Tempest Sunshine The Lamplighter:

Tempest and sunshine Mary J. Holmes, Donald A. Koch, 1968 The Bookman, 1913 A Mirror for History Marc Egnal, 2024-04-19 In A Mirror for History author Marc Egnal uses novels and art to provide a new understanding of American society. The book argues that the arc of middle class culture reflects the evolution of the American economy from the near subsistence agriculture of the 1750s to the extraordinarily unequal society of the twenty first century. Fiction offers a rich source for this analysis. By delving deep into the souls of characters and their complex worlds, novels shed light on the dreams, hopes, and goals of individuals and reveal the structures that shape character's lives. Additionally, paintings of the time periods expand upon these insights drawn from literature. Egnal's lively exploration of the changing economy, fiction, art, and American values is organized into four expansive periods: the Sentimental Era, Genteel America, Modern Society, and Post Modern America. Within that framework, A Mirror for History looks at topics such as masculinity, childhood, the status of women, the outlook of African Americans, the role of religion, and varying views of capitalism. Readers will be enthralled to find discussions of overlooked novels and paintings as well as discover new approaches to familiar pieces. A Mirror for History examines over one hundred authors and dozens of artists, and their works presented here in full color.

Womanhood in Anglophone Literary Culture Robin Hammerman, 2009-03-26 Taken together, the fourteen essays in this collection contribute to the discourse of social conditions for literary women. The essays examine relevant social, intellectual, and professional questions about the ways in which women writers contributed to conceptions of womanhood in nineteenth and twentieth century Anglophone literary culture. Contributors to this collection describe and examine several nineteenth and twentieth century women writers' responses to patriarchal assumptions about literary merit in genres including poetry and fiction. Womanhood in Anglophone Literary Culture: Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Perspectives will be of special interest to students and faculty of women's studies and literature written in the English language.

To Kiss the Chastening Rod Geoffrey M. Goshgarian, 2019-04-15 Examining ideas about masturbation, female sexuality, the family, and post-Calvinist religion that shaped the readership of popular women's fiction, To Kiss the Chastening Rod shows that passionlessness was the privileged theme of a pervasive discourse which sought to exert social control through the rigorous repression, minute supervision, and covert cultivation of sexuality.

Henry James and the 'Woman Business' Alfred Habegger, 2004-08-26 This is a historical critique of Henry James in relation to nineteenth century feminism and women's fiction. Habegger has brought to light extensive new documentation on James's tangled connections with what was thought and written about women in his time. The emphasis is equally on his life and on his fictions. This is the first book to investigate his father's bizarre lifelong struggle with free love and feminism, a struggle that played a major role in shaping James. The book also shows how seriously he distorted the truth about the cousin Minnie Temple, whose self-assertive image inspired him, and how indebted he was to certain American women writers whom he attacked in reviews but whose plots and heroines he appropriated in his own fiction The Portrayal of Woman's Sentimental Power in American Domestic Fiction Earl Frank Yarrington, 2007 This book explores the rediscovery of the fiction written by Mary Jane Holmes 1825-1907 and examines the contrasting factors that made her work popular in the nineteenth century but virtually unknown during the twentieth century Cultural poetics and feminism which established a critique on how late nineteenth and twentieth century critics decontextualized Holmes work is the critical emphasis of this study The theory of this study examines aspects of relational capacity that popular women writers present and that which their works are based on and which enables them to relate to their culture and readers American Women's Fiction, 1790-1870 Barbara A. White, 2013-05-07 An annotated bibliography on women who wrote fiction in the US during the period 1790-1870 The first part is an annotated list of sources that discuss women's fiction in the period and women authors born before 1840 who published before 1870 The second part is an alphabetical list of the approximately 325 19th century writers who meet those criteria There are indexes by pseudonym, editor, and subject The sources provide information not only about the individual authors but also about the history of criticism and literary politics especially women's place in the American literary canon Gender, Fantasy, and Realism in American Literature Alfred Habegger, 1982 In this study of the 19th century American novel the author demonstrates the imaginative continuity between sentimental and realistic fiction and sets out to establish that realism is the central and preeminent literary type in America a mode grounded in the tradition of women's popular fiction which shaped the nation's reading habits in the mid 19th century He examines this feminine literature with its common technique of symbolizing deeper social conflicts through patterns of courtship, marriage, and gender roles Contends that Howells and James owe much of their fictional domain to the often disparaged household dramas of these female precursors The Publishers Weekly, 1894 Perseverance Janice Larsen, 2008-08-05 Most people know the story of Helen Keller who at the age of nineteen months had an illness that left her blind and deaf A teacher was hired for Helen when she was six years old by the name of Anne Sullivan Anne Sullivan Macy taught Helen how to communicate and acted as Helen's eyes and ears for fifty years She guided Helen through several schools and ultimately Helen graduated from Radcliffe College with honors Helen Keller with Anne by her side achieved worldwide fame for her work on behalf of the blind The story of Anne Sullivan Macy is not well known As a child she herself was blind as well as poor, abused by her father, and lived for five years in an almshouse, poorhouse This biography of Anne Sullivan Macy tells her story as she may have told it The Vineyard of Liberty, 1787-1863 James MacGregor Burns, 2012-04-10 A Pulitzer Prize winner looks at the course of American history from the birth of the Constitution to the dawn of the Civil War The years between 1787 and 1863 witnessed the development of the American Nation its society, politics, customs, culture, and most important the development of liberty Burns explores the key events in the republic's early decades as well as the roles of heroes from Washington to Lincoln and of lesser known figures Captivating and insightful Burns's history combines the color and texture of early American life with meticulous scholarship

Focusing on the tensions leading up to the Civil War Burns brilliantly shows how Americans became divided over the meaning of Liberty Vineyard of Liberty is a sweeping and engrossing narrative of America's formative years The Commodity Culture of Victorian England Thomas Richards, 1990 This provocative and theoretically sophisticated book reveals how capitalism produced and sustained a culture of its own in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Richards provides a valuable account of the interaction between cultural and business development in Victorian England by focusing on the evolution of advertising Through an examination of five case studies ranging from how advertisers employed images of the Crystal Palace Exhibition of 1851 to their use of images of women just before WWI he argues that the British developed a new type of culture in the mid and late 19th century a new way of thinking and living increasingly based upon the possession of material goods commodities Revising the findings of some earlier scholars Richards shows that cultural forms of consumerism came into being well before the consumer economy did The 50 well reproduced advertising images greatly enhance the value of this study M Blackford Choice Southern Women Novelists and the Civil War Sharon Talley, 2014-04-09 During and after the Civil War southern women played a critical role in shaping the South's evolving collective memory by penning journals and diaries historical accounts memoirs and literary interpretations of the war While a few of these writings most notably Mary Chesnut's diaries and Margaret Mitchell's novel Gone with the Wind have been studied in depth by numerous scholars until now there has been no comprehensive examination of Civil War novels by southern women In this welcome study Sharon Talley explores works by fifteen such writers illuminating the role that southern women played in fashioning cultural identity in the region Beginning with Augusta Jane Evans's Macaria and Sallie Rochester Ford's Raids and Romance of Morgan and His Men which were published as the war still raged Talley offers a chronological consideration of the novels with informative introductions for each time period She examines Reconstruction works by Marion Harland Mary Ann Cruse and Rebecca Harding Davis novels of the Redeemed South and the turn of the century by Mary Noailles Murfree Ellen Glasgow and Mary Johnston and narratives by Evelyn Scott Margaret Mitchell and Caroline Gordon from the Modern period that spanned the two World Wars Analysis of Margaret Walker's Jubilee 1966 the first critically acclaimed Civil War novel by an African American woman of the South as well as other post World War II works by Kaye Gibbons Josephine Humphreys and Alice Randall offers a fitting conclusion to Talley's study by addressing the inaccuracies in the romantic myth of the Old South that Gone with the Wind most famously engraved on the nation's consciousness Informed by feminist poststructural and cultural studies theory Talley's close readings of these various novels ultimately refute the notion of a monolithic interpretation of the Civil War presenting instead unique and diverse approaches to balancing fact and fiction in the long period of artistic production concerning this singular traumatic event in American history Sharon Talley professor of English at Texas A M University Corpus Christi is the author of Ambrose Bierce and the Dance of Death and Student Companion to Herman Melville Her articles have appeared in American Imago Journal of Men's
