

Stefan's Success Story...

You completed your plumbing apprenticeship with the Cyfle scheme and ateb. How did ateb support you during your apprenticeship?

Cyfle could only take me so far whereas ateb took me on for the remainder of my apprenticeship. I did all my work experience with ateb so when my fixed term contract came to an end, ateb carried on my apprenticeship so that I could finish it. I was lucky to secure permanent employment with ateb as a developing Heating & Plumbing Engineer after my apprenticeship; all my skills and experience that I gained during my apprenticeship no doubt helped me get that job!

It was great news to have you back after your apprenticeship, as one of our Heating & Plumbing Engineers. How did ateb support your continuous learning and development?

ateb supported me to complete further training to support me in my new role; I completed my OFTEC (Oil) qualifications and also training in Fire Sprinkler maintenance, Fire Awareness, First Aid and Asbestos. I think it's great that we have the opportunity to have regular training to keep our knowledge, skills and awareness of important topics up to date, such as mental health awareness training.

What advice would you give to others applying for an apprenticeship?

There are so many opportunities to learn whilst on the job during your apprenticeship at ateb, so stay motivated, committed and be prepared to learn!

How do you feel you create better living solutions and why?

I create better living solutions by improving our customer homes with better equipment to keep them safe and warm. It feels great when I've done a great job and the customer is happy.

The Gendered Score: Music in 1940s Melodrama and the Woman's Film Heather Laing, 2017-07-05 Heather Laing examines for the first time the issues of gender and emotion that underpin the classical style of film scoring but that have until now remained unquestioned and untheorized thus providing a benchmark for thinking on more recent and alternative styles of scoring Many theorists have discussed this type of music in film as a signifier of emotion and the feminine a capacity in which it is frequently associated with female characters The full effect of such an association on either female or male characterization however has not been examined This book considers the effects of this association by progress through three stages cultural historical precedents the generic parameters of melodrama and the woman's film and the narrativization of music in film through diegetic performance and the presence of musicians as characters Case studies of specific films provide textual and musical analyses and the genres of melodrama and the woman's film have been chosen as representative not only of the epitome of the Hollywood scoring style but also of the narrative association of women emotion and music Laing leads to the conclusion that music functions as more than merely a signifier of emotion Rather it takes a crucial role in both indicating and determining how emotion is actually understood as part of the construction of gender and its representation in film
