The Coloniality of Animal Monstrous Othering in Children s Books Films and Toys examines how the portrayal of animals as physically distorted behaviorally depraved and intellectually defective serves to justify their debasement violation and destruction in materials directed toward young consumers The author argues that this animal monstrous Othering arises from the Eurocentric belief in humans natural superiority over animals and the right to categorize animals in accordance with a scale of worthiness that parallels the subjugation of racialized persons The chapters examine a variety of canonical figures like the dissolute wolf of Red Riding Hood stories and the disfigured titular character of the Wonky Donkey picture book alongside non canonical animals including reprobate pigs degenerate sharks self centered flamingos and wicked piranhas To counter this animal debasement Varga juxtaposes these readings with an examination of materials that articulate harmonious animal human interrelationships without dependence on styles of anthropomorphism that diminish animality Using Paired Text to Meet the Common Core William Bintz,2014-12-11

Teaching students to make connections across related texts promotes engagement and improves reading comprehension and content learning This practical guide explains how to select and teach a wide range of picture books as paired text two books related by topic theme or genre in grades K 8 The author provides mini lessons across the content areas along with hundreds of recommendations for paired text each linked to specific Common Core standards for reading literature and informational texts In a large size format for easy photocopying the book includes 22 reproducible graphic organizers and other useful tools Purchasers also get access to a Web page where they can download and print the reproducible materials
