Jacqueline Cochran Rhonda Smith-Daugherty,2015-03-10 Although Amelia Earhart remains the best known female pilot of the 1930s Jacqueline Cochran stood as the more important aviation pioneer and America's top woman pilot Among her many accomplishments Cochran was the first female aviator to win the Bendix Air Race to fly a bomber to break the speed of sound and to participate in astronaut training This revealing biography explores Cochran's childhood in an impoverished Florida mill town her early career as a pilot and her role in creating and leading the WASPs during World War II It also chronicles her postwar exploits including her participation in the NASA space program her unsuccessful 1956 bid for Congress and her surprising reluctance to crusade for the advancement of women This detailed profile removing Cochran from Earhart's shadow firmly establishes the aviatrix as a pivotal figure in the history of women in aviation and in war

Gems,2017-02 While the accomplishments and influence of Jack Johnson Joe Louis Jesse Owens Jackie Robinson and Muhammad Ali are doubtless impressive solely on their merits these luminaries of the Black sporting experience did not emerge spontaneously Their rise was part of a gradual evolution in social and power relations in American culture between the 1890s and 1940s that included athletes such as jockey Isaac Murphy barnstorming pilot Bessie Coleman and golfer Teddy Rhodes The contributions of these early athletes to our broader collective history and their heroic confrontations with the entrenched racism of their times helped bring about the incremental changes that after 1945 allowed for sports to be more fully integrated Before Jackie Robinson details and analyzes the lives of these lesser known but important athletes within the broader history of Black liberation These figures not only excelled in their given sports but also transcended class and racial divides in making inroads into popular culture despite the societal restrictions placed on them They were also among the first athletes to blur the line between athletics entertainment and celebrity culture This volume presents a more nuanced account of early Black American athletes lives and their ongoing struggle for acceptance relevance and personal and group identity English Fiction in the 1930s Chris Hopkins,2006-01-01 This study approaches the fiction of the 1930s through critical debates about genre language and history setting these in their original context and discussing the generic forms most favoured by novelists at the time Chris Hopkins uses a series of case studies of texts to draw on develop or explore the boundaries contemporary usefulness and complexities of particular prose genres Generic debates and the political aesthetic effects of different kinds of representation were live issues as discursive struggles and negotiations took place between modernist and realist modes between high middle and lowbrow categorisations of culture between literature and mass culture and between different conceptions of the role of the writer politics and nationality sexuality and gender identities Chris Hopkins draws both on well known texts and on novels which have only recently begun to be discussed by critics of the thirties particularly those by women writers whose work has still not been related very clearly to the literary and political debates of the period Organised in five sections each focusing on major genres he takes a wide range of novels as case studies and discusses their uses of generic forms relating them to other examples and to their historical political and cultural contexts Interior Places Lisa Knopp,2008-01-01 A collection of essays embracing nonfiction from memoir and biography to travel writing and natural history Interior Places offers a curiously detailed group photograph of the Midwest s interior landscape Here is an essay about the origin history and influence of corn Here we find an exploration of a childhood meeting with Frederick Leopold youngest brother of the great naturalist Aldo Here also are a chronicle of the 146 year alliance between Burlington Iowa and the Burlington Route later the CB O the BN and finally the BNSF and a pilgrimage to Amelia Earhart s Kansas hometown Game, Set, Match Susan Ware,2011 Argues that Billie Jean King s 1973 defeat of male player Bobby Riggs in tennis Battle of the Sexes match helped along with the passage of the Title IX anti sex discrimination act cause a revolution in women s sports Right Stuff, Wrong Sex Margaret A. Women Strike for Peace and individuals who were influential in international politics since World War I including Alice Paul Jane Addams Jeannette Rankin Dorothy Detzer Eleanor Roosevelt Margaret Chase Smith Helen Gahagan Douglas Bella Abzug Margaret Thatcher and many others These women often found ways to employ the myths to their own and to their country's benefit and more recently have had the freedom to defy the stereotypes altogether Un-American Womanhood

Kim E. Nielsen, 2001 This book studies the Red Scare of the 1920s through the lens of gender The author describes the methods antifeminists used to subdue feminism and other movements they viewed as radical The book also considers the seeming contradictions of outspoken antifeminists who broke with traditional gender norms to assume forceful and public roles in their efforts to denounce feminism Home on the Rails Amy G. Richter, 2006-03-13 Recognizing the railroad's importance as both symbol and experience in Victorian America Amy G Richter follows women travelers onto trains and considers the consequences of their presence there For a time Richter argues nineteenth century Americans imagined the public realm as a chaotic and dangerous place full of potential where various groups came together collided and influenced one another for better or worse The example of the American railroad reveals how by the beginning of the twentieth century this image was replaced by one of a domesticated public realm a public space in which both women and men increasingly strove to make themselves at home Through efforts that ranged from the homey touches of railroad car decor to advertising images celebrating female travelers and legal cases sanctioning gender segregated spaces travelers and railroad companies transformed the railroad from a place of risk and almost unlimited social mixing into one in which white men and women alleviated the stress of unpleasant social contact Making themselves at home aboard the trains white men and women domesticated the railroad for themselves and paved the way for a racially segregated and class stratified public space that freed women from the home yet still preserved the railroad as a masculine domain Middle Georgia and the Approach of Modernity Fred R. van Hartesveldt, 2018-06-22 By the eve of the 20th century Middle Georgia was a rural region transitioning from the aftermath of the Reconstruction Era into the modern age This collection of new essays describes the lives of the common people of the day A grisly mass murder underscored issues of race class and poverty African Americans struggled for self betterment against the rise of Jim Crow Women striving to overcome gender barriers found a hero in a pioneering female pilot The government worked to protect communities from the influenza pandemic of 1918 Fighting boll weevils and declining cotton prices farmers diversified crops and developed a national pimento pepper industry Fairness and Freedom David Hackett Fischer, 2012-02-10 From one of America's preeminent historians comes a magisterial study of the development of open societies focusing on the United States and New Zealand Gender and Early Television Sarah Arnold, 2021-05-20 Between the nineteenth century and the mid twentieth century television transformed from an idea to an institution In Gender and Early Television Sarah Arnold traces women's relationship to the new medium of television across this period in the UK and USA She argues that women played a crucial role in its development both as producers and as audiences long before the golden age of television in the 1950s Beginning with the emergence of media entertainment in the mid nineteenth century and culminating in the rise of the post war television industries Arnold claims that all along the way women had a stake in television As keen consumers of media women also helped promote television to the public by performing as television girls Women worked as directors producers technical crew and announcers It seemed that television was open to women However as Arnold shows the increasing professionalisation of television resulted in the segregation of roles Production became the sphere of men and consumption the sphere of women While this binary has largely informed women s role in television through her analysis Arnold argues that it has not always been the case
