The Invisible Reader Bridget Penney, Paul Holman, 1995 Christian Reading Companion for 50 Classics James P. Stobaugh, James Stobaugh, 2013-01-25 Reading and understanding the classics is important for college preparation as well as for personal enjoyment With the Christian Reading Companion for 50 Classics you can gain a deeper understanding of them from a Christian perspective Selections include books and plays for both middle school and high school levels The Reader, the Text, the Poem Louise M. Rosenblatt, 1994-09-21 Starting from the same nonfoundationalist premises Rosenblatt avoids the extreme relativism of postmodern theories derived mainly from Continental sources A deep understanding of the pragmatism of Dewey James and Peirce and of key issues in the social sciences is the basis for a view of language and the reading process that recognizes the potentialities for alternative interpretations and at the same time provides a rationale for the responsible reading of texts The Twentieth Century Performance Reader Teresa Brayshaw, Noel Witts, 2013-10-01 The Twentieth Century Performance Reader has been the key introductory text to all types of performance for over fifteen years Extracts from over fifty practitioners critics and theorists from the fields of dance drama music theatre and live art form an essential sourcebook for students researchers and practitioners This carefully revised third edition offers focus on contributions from the world of music and also privileges the voices of practitioners themselves ahead of more theoretical writing A bestseller since its original publication in 1996 this new edition has been expanded to include contributions from Bobby Baker Joseph Beuys Rustom Bharucha Anne Teresa de Keersmaeker Hanns Eisler Karen Finley Philip Glass Guillermo Gomez-Peña Matthew Goulash Martha Graham Wassily Kandinsky Jacques Lecoq Hans Thies Lehmann George Maciunas Ariane Mnouchkine Meredith Monk Lloyd Newson Carolee Schneemann Gertrude Stein Bill Viola Each extract is fully supplemented by a contextual summary a biography of the writer and suggestions for further reading The volume's alphabetical structure invites the reader to compare and cross reference major writings on all types of performance outside of the constraints and simplifications of genre encouraging cross disciplinary understandings All who engage with live innovative performance and the interplay of radical ideas will find this collection invaluable The Invisible Child Katherine Paterson, 2001 More than twenty essays and speeches show Paterson's passion for reading her ideas about writing her spiritual faith and her conviction that the imagination must be nourished Dreams of Fiery Stars Catherine Rainwater, 2010-08-03 Selected by Choice magazine as an Outstanding Academic Book for 1999 Since the 1968 publication of N Scott Momaday's House Made of Dawn a new generation of Native American storytellers has chosen writing over oral traditions While their works have found an audience by observing many of the conventions of the mainstream novel Native American written narrative has emerged as something distinct from the postmodern novel with which it is often compared In Dreams of Fiery Stars Catherine Rainwater examines the novels of writers such as Momaday Linda Hogan Leslie Marmon Silko Gerald Vizenor and Louise Erdrich and contends that the very act of writing narrative imposes constraints upon these authors that are foreign to Native American tradition Their works amount to a break with and a transformation of American Indian storytelling The book focuses on the agenda of social and cultural regeneration encoded in contemporary Native American narrative and addresses key questions about how these works achieve their overtly stated political and revisionary aims Rainwater explores the ways in which the writers create readers who understand the connection between storytelling and personal and social transformation considers how contemporary Native American narrative rewrites Western notions of space and time examines the existence of intertextual connections between Native American works and looks at the vital role of Native American literature in mainstream society today The Reader's Site Reading David J. Alworth,2018-11-20 Site Reading offers a new method of literary and cultural interpretation and a new theory of narrative setting by examining five sites supermarkets dumps roads ruins and asylums that have been crucial to American literature and visual art since the mid twentieth century Against the traditional understanding of setting as a static background for narrative action and character development David Alworth argues that sites figure in novels as social agents Engaging a wide range of social and cultural theorists especially Bruno Latour and Erving Goffman Site Reading examines how the literary figuration of real material environments reorients our sense of social relations To read the sites of fiction Alworth demonstrates is to reveal literature as a profound sociological resource one that simultaneously models and theorizes collective life Each chapter identifies a particular site as a point of contact for writers and artists the supermarket for Don DeLillo and Andy Warhol the dump for William Burroughs and Mierle Laderman Ukeles the road for Jack Kerouac Joan Didion and John Chamberlain the ruin for Thomas Pynchon and Robert Smithson and the asylum for Ralph Ellison Gordon Parks and Jeff Wall and shows how this site mediates complex interactions among humans and nonhumans The result is an interdisciplinary study of American culture that brings together literature visual art and social theory to develop a new sociology of literature that emphasizes the sociology in literature

Plutocratic Insurgency Reader Robert J. Bunker,2019-07-23 Plutocratic insurgency represents an emerging form of insurgency not seen since the late 19th century Gilded Age It is being conducted by high net worth globalized elites allowing them to remove themselves from public spaces and obligations including taxation and to maximize their ability to generate profits transnationally It utilizes lawyers lobbyists and corruption rather than armed struggle though mercenaries may be employed to create shadow governance in pursuit of plutocratic policy objectives Ultimately this form of insurgency is representative of the challenge of 21st century predatory and sovereign free capitalism to 20th century state moderated capitalism and its ensuing public welfare programs and middle class social structures It can be viewed as a component of Dark Globalization that along with the emergence of criminal insurgency is now actively threatening the public institutions and citizenry of the Westphalian state form This important and groundbreaking Small Wars Journal book is composed of over thirty readings by fifteen contributors
