

STEICHEN
THE MASTER PRINTS 1895-1914
The Symbolist Period

Dennis Longwell

THE SURVIVING PHOTOGRAPHS printed by Edward Steichen during the turn-of-the-century years are works of unparalleled richness in the history of the medium. These transcendent compositions on paper present sumptuous surfaces and subtle colour tones and shadings that confound the usual preconceptions of what a photograph looks like. Steichen produced these masterworks through a variety of enormously time-consuming printing techniques, some of them now

Colonialist Photography Eleanor M. Hight,Gary D. Sampson,2013-06-17 Colonialist Photography is an absorbing collection of essays and photographs exploring the relationship between photography and European and American colonialism The book is packed with well over a hundred captivating images ranging from the first experiments with photography as a documentary medium up to the decolonization of many regions after World War II Reinforcing a broad range of Western assumptions and prejudices Eleanor M Hight and Gary D Sampson argue that such images often assisted in the construction of a colonial culture     The Family of Man Revisited Gerd Hurm, Anke Reitz, Shamoan Zamir, 2020-08-09 The Family of Man is the most widely seen exhibition in the history of photography The book of the exhibition still in print is also the most commercially successful photobook ever published First shown at the Museum of Modern Art in New York in 1955 the exhibition travelled throughout the United States and to forty six countries and was seen by over nine million people Edward Steichen conceived curated and designed the exhibition He explained its subject as the everydayness of life and the essential oneness of mankind throughout the world The exhibition was a statement against war and the conflicts and divisions that threatened a common future for humanity after 1945 The popular international response was overwhelmingly enthusiastic Many critics however have dismissed the exhibition as a form of sentimental humanism unable to address the challenges of history politics and cultural difference This book revises the critical debate about The Family of Man challenging in particular the legacy of Roland Barthes s influential account of the exhibition The expert contributors explore new contexts for understanding Steichen s work and they undertake radically new analyses of the formal dynamics of the exhibition Also presented are documents about the exhibition never before available in English Commentaries by critical theorist Max Horkheimer and novelist Wolfgang Koeppen letters from photographer August Sander and a poetic sequence on the images by Polish poet Witold Wirpsza enable and encourage new critical reflections A detailed survey of audience responses in Munich from 1955 allows a rare glimpse of what visitors thought about the exhibition Today when armed conflict environmental catastrophe and economic inequality continue to threaten our future it seems timely to revisit The Family of Man     Art Books Wolfgang M. Freitag, 2013-10-28 First published in 1997 For this second edition of Art Books A Basic Bibliography of Monographs on Artists the vast number of new books published since 1985 was surveyed and evaluated This has resulted in the selection of 3 395 additional titles These selections reflective of the increase in the monographic literature on artists during the last ten years are evidence of the activities of a larger number of art historians in more countries worldwide of the increasingly diverse and ambitious exhibition programs of museums whose number has also increased dramatically and also of a lively international art market and the attendant gallery activities The selections of the first edition have been reviewed errors have been corrected and important new editions and reprints have been noted The second edition contains 278 names of artists not represented in the first edition     The master prints 1895-1914 Eduard J. Steichen, 1978     Cultural Cohesion: The Essential Essays Clive James, 2013-04 Clive James presents the prequel to his celebrated Cultural Amnesia forty nine essays that form a cultural education in one brilliant volume Following his much heralded publication of Cultural Amnesia Clive James presents here his prequel forty nine essays which he has selected as representing the best of his half century career Cultural Cohesion examines the twisted cultural terrain of the twentieth century in a volume that is not only erudite but also endlessly entertaining Dividing his book into four sections Poetry Fiction and Literature Culture and Criticism and Visual Images James comments on poets like W H Auden and Philip Larkin novelists like D H Lawrence and Raymond Chandler and filmmakers like Fellini and Bogdanovich Book jacket

Cultures of Commerce E. Brown, C. Gudis, M.

Moskowitz, 2016-10-19 While historians have explored the impact on workers of changes in American business the broader impact on other cultural forms and vice versa has not been widely studied This anthology contributes to the debate at the intersection of business history and the study of cultural forms ranging from material to visual culture to literature Mark Kimber Jim Moss, 2013-03 This book encapsulates the photographic career to date of Mark Kimber whose track record as an artist has its origins in the early 1980s when only one year after graduating from art school six of his prints were collected by the Art Gallery of South Australia Since that time his photographs have been collected nationally and internationally and his curriculum vitae is evidence of a rich photographic legacy spanning a fascinating time in the history of the medium The essay by Jim Moss that accompanies Mark Kimber's photographs relates episodes from Mark's youth and early adulthood drawing an animated profile of a complex and motivated individual As a photographic artist Kimber is able to reap the fields of his imagination that were sown in the western suburbs of Adelaide demographic aspects of which he has recreated with an uncanny crepuscular precision Other territories and citizens come under Mark's gaze and in more recent work he displays a proclivity for the creation of fictive worlds Jim Moss's essay also sketches in a sense of the critical and technological evolution that has permeated photographic discourse and practice in the years since Mark Kimber first peered through a viewfinder Throughout this period of change a sensibility that has remained constant at the heart of Mark's repertoire is his battle of wits with what has been described as the uncontrollable intrusion of reality that is intrinsic to the photograph The age of the photograph as a discreet object unto itself has passed but in the world of art the photographic image persists as an intriguing and often complex document This book bears witness to an ongoing fascination with photography as a medium of creative expression while simultaneously it celebrates the contribution of Mark Kimber to photographic art Potential

Images Dario Gamboni, 2002 In Potential Images Dario Gamboni explores ambiguity in modern art considering images that rely to a great degree on a projected or imaginative response from viewers to achieve their effect Ambiguity became increasingly important in late 19th and early 20th century aesthetics as is evidenced in works by such artists as Redon Cezanne Gauguin Ensor and the Nabis Similarly the Cubists subverted traditional representational conventions requiring their viewers to decipher images to extract their full meanings The same device was taken up in the various experiments leading to abstraction For example it was Kandinsky's intention that his work could be interpreted in both figurative and non figurative ways and Duchamp's Readymades suggested the radical conclusion that it is the beholder who makes the picture These invitations to viewers to participate in the process of artistic communication had social and political implications as they accorded artist and beholder symmetrical almost interchangeable roles Wood Hicks and Bark Peelers Ronald E. Ostman, Harry Littell, 2016-09-07 In Wood Hicks and Bark Peelers Ronald E Ostman and Harry Littell draw on the stunning documentary photography of William T Clarke to tell the story of Pennsylvania's lumber heyday a time when loggers serving the needs of a rapidly growing and globalizing country forever altered the dense forests of the state's northern tier. Discovered in a shed in upstate New York and a barn in Pennsylvania after decades of obscurity, Clarke's photographs offer an unprecedented view of the logging, lumbering, and wood industries during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. They show the great forests in the process of coming down and the trains that hauled away the felled trees and trimmed logs. And they show the workers: cruisers, jobbers, skidders, teamsters, carpenters, swamper, wood hicks, and bark peelers; their camps and workplaces; their families; their communities. The work was demanding and dangerous; the work sites and housing were unsanitary and unsavory. The changes the newly industrialized logging business wrought were immensely important to the nation's growth at the same time that they were fantastically and tragically transformative of the landscape. An extraordinary look at a little-known photographer's work and the people and industry he documented, this book reveals in sharp detail the history of the third phase of lumber in America.

The Modern West Emily Ballew Neff, Barry Holstun Lopez, 2006-01-01

A fascinating and novel exploration of the transformative role played by the American West in the development of modernism in the United States. Drawing extensively from various disciplines including ethnology, geography, geology, and environmental studies, this groundbreaking book addresses shifting concepts of time, history, and landscape in relation to the work of pioneering American artists during the first half of the 20th century. Paintings, watercolors, and photographs by renowned artists such as Frederic Remington, Georgia O'Keeffe, Ansel Adams, Thomas Hart Benton, Dorothea Lange, and Jackson Pollock are considered alongside American Indian ledger drawings, tempuras, and Dineh sandpaintings. Taken together, these works document the quest to create a specifically American art in the decades prior to World War II. The Modern West begins with a captivating meditation on the relationship between human culture and the physical landscape by Barry Lopez, who traveled the West in the artists' footsteps. Emily Ballew Neff then describes the evolving importance of the West for American artists working out a radically new aesthetic response to space and place from artist-explorers on the turn-of-the-century frontier to visionaries of a Californian arcadia to desert luminaries who found in its stark topography a natural equivalent to abstraction. Beautifully illustrated and handsomely designed, this book is essential to anyone interested in the West and the history of modernism in American art.
