Toledano,2003-02-13 Previous studies of nineteenth century Egypt have often been premature in identifying the existence of an independent nation state In a way which will permanently affect our view of Egyptian history this book argues that in the mid nineteenth century period Egypt was still an Ottoman province with a provincial Ottoman elite which was only gradually becoming Egyptian Part one discusses the creation of a dynastic order in Egypt especially under Abbas Pasa 1848 1854 and the formation of an Ottoman Egyptian ruling class Part two deals with the non elite groups the vast majority of Egypt's population A final chapter offers a convincing picture of the social and cultural life of the period in a way which has never before been attempted in a Middle East context The author's valuable knowledge of Ottoman and Arabic as well as European documents and his use of a wide variety of sources including police and court records chronicles and travel literature have enabled him to make an important contribution to a neglected period of Egyptian history and indeed to our understanding of other provinces and dependencies in the region

The Gates of Morning and two more stories H. De Vere Stacpoole, 2022-04-06 Excerpt from Gates of the Morning Dick standing on a ledge of coral cast his eyes to the South Behind him the breakers of the outer sea thundered and the spindrift scattered on the wind before him stretched an ocean calm as a lake infinite blue and flown about by the fishing gulls the lagoon of Karolin Clipped by its forty mile ring of coral this great pond was a sea in itself a sea of storm in heavy winds a lake of azure in light airs and it was his he who had landed here only yesterday Women children youths all the tribe to be seen busy along the beach in the blazing sun fishing with nets playing their games or working on the paraka patches all were his people His were the canoes drawn up on the sand and his the empty houses where the war canoes had once rested on their rollers Then as he cast his eyes from the lagoon to the canoe houses his brow contracted and turning his back to the lagoon he stood facing the breakers on the outer beach and the northern sea Away there beyond the sea line invisible lay Palm Tree an island beautiful as a dream yet swarming with devils Little Tari the son of Le Taioi the net maker sitting on the coral close by looked up at him Tari knew little of life but he knew that all the men of Karolin swept away by war had left the women and the boys and the children like himself defenceless and without a man or leader Then yesterday from the northern sea in a strange boat and with Katafa the girl who had been blown to sea years ago when out fishing this strange new figure had come sent by the gods so the women said to be their chief and ruler The child knew nothing of whom the gods might be nor did he care alone now with this wonderful new person and out of earshot of his mother he put the question direct with all the simplicity of childhood
