal nightclubs between 1925 and 1955 Photographs of singers dancers and other entertainers capture the spirit that made Montreal swing after dark Featuring 70 archival images Includes photographs of influential musicians and entertainers such as Oscar Peterson All materials are drawn from the Montreal jazz history collection in the Concordia University Archives Nancy Marrelli is the Director of Archives at Concordia University and is the author of Montreal Photo Album Montr al Un album de photos V hicule

The Black Atlantic Reconsidered Winfried Siemerling, 2015-05-01 Readers are often surprised to learn that black writing in Canada is over two centuries old Ranging from letters editorials sermons and slave narratives to contemporary novels plays poetry and non fiction black Canadian writing represents a rich body of literary and cultural achievement The Black Atlantic Reconsidered is the first comprehensive work to explore black Canadian literature from its beginnings to the present in the broader context of the black Atlantic world Winfried Siemerling traces the evolution of black Canadian witnessing and writing from slave testimony in New France and the 1783 Book of Negroes through the work of contemporary black Canadian writers including George Elliott Clarke Austin Clarke Dionne Brand David Chariandy Wayde Compton Esi Edugyan Marlene NourbeSe Philip and Lawrence Hill Arguing that black writing in Canada is deeply imbricated in a historic transnational network Siemerling explores the powerful presence of black Canadian history slavery and the Underground Railroad and the black diaspora in the work of these authors Individual chapters examine the literature that has emerged from Quebec Nova Scotia the Prairies and British Columbia with attention to writing in both English and French A major survey of black writing and cultural production The Black Atlantic Reconsidered brings into focus important works that shed light not only on Canada's literature and history but on the transatlantic black diaspora and modernity The City Symphony Phenomenon Steven Jacobs, Eva Hielscher, Anthony Kinik, 2018-07-20 The 1920s and 1930s saw the rise of the city symphony an experimental film form that presented the city as protagonist instead of mere decor Combining experimental documentary and narrative practices these films were marked by a high level of abstraction reminiscent of high modernist experiments in painting and photography Moreover interwar city symphonies presented a highly fragmented oftentimes kaleidoscopic sense of modern life and they organized their urban industrial images through rhythmic and associative montage that evoke musical structures In this comprehensive volume contributors consider the full 80 film corpus from Manhatta and Berlin Die Sinfonie der Grosstadt to lesser known cinematic explorations The Routledge Handbook of Black Canadian Literature Andrea A. Davis, Leslie Sanders, 2024-12-09 The Routledge Handbook of Black Canadian Literature offers a comprehensive overview of the growing and increasingly significant field of Black Canadian literary studies Including historical and contemporary analysis this volume is an essential text that maps the field over the almost 200 years of its existence across a range of genres from slave narratives to prose fiction poetry theatre and dub and spoken word It presents Black Canadian literature as encompassing a diverse set of viewpoints approaches and practices touching every aspect of Canadian territory and life and as deeply influencing debates and understandings of Black peoples far beyond its borders This Handbook employs an interdisciplinary framework that incorporates literary historical geographical and cultural analysis This book comprising 32 chapters is organized into five sections that chart the literature's development into a recognizable canon trace Black literary geographies across Canada from east to west delineate the literature's various genres and expressive forms and honor the writers and thinkers who have influenced the growth of the field This volume's range of subject and plurality of perspectives provide an excellent resource for teachers researchers and students from multiple disciplines including Canadian studies and literature Caribbean studies global Black studies hemispheric studies diaspora studies history and cultural studies Critical Collaborations Smaro Kamboureli, Christl Verduyn, 2014-05-28 Critical Collaborations Indigeneity Diaspora and Ecology in Canadian Literary Studies is the third volume of essays produced as part of the TransCanada conferences project The essays gathered in Critical Collaborations constitute a call for collaboration and kinship across disciplinary political institutional and community borders They are tied together through a simultaneous call for resistance to Eurocentrism corporatization rationalism and the fantasy of total systems of knowledge and a call for critical collaborations These collaborations seek to forge connections without perceived identity linking concepts and communities without violating the differences that constitute them seeking epistemic kinships while maintaining a willingness to not know In this way they form a critical conversation between seemingly distinct areas and demonstrate fundamental allegiances between diasporic and indigenous scholarship transnational and local knowledges legal and eco critical methodologies Links are forged between Indigenous knowledge and ecological and social justice creative critical reading and ambidextrous epistemologies unmaking the nation through translocalism and unsettling histories of colonial complicity through a poetics of relation Together these essays reveal how the critical methodologies brought to bear on literary studies can both challenge and exceed disciplinary structures presenting new forms of strategic transdisciplinarity that expand the possibilities of Canadian literary studies while also emphasizing humility complicity and the limits of knowledge

Montreal Dany Fougères, Roderick MacLeod, 2018-04-06 Surrounded by water and located at the heart of a fertile plain the Island of Montreal has been a crossroads for Indigenous peoples European settlers and today's citizens and an inland port city for the movement of people and goods into and out of North America Commemorating the city's 375th anniversary Montreal The History of a North American City is the definitive two volume account of this fascinating metropolis and its storied hinterland This comprehensive collection of essays filled with hundreds of illustrations photographs and maps draws on human geography and environmental history to show that while certain distinctive features remain unchanged Mount Royal the Lachine Rapids of the Saint Lawrence River human intervention and urban evolution mean that over time Montrealers have had drastically different experiences and historical understandings Significant issues such as religion government social conditions the economy labour transportation culture and entertainment and scientific and technological innovation are treated thematically in innovative and diverse chapters to illuminate how people's lives changed along with the transformation of Montreal This history of a city in motion presents an entire picture of the changes that have marked the region as it spread from the old city of Ville Marie into parishes autonomous towns boroughs and suburbs on and off the island The first volume encompasses the city up to 1930 vividly depicting the lives of First Nations prior to the arrival of Europeans colonization by the French and the beginning of British Rule The crucial roles of waterways portaging paths and trails as the primary means of travelling and trade are first examined before delving into the construction of canals railways and the first major roads Nineteenth century industrialization created a period of near total change in Montreal as it became Canada's leading city and witnessed staggering population growth from less than 20 000 people in 1800 to over one million by 1930 The second volume treats the history of Montreal since 1930 the year that the Jacques Cartier Bridge was opened and allowed for the outward expansion of a region which before had been confined to the island From the Great Depression and Montreal's role as a munitions manufacturing centre during the Second World War to major cultural events like Expo 67

the twentieth century saw Montreal grow into one of the continent's largest cities requiring stringent management of infrastructure, public utilities and transportation. This volume also extensively studies the kinds of political debate with which the region and country still grapple regarding language, nationalism, federalism and self-determination.
