Fertility Regulation and the Public Health Sarah L. Tietze, Richard Lincoln, 2012-12-06 A lifetime of work by a dedicated scientist who monitored the growing variety of methods for the control of human fertility and foresaw the need for information on the social psychological economic and political aspects of fertility regulation and the prevention of unwanted pregnancies and births is reflected in the pages of this book It also chronicles a series of related revolutions 1 major changes in attitudes to the voluntary control of human fertility 2 growing freedom of discussion outside the medical community relating to human reproduction and 3 recognition that governments have an appropriate role to play in programs involving these matters As a result official information systems have been established to guide the evaluation of programs and determine if and when changes in policy might be needed Christopher Tietze from whose writings the articles in this volume were selected was a central figure in these developments He was a physician whose major focus was social statistics In effect he became the scorekeeper of the world's efforts to avoid unwanted childbearing He enlisted an ever growing network of collaborators and prevailed on them to apply new tools to new issues

The Cultural Context of Therapeutic Choice C. Sargent, 2012-12-06

This book examines the factors influencing women's choices of obstetrical care in a Bariba community in the People's Republic of Benin West Africa. When selecting a research topic I decided to investigate health care among the Bariba for several reasons. First I had served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in northern Benin then Dahomey and had established a network of contacts in the region. In addition I had worked for a year as assistant manager of a pharmacy in a northern town and had become interested in the pattern of utilization of health care services by urban residents. This three year residence proved an invaluable asset in preparing and conducting research in the northern region. In particular I was able to establish relationships with several indigenous midwives whose families I already knew both from prior research experience and mutual friendships. These relationships enabled me to obtain detailed information regarding obstetrical practice and thus form the foundation of this book. The fieldwork upon which the book is directly based was conducted between June 1976 and December 1977 and sponsored by the Ford Rockefeller Population Policy Program, the Social Science Research Council, the National Science Foundation and the Fulbright-Hays Doctoral Dissertation Research Program. The Ford Rockefeller Population Policy Program funded the project as a collaboration between myself and Professor Eusebe Alihonou, Professor Agrege Gynecologie Obstetrique at the National University of Benin.

Botros RMB Rizk, Hassan N Sallam, 2012 Shaw's Textbook of Gynecology E-Book V. G. Padubidri, Shirish N Daftary, 2014-09-15 Shaw's Textbook of Gynaecology, one of the best selling gynaecological textbooks of all time, has maintained its popularity with teachers, examiners and students. It is now in its 79th year of publication. The organization of content in this book is such that it provides the reader with a logical sequence of events that aid learning. The main objective of this best selling title is to meet the needs of undergraduate medical students and those preparing for postgraduate medical entrance examinations. This book will also be useful for nursing and physiotherapy students. Salient Features: Extensively revised and updated to incorporate the latest changes and development of newer concepts. Systematic presentation to make reading smooth and pleasurable by deleting redundant details, adding new tests, figures and tables, and improving the earlier figures. Provides the current methodologies and standard techniques. Attempts to reduce the in-depth explanations by giving the subject matter in pointwise form for some important topics. Inclusion of self-assessment and suggested reading at the end of each chapter.

Growth in Metropolitan America Charles F. Westoff, 2015-12-08 This analysis is based upon a study of 1,165 couples, all of whom had two children by the time of the interviews and lived in one of the Standard Metropolitan Areas. Its findings shed new light on the relationship between fertility planning behavior and such variables as socio-economic status, social mobility, aspirations, adherence to traditional values, interest in religion, marital adjustment, amount of education, and feelings of personal adequacy. A resurvey is planned for three years later to analyze subsequent attitudes and behavior.
