Still Life With A Bridle:

Still Life with a Bridle Zbigniew Herbert, 2012-05-01 In these pages of prose the poet Zbigniew Herbert brings the Dutch 17th century alive The people as they bid crippling sums of money for one bulb of a new variety of tulip the painters like Torrentius who loved women was persecuted for heresy and whose paintings disappeared all but one named Still Life with a Bridle Still Life with a Bridle Zbigniew Herbert, John Carpenter, 1993-01 The author of this book travelled to Holland from his native Poland to explore the history of Dutch life in the 17th century The 16 prose pieces that make up this book reveal the author's discriminating artistic eye and poetic sensibility one that revels in irony humour and a satirist's appreciation of the absurd An inveterate museum goer he focuses on the art of the period using it as a stepping stone point for an individual examination of the foibles genius and character of the Dutch people as a whole Still Life with a Bridle Zbigniew Herbert, 1991 STILL LIFE W/BRIDLE Herbert Z, 1999-12-10 In Still Life with a Bridle poet and essayist Zbigniew Herbert takes an intriguing look at the cultural artistic and aesthetic legacy of 17th century Holland These sixteen essays reveal Herbert's discriminating artistic eye and poetic sensibility one that revels in irony humor and a satirist's appreciation of the absurd An inveterate museum goer he focuses on the art of the Dutch masters using it as a stepping off point for a thoroughly individual and entertaining examination of the foibles genius and character of the Dutch people as a whole The result is an unorthodox and revealing glimpse into the past that gives us a keener understanding not only of a distant people but of ourselves as well The Ashgate Research Companion to Dutch Art of the Seventeenth Century Wayne Franits, 2017-07-05 Despite the tremendous number of studies produced annually in the field of Dutch art over the last 30 years or so and the strong contemporary market for works by Dutch masters of the period as well as the public's ongoing fascination with some of its most beloved painters until now there has been no comprehensive study assessing the state of research in the field As the first study of its kind this book is a useful resource for scholars and advanced students of seventeenth century Dutch art and also serves as a springboard for further research Its 19 chapters divided into three sections and written by a team of internationally renowned art historians address a wide variety of topics ranging from those that might be considered traditional to others that have only drawn scholarly attention comparatively recently Through the Poet's Eye Bozena Shallcross, 2009-02-20 Though best known as poets Adam Zagajewski born 1945 Zbigniew Herbert 1924-98 and Joseph Brodsky 1940-96 wrote some of the most original prose of this century It is this prose remarkable for its cross cultural complexity and interdisciplinary richness that concerns Bozena Shallcross in Through the Poet's Eye The travels undertaken by these Eastern European poets who each journeyed to the West under different circumstances give Shallcross her point of departure as she explores the connections between the sensory experience of travel and the revelatory perception of the visual arts manifest in their writings Book Jacket The Columbia Guide to the Literatures of Eastern Europe Since 1945 Harold B. Segel, 2003 The Iron Curtain concealed from western eyes a vital group of national and regional writers Marked by not only geographical proximity but also by the shared experience of communism and its collapse the countries of Eastern Europe Poland Hungary Albania Romania Bulgaria and the former states of Yugoslavia Czechoslovakia and East Germany share literatures that reveal many common themes when examined together Compiled by a leading scholar the guide includes an overview of literary trends in historical context a listing of some 700 authors by country and an A to Z section of articles on the most influential writers Memos from the Besieged City Djelal Kadir, 2011 This is a historical and critical reassessment of the field of comparative literature the study of cultures and their literary posterity across national borders and historical frontiers at a moment when notions of literacy and culture are under inordinate pressure by predatory globalization and militaristic realpolitik

The Wrong Turning: Encounters with Ghosts Stephen Johnson, 2021-10-19 Introduced and edited by broadcaster Stephen Johnson a curated selection of chilling ghost stories from world literature Why do people love ghost stories even if they don't believe or say they don't believe in ghosts Is it simply the adrenaline rush that comes from being mesmerized and terrified by a great storyteller or do these tales yield deeper meanings telling us things about our own inner shadows Stephen Johnson brings together some of the most memorable encounters with ghosts in world literature from Europe Russia the United States and China Recurring themes and imagery are noted interpretations suggested but only suggested since ambiguity and resistance to rational interpretation are key elements in the best ghost stories As the writer Robert Aickman observed often the decisive moment comes when someone somehow makes a wrong turning literally perhaps but at the same time psychologically even morally and some mysterious nemesis takes over Old favorites by M R James Ambrose Bierce and Charlotte Perkins Gilman are interlaced with extracts from longer works by Emily Brontë Henry James and Alexander Pushkin along with slightly left field apparitions from Tove Jansson and Flann O'Brien With such expert guides who knows what we will be led to encounter in the haunted chambers of our minds

Borderland Richard Quinney, 2001 To be a midwesterner is for Quinney to belong to a place to a time to a community all of which he evokes in this physical mental and spiritual geography In photographs handed down over the years and in those he has taken over a half century in reflections and anecdotes forays into history and judicious quotations and observations from figures as varied as T S Eliot Roland Barthes and Bob Dylan Quinney recreates the landscape of his life Here he conjures the reality of his Midwest the land where his great grandparents fleeing famine in Ireland settled to farm and where in days past the Potawatomi hunted and fished the land where now in later age Quinney's explorations intensify as he looks for and finds a lifetime burning in every moment Equal parts memoir geography photo journal and natural history Borderland is a exploration of what it means to be at home in a particular landscape

We surround ourselves with material things that are invested with memories but can only stand for what we have lost Physical objects such as one's own body situate and define us yet at the same time they are fundamentally indifferent to us The melancholy of this rift is a rich source of inspiration for artists Peter Schwenger deftly weaves together philosophical and psychoanalytical theory with artistic practice Concerned in part with the act of collecting The Tears of Things is itself a collection of exemplary art objects literary and cultural attempts to control and possess things including paintings by Georgia O'Keeffe and René Magritte sculpture by Louise Bourgeois and Marcel Duchamp Joseph Cornell's boxes Edward Gorey's graphic art fiction by Virginia Woolf Georges Perec and Louise Erdrich the hallucinatory encyclopedias of Jorge Luis Borges and Luigi Serafini and the corpse photographs of Joel Peter Witkin However these representations of objects perpetually fall short of our aspirations Schwenger examines what is left over debris and waste and asks what art can make of these What emerges is not an art that reassembles but one that questions what it means to assemble in the first place Contained in this catalog of waste is that ultimate still life the cadaver where the subject object dichotomy receives its final ironic reconciliation Peter Schwenger is professor of English at Mount St Vincent University in Halifax Nova Scotia He is the author of Fantasm and Fiction On Textual Envisioning Letter Bomb Nuclear Holocaust and the Exploding Word and Phallic Critiques Masculinity and Twentieth Century Literature The Polish Review ,2002
