Sterilization Of People With Mental Disabilities Issues Perspectives And Cases:

Sterilization of People with Mental Disabilities Ellen A Brantlinger, 1995-05-09 Brantlinger discusses the current medical and legal trends in sterilisation with special emphasis on people with disabilities She explores the issues surrounding sterilisation decisions from the perspectives of judges lawyers social workers doctors family planners as well as the families and individuals themselves She illustrates how ethical issues related to sterilisation are framed and which moral values are called upon during decision making She ends with guidelines for decision making Beyond Testimony and Trauma

Steven High, 2015-03-15 Survivors of terrible events are often portrayed as unsung heroes or tragic victims but rarely as complex human beings whose lives extend beyond the stories they have told Beyond Testimony and Trauma considers other ways to engage with survivors and their accounts based on insights gained from long term oral history projects in a variety of contexts including factory closures industrial injury eugenics and forced sterilization the Holocaust genocide in Rwanda and Cambodia Argentinian torture camps the Yugoslav Wars and Jewish emigration from the Maghreb The contributors all innovators in the field of oral history include Henry Greenspan who provides reflections from forty years of listening to Holocaust survivors as well as an insightful afterword They demonstrate that through deep listening long term relationship building and collaborative research design it is possible to move beyond the problematic aspects of testimony to shine light on the more nuanced lives of survivors of mass violence In the process they offer alternative approaches to the collection of oral history that will shake the foundations of current historiographical practice Fixing the Poor Molly

Ladd-Taylor, 2017-12-01 How state welfare politics not just concerns with race improvement led to eugenic sterilization practices Honorable Mention 2018 Outstanding Book Award The Disability History Association Shortlist 2019 Wallace K Ferguson Prize Canadian Historical Association Between 1907 and 1937 thirty two states legalized the sterilization of more than 63 000 Americans In Fixing the Poor Molly Ladd Taylor tells the story of these state run eugenic sterilization programs She focuses on one such program in Minnesota where surgical sterilization was legally voluntary and administered within a progressive child welfare system Tracing Minnesota's eugenics program from its conceptual origins in the 1880s to its official end in the 1970s Ladd Taylor argues that state sterilization policies reflected a wider variety of worldviews and political agendas than previously understood She describes how after 1920 people endorsed sterilization and its alternative institutionalization as the best way to aid dependent children without helping the undeserving poor She also sheds new light on how the policy gained acceptance and why coerced sterilizations persisted long after eugenics lost its prestige In Ladd Taylor's provocative study eugenic sterilization appears less like a deliberate effort to improve the gene pool than a complicated but sadly familiar tale of troubled families fiscal and administrative politics and deep felt cultural attitudes about disability dependency sexuality and gender Drawing on institutional and medical records court cases newspapers and professional journals Ladd Taylor reconstructs the tragic stories of the welfare dependent sexually delinquent and disabled people who were labeled feeble-minded and targeted for sterilization. She chronicles the routine operation of Minnesota's three-step policy of eugenic commitment, institutionalization, and sterilization in the 1920s and 1930s and shows how surgery became the price of freedom from a state institution. Combining innovative political analysis with a compelling social history of those caught up in Minnesota's welfare system, Fixing the Poor is a powerful reinterpretation of eugenic sterilization.

Women With Intellectual Disabilities Kelley Johnson, 2000-03-01 This book provides the first comprehensive exploration of the issues affecting the lives of women with intellectual disabilities. Women from all over the world have collaborated to write about their lives, their experiences, and their hopes for the future. Different aspects of life, work, family relationships, and more are discussed.

Keeping America Sane Ian Robert Dowbiggin, 2018-10-18 What would bring a physician to conclude that sterilization is appropriate treatment for the mentally ill and mentally handicapped? Using archival sources, Ian Robert Dowbiggin documents the involvement of both American and Canadian psychiatrists in the eugenics movement of the early twentieth century. He explains why professional men and women committed to helping those less fortunate than themselves arrived at such morally and intellectually dubious conclusions. Psychiatrists at the end of the nineteenth century felt professionally vulnerable, Dowbiggin explains, because they were under intense pressure from state and provincial governments and from other physicians to reform their specialty. Eugenic ideas, which dominated public health policy, making seemed the best vehicle for catching up with the progress of science. Among the prominent psychiatrist eugenicists Dowbiggin considers are G. Alder Blumer, Charles Kirk Clarke, Thomas Salmon, Clare Hincks, and William Partlow. Tracing psychiatric support for eugenics throughout the interwar years, Dowbiggin pays special attention to the role of psychiatrists in the fierce debates about immigration policy. His examination of psychiatry's unfortunate flirtation with eugenics elucidates how professional groups come to think and act along common lines within specific historical contexts.

Beyond Guardianship National Council on Disability, 2018-03-27 In general, guardianship involves a state court determination that an individual lacks the capacity to make decisions with respect to their health, safety, welfare, and/or property. This Beyond Guardianship report explains how guardianship law has evolved, explores the due process and other concerns with guardianships, offers an overview of alternatives to guardianship, and identifies areas for further study. This report covers people with mental illness or disabilities, to include children, populations, and aging adult populations. Legal standards of incapacity are also explored within this report. Handbook of Research on Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity Linda C. Tillman, James Joseph Scheurich, 2013-08-21 The rapid growth of diversity within U.S. schooling and the heightened attention to the lack of equity in student achievement, school completion, and postsecondary attendance has made equity and diversity two of the principle issues in education, educational leadership, and educational leadership research. The Handbook of Research on

Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity is the first research based handbook that comprehensively addresses the broad diversity in U S schools by race ethnicity culture language gender disability sexual identity and class The Handbook both highly values the critically important strengths and assets that diversity brings to the United States and its schools yet at the same time candidly critiques the destructive deficit thinking biases and prejudices that undermine school success for many groups of students Well known chapter authors explore diversity and related inequities in schools and the achievement problems these issues present to school leaders Each chapter reviews theoretical and empirical evidence of these inequities and provides research based recommendations for practice and for future research Celebrating the broad diversity in U S schools the Handbook of Research on Educational Leadership for Equity and Diversity critiques the inequities connected to that diversity and provides evidence based practices to promote student success for all children Encyclopedia of Women in Today's World Mary Zeiss Stange,Carol K. Equal Treatment for People with Mental Retardation Martha A. Field,Valerie A. Sanchez,2009-07-01 Engaging in sex becoming parents raising children these are among the most personal decisions we make and for people with mental retardation these decisions are consistently challenged regulated and outlawed This book is a comprehensive study of the American legal doctrines and social policies past and present that have governed procreation and parenting by persons with mental retardation It argues persuasively that people with retardation should have legal authority to make their own decisions Despite the progress of the normalization movement which has moved so many people with mental retardation into the mainstream since the 1960s negative myths about reproduction and child rearing among this population persist Martha Field and Valerie Sanchez trace these prejudices to the eugenics movement of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries They show how misperceptions have led to inconsistent and discriminatory outcomes when third parties seek to make birth control or parenting decisions for people with mental retardation They also explore the effect of these decisions on those they purport to protect Detailed thorough and just their book is a sustained argument for reform of the legal practices and social policies it describes

Dividing Classes Ellen Brantlinger,2013-04-03 In this study of the school system of an Indiana town Ellen Brantlinger studies educational expectations within segments of the middle class that have fairly high levels of attainment Building on her findings she examines the relationship between class structure and educational success This book asserts the need to look beyond poor peoples values and aspirations and rather to consider the values of dominant groups to explain class stratification and educational outcomes

Issues in Human Rights Protection of Intellectually Disabled Persons Andreas Dimopoulos,2016-05-06 This book develops a legal argument as to how persons with intellectual disability can flourish in a liberal setting through the exercise of human rights even though they are perceived as non autonomous Using Ronald Dworkin s theory of liberal equality it argues that ethical individualism can be modified to accommodate persons with intellectual disability as equals in liberal theory Current legal practices the case law of the ECtHR on disability the provisions of the UNCRPD and a comparative analysis of English and German law are discussed as well as suggestions for positive measures for persons with intellectual disability The book will interest academics human rights activists and legal practitioners in the field of disability rights
