Terrakotten Aus Agypten:

The Oxford Handbook of Roman Egypt Christina Riggs, 2012-06-21 This handbook arranged in seven thematic sections is unique in drawing together many different strands of research on Roman Egypt in order to suggest both the state of knowledge in the field and the possibilities for collaborative synthetic and interpretive research Griechisch-römische Terrakotten aus Ägypten Jutta Fischer, Thomas Zachmann, 1994

The Beautiful Burial in Roman Egypt Christina Riggs, 2006-01-06 This important new study looks at the intersection of Greek and Egyptian art forms in the funerary sphere of Roman Egypt A discussion of artistic change cultural identity and religious belief foregrounds the detailed analysis of more than 150 objects and tombs many of which are presented here for the first time In addition to the information it provides about individual works of art supported by catalogue entries the study explores fundamental questions such as how artists combine the iconographies and representational forms of different visual traditions and why two distinct visual traditions were employed in Roman Egypt

Isis on the Nile. Egyptian Gods in Hellenistic and Roman Egypt , 2010-12-17 The diffusion of the cults of Isis is recently again intensively studied Research on this fascinating phenomenon has traditionally been characterised by its focus on Egypt while developments in Hellenistic and Roman Egypt itself were often seen as belonging to a different domain This volume tries to overcome that unhealthy dichotomy by studying the cults of Isis in Hellenistic and Roman Egypt itself in relation to developments in the Mediterranean at large The book not only presents an overview of the most important deities often based on new or unpublished material but also pays ample attention to the cultural processes behind Isis on Nile like relations between style and identity religious choice social and cultural memory and Egypt's view of its own past

Ancient Alexandria between Egypt and Greece William V. Harris, Giovanni Ruffini, 2021-10-01 As one of the greatest cities of antiquity Alexandria has always been a severe challenge to its historians all the more so because the surviving evidence material and textual is so disparate New archaeological and literary discoveries and the startling diversity of ancient Alexandria so reminiscent of some modern cities add to the interest The present volume contains the papers given at a conference at Columbia University in 2002 which attempted to lay some of the foundations for a new history of Alexandria by considering in particular its position between the traditions and life of Egypt on the one hand and on the other the immigrants who came there from Greece and elsewhere in the wake of the founder Alexander of Macedon

The Macedonians in Athens, 322-229 B.C. Olga Palagia, Stephen V. Tracy, 2016-11-29 For a century following the end of the Lamian War in 322 B C Athens harbour at Piraeus was almost constantly occupied by a Macedonian garrison The Macedonian presence dealt a crucial blow to Athenian independence and Athenian democracy initiating the first in a long and intermittent series of foreign occupations The twenty eight papers in this volume are based on an international conference hosted by the University of Athens in May 2001 and focus on various aspects of Athenian art archaeology and history in the century of Macedonian domination They consider Athens new role as a political stepping stone for potential Successors to the throne of Macedon

Cassander Demetrios Poliorketes and Antigonos Gonatas were each able to secure Macedonia by using Athens as a power base and the ways in which Athenian culture was affected by the Macedonian presence They contribute to the ongoing debate about the reasons for the Macedonian ascendancy the degree of independence accorded Athens by their Macedonian overlords the third century archon list and changes in Athenian art and architecture Aegyptus, Africa, Hispania, Gallia et Britannia M.J. Lawall,John

Lund,2011-04-20 Archaeologists are increasingly focusing on the transformation of artifacts from their use in the past to their appearance in the archaeological record trying to identify the natural and cultural processes that created the archaeological record we study today In Classical Archaeology attention to these processes received an impetus by J Theodore Pena's 2007 monograph Roman Pottery in the Archaeological Record which considered how ceramic vessels were made used and stayed in use serving various secondary purposes before finally being discarded Pena relied mainly on evidence from Roman Italy which raises the question of the impact of similar cultural forces on pottery from other periods and places His work accentuates the need to continue the process of building and developing explicit interpretive models of ceramic life histories in Mediterranean archaeology With a view to beginning to address these challenges the editors invited a group of specialists in the pottery of Greece and the rest of the Eastern Mediterranean to a colloquium in Athens in June 2008 asking the contributors to reconsider Penas general models approaches and examples from their own particular geographic and cultural perspectives This publication constitutes the proceedings of this colloquium Panthée: Religious Transformations in the Graeco-Roman Empire, 2013-09-12 Panth e presents a collective reflection relating to the changes that affected the Graeco Roman Empire and over the long term altered its religious landscapes Fifty years after the foundation of the series EPRO the volume aims to avoid the division between the supposedly Roman or Graeco Roman and the Oriental by linking the available information relating the different major areas such as the relation between local and global the place of emotions in relation to soteriological and initiatory aspects strategies of integration and negotiation of identities For the first time the leading specialists in every field bring their approaches into contact with one another and jointly construct a picture of practices and conceptual frames which in their diversity and interaction model a religious universe whose complexity will help to understand our modern globalising world Panth e propose une réflexion collective sur les mutations qui ont affecté l'Empire gréco-romain et ont progressivement remodelé ses paysages religieux Cinquante ans après la création de la collection des EPRO ce livre ambitionne de dépasser le clivage entre ce qui serait romain ou gréco-romain et ce qui serait oriental en articulant les données disponibles autour de quelques thèmes majeurs comme les jeux d'échelle entre local et universel la place du registre des motions en relation avec les dimensions sotériologiques et mystiques les stratégies d'intégration et de négociation des identités Pour la première fois les meilleurs spécialistes venus de tous les horizons croisent leurs approches et construisent ensemble un tableau des pratiques et des cadres de pensée qui dans leur diversité et dans leur interaction dessinent les contours d'un univers religieux dont la complexité aide penser le monde moderne de la globalisation
