

SCHWARZENEGGER

TERMINATOR 2

JUDGMENT DAY

He said he'd be back! Arnold Schwarzenegger returns as the Terminator in this explosive action-adventure spectacle.

His mission: to protect John Connor, the boy destined to lead the freedom fighters of the future.

His opponent: the T-1000, the most lethal machine ever created, sent back through time to kill young John.

His ally: Sarah Connor, John's mother, Linda Hamilton returns, reprising her role as the quintessential survivor, a woman warrior whose warnings go unheeded by a world careening toward a nuclear holocaust she knows is inevitable.

Cowritten, produced and directed by James Cameron (The Terminator, Aliens, The Abyss), T2 is a tour de force of stunts and astounding special effects, both armed a touching and emotional human story. Visually stunning, unexpectedly moving, the film is a true epic.

"THUNDEROUSLY VISCERAL...Some of the most special effects in movie... Schwarzenegger is impressive, fearless, almost touching. This brutally exciting movie never loses sight of its humanity."

Cinematic Appeals follows the effect of technological innovation on the cinema experience specifically the introduction of widescreen and stereoscopic 3D systems in the 1950s the rise of digital cinema in the 1990s and the transition to digital 3D since 2005 Widescreen films drew the spectator into the world of the screen enabling larger than life close ups of already larger than life actors The technology fostered the illusion of physically entering a film enhancing the semblance of realism Alternatively the digital era was less concerned with manipulating the viewer's physical response and more with generating information flow awe disorientation and the disintegration of spatial boundaries This study ultimately shows how cinematic technology and the human experience shape and respond to each other over time Films discussed include Elia Kazan's East of Eden 1955 Star Wars The Phantom Menace 1999 The Matrix 1999 and Thomas Vinterberg's Dogme film The Celebration 1998
