Stella Dallas Jane Wagner, Olive Higgins Prouty, 1990-01-01 Stella Dallas Olive Higgins Prouty, 1937 Stella Dallas Olive Higgins Prouty, 1903 The 'I' of the Camera William Rothman, 2004 Originally published in 1988 The I of the Camera has become a classic in the literature of film Offering alternatives to the viewing and criticism of film William Rothman challenges readers to think about film in adventurous ways that are more open to movies and our experience of them In a series of eloquent essays examining particular films filmmakers genres and movements and the Americanness of American film Rothman argues compellingly that movies have inherited the philosophical perspective of American transcendentalism This second edition contains all of the essays that made the book a benchmark of film criticism It also includes fourteen essays written subsequent to the book s original publication as well as a new foreword The new chapters further broaden the scope of the volume fleshing out its vision of film history and illuminating the author s critical method and the philosophical perspective that informs it Imitations of Life Marcia Landy, 1991 On melodrama Stella Dallas Olive Higgins Prouty, 1957 Stella Dallas Olive Higgins Prouty, Alice Niestlé-Pellet, 1944 Letter from an Unknown Woman Max Ophuls, 1986 On the film letter from an unknown woman including the screenplay and criticism of the motion picture Melodrama John Mercer, Martin Shingler, 2004 Melodrama Genre Style and Sensibility is designed as an accessible overview of the often complex debates that emerge out of the connections between melodrama and cinema The book identifies three distinct but connected concepts through which it is possible to make sense of melodrama either as a genre originating in European theatre of the 18th and 19th century as a specific cinematic style epitomised by the work of Douglas Sirk or as a sensibility that emerges in the context of specific texts speaking to and reflecting the desires concerns and anxieties of audiences Each chapter includes overviews of key essays analyses of significant and widely studied films and includes an annotated reading list Hollywood Melodrama and the New Deal Anna Siomopoulos, 2012 While many critics have analyzed the influence of the FDR administration on Hollywood films of the era most of these studies have focused either on New Deal imagery or on studio interactions with the federal government Neither type of study explores the relationship between film and the ideological principles underlying the New Deal This book argues that the most important connections between the New Deal and Hollywood melodrama lie neither in the New Deal iconography of these films nor in the politics of any one studio executive Rather the New Deal figures prominently in Hollywood melodramas of the Depression era because these films engage the political ideas underlying welfare state policies ideas that extended the reach of government into the private realm As the author shows Hollywood melodramas interrogated New Deal principles of liberal empathy consumer citizenship the refeudalization of the state and minimal economic redistribution only to support welfare state ideology in the end

Cinematic Ethics Robert Sinnerbrink,2015-10-23 How do movies evoke and express ethical ideas What role does our emotional involvement play in this process What makes the aesthetic power of cinema ethically significant Cinematic Ethics Exploring Ethical Experience through Film addresses these questions by examining the idea of cinema as a medium of ethical experience with the power to provoke emotional understanding and philosophical thinking In a clear and engaging style Robert Sinnerbrink examines the key philosophical approaches to ethics in contemporary film theory and philosophy using detailed case studies of cinematic ethics across different genres styles and filmic traditions Written in a lucid and lively style that will engage both specialist and non specialist readers this book is ideal for use in the academic study of philosophy and film Key features include annotated suggestions for further reading at the end of each chapter and a filmography of movies useful for teaching and researching cinematic ethics

Film Structure and the Emotion System Greg M. Smith,2003-10-13 Films evoke broad moods and cue particular emotions that can be broadly shared as well as individually experienced Although the experience of emotion is central to the viewing of movies film studies have neglected to focus attention on the emotions relying instead on vague psychoanalytic concepts of desire Film Structure and the Emotion System synthesizes research on emotion in cognitive psychology and neurology in an effort to provide a more nuanced understanding of how film evokes emotion Analysing a variety and range of films including Casablanca and Stranger than Paradise this book offers a grounded approach to the mechanisms through which films appeal to the human emotions demonstrating the role of style and narration in this process

Motion Picture Herald ,1926 Goldwyn A. Scott Berg,2013-08-01 Samuel Goldwyn was the premier dream maker of his era a fierce independent force i a time when studios ruled a producer of silver screen sagas who was in all probability the last Hollywood tycoon In this riveting book Pulitzer Prize winning biographer A Scott Berg tells the life story of this remarkable man a tale as rich with drama as any feature length epic and as compelling as the history of Hollywood itself

The Promise of the University Áine Mahon,2022-01-09 This book offers philosophical readings of the contemporary university and is motivated by a series of pressing challenges in the global context of Higher Education It argues that the university is a place for community for refuge for enlightenment and the careful questioning of knowledge but it is also a place for visceral ambition and for intellectual cowardice for blinkered individualism and professional competitiveness In the context of a highly competitive post crash global economy contemporary students are placed under increasing pressure to distinguish themselves from their peers via a portfolio of learning excellence and extracurricular achievement Growing numbers undertake part or full time employment in order to cover registration fees and the basic costs of living University staff take on very different forms of pressure that operate across the life course of an academic career from early career anxieties to the worries of more privileged and permanent faculty who fear they do not meet ever changing structures assumptions and demands of the university itself This book argues that these interlinked agendas demand consideration from philosophers of education in Ireland Europe and further afield It proposes that we must embody a very careful balancing act one where we remember the romantic ideals and promises of the university while still acknowledging the very real and pressing challenges faced by our staff and students The book will be of interest to academics graduate students and advanced level undergraduates in Philosophy Education Mental Health and Organizational Psychology in both North America and Europe
