The Mansion of Happiness Jill Lepore, 2013-03-26 Renowned Harvard scholar and New Yorker staff writer Jill Lepore has written a strikingly original ingeniously conceived and beautifully crafted history of American ideas about life and death from before the cradle to beyond the grave How does life begin What does it mean What happens when we die All anyone can do is ask Lepore writes That s why any history of ideas about life and death has to be like this book a history of curiosity Lepore starts that history with the story of a seventeenth century Englishman who had the idea that all life begins with an egg and ends it with an American who in the 1970s began freezing the dead In between life got longer the stages of life multiplied and matters of life and death moved from the library to the laboratory from the humanities to the sciences Lately debates about life and death have determined the course of American politics Each of these debates has a history

Investigating the surprising origins of the stuff of everyday life from board games to breast pumps Lepore argues that the age of discovery Darwin and the Space Age turned ideas about life on earth topsy turvy New worlds were found she writes and old paradises were lost As much a meditation on the present as an excavation of the past The Mansion of Happiness is delightful learned and altogether beguiling
