The Editing of American Literature, 1890-1930 Donald Pizer,2012-07-30 Since the 1960s Donald Pizer has been writing about late 19th century American literature with an emphasis on the major fiction of Theodore Dreiser and Stephen Crane Most academics whose interests lie primarily in the preparation of scholarly editions are attracted to the paradoxical mix of adherence to a rigorous process and an opportunity for speculative thinking that is distinctive to this branch of literary studies And they often find appealing the notion that the end product of their labors is a book that unlike much criticism is sure to be used by others and to have a long lifespan However Pizer came to textual discussion from a different direction than most editors of scholarly editions who seldom wrote criticism about the authors and works they were engaged in editing

Consequently Pizer was drawn into the text wars of scholarly editions and during the last three decades of the 20th century he produced a number of essays tackling this sometimes contentious subject The Editing of American Literature 1890-1930 collects Donald Pizer's essays and reviews that examine the issues associated with providing authoritative scholarly editions of major turn of the century American authors Divided into four sections general essays on editing essays and reviews on the editing of Theodore Dreiser essays and reviews on the editing of Stephen Crane and essays on the interplay of textual theory and critical interpretation in works by Crane and John Dos Passos the volume expresses a distinctive position in the text wars that dominated the editing scene of the 1970-2000 period This collection of essays will be of interest to textual editors of any persuasion as well as literary critics and scholars with a special interest in late 19th and early 20th century American literature

American Literary Naturalism Donald Pizer, 2020-10-09 The book collects Pizer's late career essays on various writers and subjects related to American naturalism Of these two seek to describe the movement as a whole six are on specific writers or works with an emphasis on Theodore Dreiser and two reprint informative interviews by Pizer on the subject The essays reflect Pizer's mature engagement of the subject he has spent a lifetime exploring

Henry James and the Art of Impressions John Scholar, 2020 Henry James criticized the impressionism which was revolutionizing French painting and French fiction and satirized the British aesthetic movement which championed impressionist criticism Yet time and again he used the word impression to represent the most intense moments of consciousness of his characters as well as the work of the literary artist Henry James and The Art of Impressions argues that the literary art of the impression as James practised it places his work within the wider cultural history of impressionism Henry James and The Art of Impressions offers an unprecedentedly detailed cultural and intellectual history of the impression It draws on philosophy psychology literature critical theory intellectual influences and aesthetics to study James's early art criticism literary criticism travel writing prefaces and the three great novels of his major phase The Ambassadors The Wings of the Dove and The Golden Bowl It argues that the coherent philosophical meanings of the Jamesian impression emerge when they are comprehended as a family of related ideas about perception imagination and aesthetics bound together by James's attempt to reconcile the novel's value as a mimetic form and its value as a transformative creative activity Henry James and The Art of Impressions traces the development of the impression across a range of disciplines to show how James's use of the word owes them cultural and intellectual debt It offers a more philosophical account of James to complement the more historicist work of recent decades
