The need to provide ample educational opportunities is more imperative than ever particularly in emerging economies. Technical Education and Vocational Training in Developing Nations is a comprehensive reference source for the latest literature on optimizing the implementation of curriculum development and instructional design strategies for technical and vocational education. Featuring innovative coverage across a range of relevant topics such as curriculum deficiency, teacher competencies and accessible learning, this book is ideally designed for policy makers, academicians, researchers, advanced level students, technology developers and educators interested in the improvement of professional learning programs. Handbook of Technical and Vocational Education and Training Research Felix Rauner, Rupert Maclean, 2008-12-16 Technical and vocational education and training (TVET) research has become a recognized and well defined area of interdisciplinary research. This is the first handbook of its kind that specifically concentrates on research and research methods in TVET. The book's sections focus on particular aspects of the field starting with a presentation of the genesis of TVET research. They further feature research in relation to policy planning and practice. Various areas of TVET research are covered including on the vocational disciplines and on TVET systems. Case studies illustrate different approaches to TVET research and the final section of the book presents research methods including interview and observation methods as well as of experimentation and development. This handbook provides a comprehensive coverage of TVET research in an international context and with special focus on research and research methods it is a cutting edge resource and reference. International Handbook of Education for the Changing World of Work Rupert Maclean, David Wilson, 2009-06-29 The aim of this Handbook is to review the developments that have occurred in Technical and vocational education and training (TVET) and that may help improve the field. The Handbook provides information on TVET models that occur in different parts of the world, reflects best and innovative practice and wherever possible uses case studies as examples. The 220 authors are representative of the various regions of the world and major international organisations involved in TVET. This volume presents the work of established researchers as well as the work of promising young researchers. Intended as the universally accepted resource for the field, the Handbook provides a comprehensive coverage of cutting edge developments in research, policy and practice in TVET within a single source. It will assist those involved in TVET at any level in making informed decisions and further advance and improve the field and to bridge the gap between vocational and academic education in the 21st century. Socio-Economic Perspectives on Vocational Skill

The International Handbook of Educational Research in the Asia-Pacific Region J.P. Keeves, Ryo Watanabe, 2013-11-11 The aim of the Handbook is to present readily accessible but scholarly sources of information about educational research in the Asia Pacific region The scale and scope of the Handbook is such that the articles included in it provide substantive contributions to knowledge and understanding of education in the Asia region In so doing the articles present the problems and issues facing education in the region and the findings of research conducted within the region that contribute to the resolution of these problems and issues Moreover since new problems and issues are constantly arising the articles in the Handbook also indicate the likely directions of future developments The different articles within the Handbook seek to conceptualize the problems in each specific content area under review provide an integration of the research conducted within that area the theoretical basis of the research the practical implications of the research and the contribution of the research towards the resolution of the problems identified Thus the articles do not involve the reporting of newly conducted research but rather require a synthesis of the research undertaken in a particular area with reference to the research methods employed and the theoretical frameworks on which the research is based In general the articles do not advocate a single point of view but rather present alternative points of view and comment on the debate and disagreements associated with the conduct and findings of the research Furthermore it should be noted that the Handbook is not concerned with research methodology and only considers the methods employed in inquiry in so far as the particular methods of research contribute to the effective investigation of problems and issues that have arisen in the conduct and provision of education at different levels within the region

African Youth and the Persistence of Marginalization Danielle Resnick, James Thurlow, 2015-04-10 The much heralded growth and transformation of many economies in sub Saharan Africa over the last decade continues to receive prominent attention in academic scholarship and among policy practitioners An apparent feature about this transformation however is that Africa's youth appear to have been left out This book critically examines the extent and consequences of the marginalization of African youth It questions conventional wisdoms about data trends aspirational goals and common policy interventions surrounding Africa's youth that have been variously propagated in both the development studies literature and in mainstream donor policy reports The book explores macro trends from both a temporal and cross regional perspective in order to highlight what is distinct about contemporary African youth and whether their prospects and behaviours do actually vary from their counterparts in other regions of the world or from previous generations of African youth Such studies include cross country analyses of youth employment patterns and modes of political participation in depth examination of the behaviours and aspirations of the urban youth and critical reflections on the impact of rural employment initiatives vocational education and learnership programmes The incorporation of multiple methods and disciplines as well as its attention to policy issues ensures that the book will be of great interest to graduate students researchers and professional researchers whose work lies at the intersection of African area studies and development studies as well as those focused on development economics political science and public policy and administration

Private Sector Development in an Emerging World Diederik Boer, Harald Sander, Katharina Friz, Antonella Anastasi, 2023-12-04 This book explores the interactions between private sector development public policies and societal institutions with a strong view on contributing to sustainable and inclusive development in emerging countries The private sector is often praised as an engine of economic growth This belief has led to significant efforts to promote private sector development in emerging countries Development agencies prioritize private sector development and national governments are following suit resulting in often huge incentives to stimulate and attract private investment However private sector development is not a panacea for sustainable and inclusive development as the past decades have clearly shown Economic growth societal development and environmental sustainability are often in a sharp conflict and more often than not economic growth has failed to improve the lives of all citizens This book examines the role the state and the private sector should play to benefit from the dynamics of business development while ensuring that these benefits are shared broadly without jeopardizing sustainability The views presented differ in detail but the analyses and case studies presented share common themes namely that the relative roles of state and private sector should be balanced and that this particular balance should be based on the context of each country in order to make the private public sector interaction work for all people

Back cover The Rationale for Re-Structuring the Vocational Education in India Tilak Kumar Sharma,2016-04-01 The intention of this book is to probe into a critical pedagogy of career education as a vital means to enhance vocationalization in an authentic sense The book basically focuses on the need to re structure the system and proposes the use of productive learning as a foundation for a well rounded education that breaks down the dreadfully despicable dualisms of contemporary education that is the separation of theory from practice individuals from collectivity and schools from community It also aims at exposing students to three viable requirements the need for effective acquisition of skills a critical pedagogy of occupational demands and proper understanding of the potential resources for community development and prosperity The implication is that creative activities productive behavior should move away from the single priority of economic advancement and profit toward the integration of developmental objectives for social and economic enlistment and effective mobilization

Hopkins, 2002-09-05 This book enables the reader to understand labour markets and shows how to forecast the need for skills in developing countries The forecasting of these skills has recently fallen into disrepute with the notion that all forecasting techniques that assessed the labour market requirements of the future were dubious and that the future lay with labour market analysis and labour market signalling This book disputes this but acknowledges that the models of the past should be supplemented with better data and improved labour market analysis and in doing so produces its own model for analysing the needs of labour markets
