UNESCO, Religious Cultural Heritage and Political Contestation Clizia Franceschini, 2024-12-07 This book offers an innovative study of UNESCO's religious heritage and nomination mechanisms. In particular, it shows how these processes can easily become instruments of power politics undermining the neutrality and impartiality of the nomination processes. This is particularly true where political contestation for the exercise of sovereign authority over the site is politically contested and the competing claims are primarily based on shared cultural and religious narratives which both sides in the dispute use to assert their claims. In this respect, religious heritage both in its tangible and intangible dimensions is the subject of national and global decisions that have political, cultural, and religious implications. Starting from this premise, the book aims to show that the global regulatory framework and institutional decisions in the field of religious heritage are not neutral but are determined by political discourses and agendas of governments and UNESCO.

Ojibway Tales Basil Johnston, 1993-01-01 The Ojibway Indians' sense of humor sparkles through these stories set on the fictional Moose Meat Point Indian Reserve connected by a dirt road to the town of Blunder Bay. If some of them seem farfetched and even implausible, Basil L. Johnston writes, it is simply because human beings very often act and conduct their affairs and those of others in an absurd manner. These twenty-two stories were originally collected under the title Moose Meat and Wild Rice. Among the most memorable of the stories is They Don't Want No Indians, in which all attempts are made to circumvent bureaucratic red tape and transport a dead Indian to his home for burial. One of the funniest is Indian Smart Moose Smart, which pits a moose in a lake against six Moose Meaters in two canoes. If You Want to Play and Secular Revenge are the result of misunderstanding or imperfect communication. Still, other stories like What Is Sin and The Kiss and the Moonshine reveal the clash of different cultural approaches. All show the warm-heartedness and good will of the Ojibway Indians. If they are gently satirized, so are the whites who would change them and, with good reason, Government ineptitude and rigid piety are foisted on the Moose Meaters who have only thirty thousand acres to move around in.

Tentative Seeds of Hope. Life is a Story - story.one Eileen Schroeders, 2024-03-10 Our world is on fire and we seem to stumble from one crisis to the next. Wars, patriarchal oppression, uncapped capitalist exploitation, and the constant threat of climate collapse make it hard to believe in a bright future. Yet amidst the shadows of despair, tentative seeds of hope are sown and cultivated. Each poem within these pages echoes the concerns, fears, and fervent desires of a generation grappling with the looming spectre of a burning planet. From the ache of witnessing vanishing landscapes and species to the dehumanisation and inequality created by capitalistic patriarchy, these verses resonate with raw authenticity, inviting readers to confront the harsh realities of our time with empathy and introspection This anthology invites readers on a reflective journey it s a call to arms reminding us that ultimately the fate of this world rests in our collective hands An Indian Summer James Cameron,1987 James Cameron was no stranger to India when he travelled there with his wife in 1972 His work as journalist and his new family brought him a closer understanding of the country he already loved He also met new people travelled to unfamiliar areas and witnessed the changes that Independence had brought With this fresh eye he saw kindness and corruption beauty and filth impossible bureaucracy and profound humanity This text tells of his experiences
