Telumee Roman:

The Sense of Community in French Caribbean Fiction Celia Britton, 2010-01-01 This groundbreaking book analyzes the theme of community in seven French Caribbean novels in relation to the work of the French philosopher Jean Luc Nancy. The complex history of the islands means that community is often a central and problematic issue in their literature underlying a range of other questions such as political agency individual and collective subjectivity attitudes towards the past and the future and even the literary form itself. Celia Britton here studies a range of key books from the region including Édouard Glissant's Le Quatrième Siècle Patrick Chamoiseau's Texaco Daniel Maximin's L'Île et une nuit and Vincent Placoly's L'eau de mort guildive among others.

Caribbean Writers / Les auteurs Caribéens, 2023-12-21 Matatu is a journal on African literatures and societies dedicated to interdisciplinary dialogue between literary and cultural studies historiography the social sciences and cultural anthropology. Matatu is animated by a lively interest in African culture and literature including the Afro Caribbean that moves beyond worn out clichés of cultural authenticity and national liberation towards critical exploration of African modernities. The East African public transport vehicle from which Matatu takes its name is both a component and a symbol of these modernities based on Western these days usually Japanese technology it is a vigorously African institution it is usually regarded with some anxiety by those travelling in it but is often enough the only means of transport available it creates temporary communicative communities and provides a transient site for the exchange of news storytelling and political debate. Matatu is firmly committed to supporting democratic change in Africa to providing a forum for interchanges between African and European critical debates to overcoming notions of absolute cultural ethnic or religious alterity and to promoting transnational discussion on the future of African societies in a wider world. Matatu will be published as journal as of 2016 All back volumes are still available in print.

Schwarz-Bart: Pluie et Vent sur Télumée Miracle Simone

Schwarz-Bart, 2015-03-02 Great granddaughter of Minerve first woman of the Guadeloupean branch of the Lougandor family to be freed from slavery in 1848 the elderly Telumée tells the story of her own difficult life and that of her ancestors. It is a poor black woman's tale of heroic survival set in the early 20th century harsh agrarian environment of a Caribbean island. Through the richly imaged narration of a constantly evolving cultural significant and always entertaining saga the author leads the reader into her native West Indian realm of legends magic folkloric wisdom and traditional reverence for the elderly and the past. Her protagonist Telumée embodies the innate strength and nobility of women in general and of black Caribbean women in particular. Published in 1972 this book received Elle magazine's literary prize. This edition reflects the editor's personal acquaintance with the author and her country. It provides a synthesis of the latest critical studies and a thorough interpretation of Creole terms symbolic imagery and a unique cultural background.

Antillanité, créolité, littérature-monde Isabelle Constant, Kahiudi C. Mabana, 2013-02-14 This collection of essays explores concepts present in literatures in French that since the 2007 manifesto more and more critics suspicious of the term Francophonie now prefer to designate as littérature monde world literature The book shows how the three movements of antillanité créolité and littérature monde each in their own way break with the past and distance themselves from the hexagonal centre The critics in this collection show how writers seek to represent an authentic view of their history culture identities reality and diversities According to many of the contributors creolization and littérature monde offer new perspectives and possibly a new genre of literature Ces essais explorent les concepts présents dans la littérature en français que depuis le manifeste de 2007 de plus en plus de critiques suspicieux du terme francophonie préfèrent désigner sous le terme de litt
