American Democracy Sanford Schram, 2017-10-02 This collection brings together essays to address the crisis of Higher Education today focusing on its neoliberalization Higher Education has been under assault for several decades as neoliberalism's preference for market based reforms sweeps across the US political economy The recent push for neoliberalizing the academy comes at a time when it is ripe for change especially as it continues to confront growing financial pressure particularly in the public sector The resulting cutbacks in public funding especially to state universities led to a variety of debilitating changes increases in tuition growing student debt more students combining working and schooling declining graduation rates for minorities and low income students increased reliance on adjuncts and temporary faculty and most recently growing interest in mass processing of students via online instruction While many serious questions arise once we begin to examine what is happening in higher education today one particularly critical question concerns the implications of these changes on the relationship of education to as yet still unrealized democratic ideals The 12 essays collected in this volume create important resources for students faculty citizens and policymakers who want to find ways to address contemporary threats to the higher education democracy connection This book was originally published as a special issue of New Political Science Higher Education: Handbook of Theory and Research J.C. Abel, 1984 College For Sale Wesley Shumar, 2013-10-23 This text provides a framework for understanding higher education in the US and other western countries since the 1970s whereby the logic of the market place has increasingly come to dominate all arenas and in context the education system The author calls this process commodification and he describes the transformation of universities in the US and elsewhere as they attempt to accommodate the enforced changes on their academic lives and those of their students The book chronicles changes with the increasing focus on career and the movement towards the instrumental functions of education the financial crisis and the development of a more corporate approach to education of consumption that produce universities heavy with expensive well equipped and powerful administrations and decreasing numbers of ever more disenfranchised faculty

Composition in the Age of Austerity Nancy Welch, Tony Scott, 2016-04-01 In the face of the gradual saturation of US public education by the logics of neoliberalism educators often find themselves at a loss to respond let alone resist Through state defunding and many other reforms fueled by austerity politics a majority of educators are becoming casual labor in US universities while those who hang onto secure employment are pressed to act as self supporting entrepreneurs or do more with less Focusing on the discipline of writing studies this collection addresses the sense of crisis that many educators experience in this age of austerity The chapters in this book chronicle how neoliberal political economy shapes writing assessments curricula teacher agency program administration and funding distribution Contributors also focus on how neoliberal political economy dictates the direction of scholarship because the economic and political agenda shaping the terms of work the methods of delivery and the ways of valuing and assessing writing also shape the primary concerns and directions of scholarship Composition in the Age of Austerity offers critical accounts of how the restructuring of higher education is shaping the daily realities of composition programs The book documents the effects and implications of the current restructuring examines how cherished rhetorical ideals actually leave the field unprepared to respond effectively to defunding and corporatizing trends and establishes points of departure for collective response

Shaw, 2008-03-01 This volume connects career making to the general social context in which it takes place career making individuals to the large institutional establishment in which they operate and specifically career academicians to the overall knowledge enterprise from which they draw their intellectual inspiration on which they build their career achievements and to which they contribute their personal talents The main purpose is to explore what academic institutions the knowledge enterprise and the society as a whole can and ought to do to enhance productivity facilitate performance and improve experience of individual academicians in their career making endeavor Although various innovative ideas are presented to improve normal procedures or standard processes throughout academia answers to this focal question often lie in different levels of organizational units involved in academic operation That is what should a department do for its faculty a college for its departments a university for its colleges an association for its member organizations or a government for its academic institutions in the best interest of the latter Similarly although reformative measures are proposed to the attention of established entities or institutionalized systems change within the existing situation or practice to a large degree depends upon how people in various social roles relate to each other in attitude as well as in behavior when they perform their specific job In other words what should a professor do for graduate students a senior scholar for junior colleagues a chair for faculty members a dean for chairs a university chancellor for deans an editor for authors or an association president for the general membership from the due perspective of the latter The logic or legitimacy of examining this focal question and its organizational unit and social role is clear a shining academician owes much to the support of his or her assistants students and followers a rising university builds on the productivity of its individual divisions and a thriving knowledge enterprise depends upon the success of individual career making scholars Beyond its own functionality and success by division of labor the higher level or the larger system has an inescapable responsibility to ensure that individual players or components therein grow develop and perform to the best of their potential In content this volume consists of sixteen chapters Chapter 1 identifies main pathways and stages in academic careers Chapters 2 5 focuses on the career process exploring major
