The Intolerable Hulks Charles F. Campbell, 1994 Account of how the 18th century's exploding prison population was solved by converting old merchant ships and deactivated naval craft into floating prisons Jeremy Bentham and Australia Tim Causer, Margot Finn, Philip Schofield, 2022-04-28 Jeremy Bentham and Australia is a collection of scholarship inspired by Bentham's writings on Australia These writings are available for the first time in authoritative form in Panopticon versus New South Wales and other writings on Australia a volume in The Collected Works of Jeremy Bentham published by UCL Press In the present collection a distinguished group of authors reflect on Bentham's Australian writings making original contributions to existing debates and setting agendas for future ones In the first part of the collection the works are placed in their historical contexts while the second part provides a critical assessment of the historical accuracy and plausibility of Bentham's arguments against transportation from the British Isles In the third part attention turns to Bentham's claim that New South Wales had been illegally founded and to the imperial and colonial constitutional ramifications of that claim Here authors also discuss Bentham's work of 1831 in which he supports the establishment of a free colony on the southern coast of Australia In the final part authors shed light on the history of Bentham's panopticon penitentiary scheme his views on the punishment and reform of criminals and what role if any religion had to play in that regard and discuss apparently panopticon inspired institutions built in the Australian colonies This collection will appeal to readers interested in Bentham's life and thought the history of transportation from the British Isles and of British penal policy more generally colonial and imperial history Indigenous history legal and constitutional history and religious history British Romanticism and Prison Reform Jonas Cope, 2024-12-13 In eighteenth century Britain criminals were routinely whipped branded hanged or transported to America Only in the last quarter of the century with the War of American Independence and legal and sociopolitical challenges to capital punishment did the criminal justice system change resulting in the reformed prison or penitentiary meant to educate rehabilitate and spiritualize even hardened felons This volume is the first to explore the relationship between historical penal reform and Romantic era literary texts by luminaries such as Godwin Keats Byron and Austen The works examined here treat incarceration as ambiguous prison walls oppress and reinforce the arbitrary power of legal structures but can also heighten meditation intensify the imagination and awaken the conscience Jonas Cope skillfully traces the important ideological work these texts attempt to reconcile a culture devoted to freedom with the birth of the modern prison system that presents punishment as a form of rehabilitation Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods Fettered Frontier Jennifer Harrison, 2023-04-28

Historian Jennifer Harrison's latest book Fettered Frontier Founding the Moreton Bay Settlement 1822-1826 a companion volume to Shackled Female Convicts at Moreton Bay 1826-1839 2016 investigates the struggle to locate and establish an outpost in remote Moreton Bay She uses original government correspondence diaries journals and maps and also examines the many mangled foundation stories from the time of the original site at Redcliffe and its removal to a location on the Brisbane River The search for the river involved several exploratory voyages the discovery of convict timber getters who had totally lost their bearings and the helpful local Aboriginal people The stream shrouded by mangroves was finally discovered A significantly sized waterway it was appropriately named for Governor Sir Thomas Brisbane as was the campsite on its bank Much research has concentrated on accurately recreating economic climatic and legal back stories together with defining the characters who made the decisions in London Port Jackson Sydney and locally as well as the convicts who undertook the heavy manual work Happy 200th Birthday Brisbane you have come a long way The Profligate Son Nicola

Phillips, 2013-10-24 The dramatic and moving story of a Regency rake's descent into depravity and crime via the exuberantly hedonistic and murky underworld of late Georgian England Encyclopedia of Prisons and Correctional Facilities

Mary Bosworth, 2005 Are included Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews.com Sentenced to Cross the Raging Sea Ross Johnson, 2004 In many North of England towns like Manchester and Oldham violence was never far below the surface during the disturbed times of the Industrial Revolution in the early 19th century with cotton mill owners pitted against their operatives and worker against worker Sam Johnson was a 17 year old cotton spinner apprenticed to his father at Greenbank Mill when three over zealous Oldham constables raided a union meeting and arrested two union men The end result was a huge riot involving thousands of Oldham workers and a partly successful attempt to demolish the Bankside Mill on Manchester Street and adjacent workers homes One onlooker was shot dead The subsequent random arrests when the militia arrived and regained control resulted in five of the rioters including Sam Johnson being sentenced to death by hanging at the Lancaster Assizes of 1834 These sentences were commuted to transportation for life This thoroughly researched true story describes the life of Sam Johnson convict no 13841 from the Chatham hulks to the transport ship to Botany Bay the Hyde Park Barracks in Sydney his later assignment to his Scottish master Archibald Macleod his travels over the Australian Alps with his sheep and cattle to pioneer in Gippsland in 1844 It traces his emancipation marriage and life in Gippsland following a successful petition and Queen s Pardon after he served his 20 year sentence The book includes previously unpublished material from the handwritten notes of an Oldham reporter present at the riot reproduced by kind permission of Oldham Local Studies and Archives I am a Government Man to Mr Scott of Glendon David Cragg,2015-04-22 With the judgement of death for horse theft in Wales hanging over his head Hugh Hughes is mercifully transported to New South Wales in 1830 for 14 years His journey to freedom in the Hunter Valley on the Glendon Estate places him in the midst of a tumultuous time in colonial history Influential squatters such as the Scott family wrestle for power and land against indigenous tribes the scourge of bushrangers and the attempts by the Governor of New South Wales to establish authority and discipline on the colony s boundaries Hugh Hughes struggles with his own temptations and the lash is not far from his back Crossing paths with murderous escaped convicts and the infamous Hall family death and misfortune continue to stalk him As a ticket of leave holder and well known horse breeder he meets the indefatigable Frances Fox an orphaned immigrant girl who made her way to Sydney in the hope of claiming a better life than famine struck Ireland could offer Together they scratch out an existence and raise a family Voyage of the Hougoumont and Life at Fremantle Thomas McCarthy Fennell,2001-03-13 Like many 19th century Irish immigrants Thomas McCarthy Fennell arrived in the United States to start a new life Unlike other Irishmen however Fennell arrived on America s West coast by ship He was a thirty year old ex convict recently discharged from an Australian prison As a condition of release he could not return to his native land His crime Treason or as the Crown s trial judge put it compassing against Queen Victoria In the tumultuous 1860s Fennell organized Fenians Irish and Irish American Nationalists who sought by force to rid Ireland of Britain s dominance He fought and was wounded in the 1867 Uprising hardly a footnote in history yet England s great Prime Minister Gladstone would refer to it as the first streak of dawn And indeed it added to the foundation that would eventually lead to the Republic of Ireland Fennell was transported to Australia on the last prison ship dispatched there by Britain the Hougoumont a converted merchant vessel On board for three months with 280 other convicts Fennell and a small group of Fenians including John Boyle O Reilly and John Sarsfield Casey The Galtee Boy stayed together They prayed sang and entertained each other They even published a weekly newspaper Fennell was in Western Australia a colony that wanted convict labor for over three years first at Fremantle Prison and then on a chain gang Pardoned in 1871 by Victoria he made his way to America where he eventually settled in Elmira New York He remained active in the movement and was the one to propose the famous Catalpa Rescue of 1876 This is the true story of Fennell s incarceration in his own words Here he describes the humiliations and horrors of being a political prisoner thrown in with murderers rapists and other criminals of the worst kind He recounts floggings daily strip searches and death at sea Yet he and his fellow Fenians triumphed in the end and Fennell would write his story Now Fennell's 70 000 word manuscript is available to the public for the first time Articles by Walter McGrath and Matthew Bermingham accompany the text along with other supplementary information extensive footnotes photographs and illustrations What's being said about this book With a useful introductory essay the editorial annotations a good selection of illustrations a selection of Fenian poetry and a number of articles to provide context Fennell and King have made a valuable contribution to Western Australian history H A Willis The West Australian You are to be congratulated on the high standard of the edition It will be an important addition to the National Library's collection Noel Kissane Keeper of the Manuscripts National Library of Ireland To have a record of daily life in the Prison during the 19th century and in such detail is of inestimable value to us Rob Besford Fremantle Prison WA This voyage is of additional significance as it brought the last shipload of convicts to the Australian penal settlement The Irish Times I'd like to compliment you on bringing such a wonderful new source of Fenian biography to light so expertly Keith Amos author of The Fenians In Australia I am pleased to add this to our collection as it will be extremely useful for research on the Fenians There are so few first hand accounts of convict Fenian life making this all the more important David Whiteford The Battye Library Australia Marie King and Philip Fennell have combined their efforts to provide historical context and then present the purest form of these memoirs John Benson Pawling News Chronicle

Illiterate Inmates Rosalind Crone, 2022 Illiterate Inmates tells the story of the emergence at the turn of the nineteenth century of a powerful idea the provision of education in prisons for those accused and convicted of crime and its execution over the century that followed drawing on evidence from both local and convict prisons Encyclopedia of Criminology J. Mitchell Miller, Richard A. Wright, 2013-12-17 This three volume work offers a comprehensive review of the pivotal concepts measures theories and practices that comprise criminology and criminal justice No longer just a subtopic of sociology criminology has become an independent academic field of study that incorporates scholarship from numerous disciplines including psychology political science behavioral science law economics public health family studies social work and many others The three volume Encyclopedia of Criminology presents the latest research as well as the traditional topics which reflect the field's multidisciplinary nature in a single authoritative reference work More than 525 alphabetically arranged entries by the leading authorities in the discipline comprise this definitive international resource The pivotal concepts measures theories and practices of the field are addressed with an emphasis on comparative criminology and criminal justice While the primary focus of the work is on American criminology and contemporary criminal justice in the United States extensive global coverage of other nations justice systems is included and the increasing international nature of crime is explored thoroughly Providing the most up to date scholarship in addition to the traditional theories on criminology the Encyclopedia of Criminology is the essential one stop reference for students and scholars alike to explore the broad expanse of this multidisciplinary field A Protestant Purgatory Laurie Throness, 2016-12-05 How did the penitentiary get its name Why did the English impose long prison sentences Did class and economic conflict really lie at the heart of their correctional system In a groundbreaking study that challenges the assumptions of modern criminal justice scholarship Laurie Throness answers many questions like these by exposing the deep theological roots of the judicial institutions of eighteenth century Britain The book offers a scholarly account of the passage of the Penitentiary Act of 1779 combining meticulous attention to detail with a sweeping theological overview of the century prior to the Act But it is not just an intellectual history It tells a fascinating story of a broader religious movement and the people and beliefs that motivated them to create a new institution The work is original because it relies so completely on original sources It is mystical because it mingles heavenly with earthly justice It is authoritative because of its explanatory power Its anecdotes and insights poetry and song provide intriguing glimpses into another era strangely familiar to our own Of special interest to social and legal historians criminologists and theologians this work will also appeal to a wider audience of those who are interested in Christianity's impact on Western culture and institutions Ancestry magazine , 1998-05 Ancestry magazine focuses on genealogy for today's family historian with tips for using Ancestry.com advice from family history experts and success stories from genealogists across the globe Regular features include Found by Megan Smolenyak reader submitted heritage recipes Howard Wolinsky's tech driven NextGen feature articles a timeline how to tips for Family Tree Maker and insider insight to new tools and records at Ancestry.com Ancestry magazine is published 6 times yearly by Ancestry Inc parent company of Ancestry.com Ancestry , 1998 Chapman Family Association Newsletter , 2002 Bibliography of Nautical Books Alan Obin, 2000-02 This is the 15th annual edition of the Bibliography of Nautical Books a reference guide to over 14 000 nautical publications It deals specifically with the year 2000 Ackerman(n) Biographical Dictionary, Volume 1 Karen L.
