Steps Along Hope Street My Life In Cricket The Church And The Inner City:

Steps Along Hope Street David Sheppard, 2002 There is no doubt that among Anglican Bishops David Sheppard's particular blend of interests ensures that his reputation as a leading Bishop will be a lasting one. Many will remember him first and foremost as a former English cricket captain peculiar in his combination of dedicated cleric and outstanding sportsman. Others will recall his ecumenical strengths and his partnership with the Roman Catholic Archbishop Derek Worlock when they were both incumbents in Liverpool. But perhaps his most unique quality which has made him such a strong personality in the Church is his concern for the poor and disadvantaged and his refusal to collude with Westminster politics. David Sheppard has always believed that speaking out for the poor is a central part of his ministry and 20 years on Merseyside only served to reinforce that fundamental commitment.

Public Life and the Place of the Church Michael Brierley, 2017-11-28 The work of Richard Harries Bishop of Oxford from 1987 to 2006 has been highly distinctive for the consistency of its engagement with contemporary society. It represents a model of the Church which is outward looking a Church which is as ready to learn from others as it is to offer its own wisdom and resources. This book reflects on Richard Harries' ministry in the borderlands of society and Church and engages deeply with the nature of modern society and the place of the Church within it. Taking Richard Harries' contributions as their inspiration, key figures each of them major commentators on areas of pressing contemporary concern probe the important questions which people are asking about a range of social issues. Arms and violence, the role of the media in public life, spirituality, multifaith Britain, sex, capitalism, the second chamber and medical ethics are all discussed, building up a serious debate on the kind of society in which we live and making suggestive comments about the part which the Church might play. A Companion to Public Theology, 2017-01-23 Winner of the 2017 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Award. Public theology has emerged in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries as theologians have increasingly entered the public square to engage complex issues. This Companion to Public Theology brings a much needed resource to this relatively new field. The essays contained here bring a robust and relevant faith perspective to a wide range of issues as well as foundational biblical and theological perspectives which equip theologians to enter into public dialogue. Public theology has never been more needed in public discourse, whether local or global. In conversation across disciplines, its contribution to the construction of just policies is apparent in this volume as scholars examine the areas of political, social and economic spheres as well as issues of ethics and civil societies and draw on contexts from six continents. Contributors are: Chris Baker, Andrew Bradstock, Luke Bretherton, Lisa Sowle Cahill, Letitia M. Campbell, Cludio Carvalhaes, Katie Day, Frits de Lange, Jolyon Mitchell, Elaine Graham, Paul Hanson, Nico Koopman, Sebastian Kim, Esther McIntosh, Clive Pearson, Scott Paeth, Larry L. Rasmussen.

Towards a Theology of Church Growth David Goodhew, 2016-03-03 Concern about church growth and decline is widespread and contentious yet theological reflection on church growth is scarce Reflecting on the Bible dogmatic theology and church history this book situates the numerical growth of the church within wider Christian theology Leading international scholars including Alister McGrath Benedicta Ward and C Kavin Rowe contribute a spectrum of voices from evangelical charismatic liberal and anglo catholic perspectives All contributors unite around the importance of seeking church growth provided this is situated within a nuanced theological framework This book offers a critique of decline theology which has been influential amongst theologians and churches and which assumes church growth is impossible and or unnecessary The contributors provide rich resources from scripture doctrine and tradition to underpin action to promote church growth and to stimulate further theological reflection on the subject The Archbishop of Canterbury provides the Foreword

God and Mrs Thatcher

Eliza Filby, 2015-02-24 A woman demonised by the left and sanctified by the right there has always been a religious undercurrent to discussions of Margaret Thatcher. However while her Methodist roots are well known the impact of her faith on her politics is often overlooked. In an attempt to source the origins of Margaret Thatcher's conviction politics Eliza Filby explores how Thatcher's worldview was shaped and guided by the lessons of piety, thrift and the Protestant work ethic learnt in Finkin Street Methodist Church, Grantham, from her lay preacher father. In doing so she tells the story of how a Prime Minister steeped in the Nonconformist teachings of her childhood entered Downing Street determined to reinvigorate the nation with these religious values. Filby concludes that this was ultimately a failed crusade. In the end Thatcher created a country that was not more Christian but more secular and not more devout but entirely consumed by a new religion: capitalism. In upholding the sanctity of the individual Thatcherism inadvertently signalled the death of Christian Britain. Drawing on previously unpublished archives, interviews and memoirs, Filby examines how the rise of Thatcher was echoed by the rebirth of the Christian right in Britain, both of which were forcefully opposed by the Church of England. Wide ranging and exhaustively researched, God and Mrs Thatcher offers a truly original perspective on the source and substance of Margaret Thatcher's political values and the role that religion played in the politics of this tumultuous decade. The

Desecularisation of the City David Goodhew, Anthony-Paul Cooper, 2018-09-21 Major cities have long been seen as centres of secularisation. However the number of congregations in London grew by 50% between 1979 and the present. London's churches have been characterised more by growth than by decline in the decades since 1980. The Desecularisation of the City provides the first academic survey of churches in London over recent decades, linking them to similar developments in other major cities across the West. Produced by a large team of scholars from a range of disciplines, this volume offers a striking and original portrait of congregational life in London since 1980. Seventeen chapters explore the diverse localities, ethnicities and denominations that make up the church in contemporary London. The vitality of London's churches in the last four decades shows that secularisation is far from inevitable in the cities of the future. This study necessitates a significant reassessment of the dominant academic portrayal of Christianity in Britain and the West, which has mostly depicted cities as secular spaces within a secularising culture. It will be of great interest to scholars working across a wide range of disciplines including history, sociology, religious studies and theology. Bishops, Wives and Children Douglas J. Davies, Mathew Guest, 2016-04-15 Christianity as a cultural force, whether rising or falling, has seldom been analysed through the actual processes by which tradition is transmitted, modified, embraced or rejected. This book achieves that end through a study of bishops of the Church of England, their wives and their children, to show how values fostered in the vicarage and palace shape family, work and civic life in a supposedly secular age. Davies and Guest integrate for the first time sociological concepts of spiritual capital with anthropological ideas of gift theory and, alongside theological themes, use these to illuminate how the religious professional functions in mediating tradition and fostering change. Motifs of distant prelates, managerially minded fathers in God and rebellious clergy children are reconsidered in a critical light as new empirical evidence offers unique insights into how the clergy family functions as an axis of social power in an age incredulous to ecclesiastical hierarchy Bishops Wives and Children marks an important advance in the analysis of the spirituality of Catholic Evangelical and Liberal leaders and their social significance within a distinctive Christian tradition and all it represents in wider British society

British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa Matthew P. Llewellyn, Toby C. Rider, 2024-11-25 The transnational anti apartheid sport boycott of South Africa represented the most prominent extended and controversial anti racism campaign in the history of sport Spearheaded by prominent British religious and anti colonial figures and exiled South Africans emboldened by communist and Global South support and legitimised by supranational political bodies such as the United Nations the Organisation of African Unity and the Commonwealth the sport boycott helped propel anti apartheid out of relative obscurity and struck at the very heart of a cultural practice that served an explicitly ideological function in Afrikaner society Britain held a dichotomous even paradoxical role as both prosecutor and defender of white South Africa This book utilises sport as a critical lens for understanding the dynamics and dichotomies of British attitudes towards the apartheid regime Debates over whether to continue or to cut sporting links with apartheid South Africa proved bitterly divisive The considerable weight the subject carried and the degree to which it saturated British political and social discourse for four decades speaks to its impact and importance British Sporting Relations with Apartheid South Africa represents the first archival based historical examination of Britain's sporting relations with South Africa throughout the apartheid era 1948-1994 Situating the analysis within the shifting multiracial and multicultural landscapes of postcolonial Britain and within global political cultural sporting and ideological debates the authors trace the origins and evolution of the transnational sport boycott and examine what inspired Britons to energise anti apartheid sport campaigns and in contrast what drove many others to vehemently oppose them at every turn

The Hurricane Port Andrew Lees, 2011-09-01 Scousers believe they live in a special place one that has more in common with Salvador da Bahia New Orleans or Gdansk than anywhere in England and the city has always punched above its weight In less than a hundred years however Liverpool's image has declined from a major mercantile player known as the Second City of the Empire to what some social commentators have described as a cultural backwater remembered largely as the place where the Beatles were born In The Hurricane Port Andrew Lees reveals how Liverpool's pre eminence in the slave trade left an indelible scar on the psychogeography of the city He also explores the roots of Liverpool's contrary nature its rebelliousness and its hedonism as well as some of the recent hurricanes that have battered the city including the anger of Toxteth Militant's stand against Margaret Thatcher and the murder of James Bulger In this distinctly personal account Lees defines the characteristics of this Celtic enclave with her loudmouthed big hearted people who have created a city quite different from anywhere else in the world

Repackaging Christianity Andrew

Atherstone,2022-07-21 The story of Alpha is of major significance for understanding the place of religious faith in the modern world but that story has never been told until now Since its launch in 1993 the Alpha movement has evolved from supper party evangelism in the Kensington suburbs into a global brand of Christian outreach Today over a million people attend Alpha every year but the history of its rise to popularity has never been documented What caused such spiritual renewal in an age of scepticism And what propelled Alpha into a phenomenon that is recognised across the globe Alpha is far more than an introductory course to Christianity At the core of its brand identity is a repackaging of the Christian message for contemporary audiences Innovation and cultural adaptability are built into Alpha s DNA one of the chief reasons for its longevity and influence Nimble utilising the multimedia and digital revolutions it has contextualised into cultures and languages across the planet And led by charismatic savvy individuals it has attracted people from across the social spectrum making waves in national media Andrew Atherstone leaves no stone unturned as he presents this fascinating history With exclusive access to original archives Atherstone recounts the miraculous stories of HTB s early years the first full account of Nicky Gumbel s conversion and the strategic decisions that launched Alpha onto the global stage of Christian influence With sharp historical analysis Andrew Atherstone uncovers the story of Christian resurgence in our contemporary age Church and State Andrew Partington,2006-08-01 In Church and State Andrew Partington argues that the contribution of the Church of England bishops to the House of Lords during the Thatcher years was overwhelmingly critical of the government failed to have a significant influence in the public realm was inefficient being undertaken by a minority of those eligible to sit on the Bench of Bishops and was insufficiently moral and spiritual in its content to be distinctive On the basis of this and the likely reduction of the number of places available for Church of England bishops in a fully reformed Second Chamber the author argues for an evolution in the Church of England s approach to the service of its bishops in the House of Lords He proposes the Church of England work to overcome the genuine obstacles that hinder busy diocesan bishops from contributing to the debates of the House of Lords and to its life more informally The Reinvention of Britain 1960-2016 Scott

Newton,2017-08-25 The Reinvention of Britain 1960 2016 explores the transformation of contemporary Britain tracing its evolution from the welfare state of the post 1945 era to social democracy in the 1960s and 1970s and the liberal market society of 1979 onwards Focusing primarily on political and economic change it aims to identify which elements of State policy led to the crucial strategy changes that shaped British history over the past six decades This book argues that since 1960 there have been two reinventions of the political economy of the United Kingdom a social democratic shift initiated by the Conservative government of Harold Macmillan and developed by Labour under Harold Wilson and a subsequent change of direction towards a free market model attempted by the Conservatives under Margaret Thatcher Structured around these two key policy reinventions of the late twentieth century chapters are organized chronologically from the development of social democracy in the early 1960s to the coalition government of the early 2010s the Conservative election win that followed and the Brexit referendum of 2016 Providing a comprehensive yet accessible introduction to the political and economic history of this period The Reinvention of Britain 1960 2016 is essential reading for all students of contemporary British history Cricketing Caesar Mark Peel,2020-05-11 Mike Brearley was one of England s greatest captains thrice winning the Ashes including the memorable series of 1981 He also led Middlesex to four county championships and two Gillette Cup wins In this first ever biography of Brearley Mark Peel assesses the many facets of his complex personality to explain his phenomenal success as a leader
