The Phantom Reflection:

The Phantom Reflection Ann Ashton, 1979-07 The Psychomatrix Doreen M. Francis, 2018-05-08 What is pain What does it mean to have a relationship with it and how does this affect your identity and existence The author's definition of pain is derived from that proposed by scientists such as Melzack Wall and Freud Pain is a dynamic multi layered diverse collection of experiences which impacts and influences us throughout life Pain is a kind of conglomerate of past traumatic neurobiological psychological and emotional imprints pain as in suffering or being in pain The author argues that it is not pain as such but our relationship with pain which is most significant to the processes of our lives In examining the combination of Freud's psychosexual theory of development and Melzack's theory of the neuromatrix the author endeavours to evidence her theory that there is the distinct possibility for the existence of what she has named a Psychomatrix patterns of pain loss abandonment grief rejection desire imprinted from infancy

The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther, 2024-11-26 How the classic mirror test served as a portal for scientists to explore questions of self awareness Since the late eighteenth century scientists have placed subjects humans infants animals and robots in front of mirrors in order to look for signs of self recognition Mirrors served as the possible means for answering the question What makes us human In The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther traces the history of the mirror self recognition test exploring how researchers from a range of disciplines psychoanalysis psychiatry developmental and animal psychology cybernetics anthropology and neuroscience came to read the peculiar behaviors elicited by mirrors Investigating the ways mirrors could lead to both identification and misidentification Guenther looks at how such experiments ultimately failed to determine human specificity The mirror test was thrust into the limelight when Charles Darwin challenged the idea that language sets humans apart Thereafter the mirror previously a recurrent if marginal scientific tool became dominant in attempts to demarcate humans from other animals But because researchers could not rely on language to determine what their nonspeaking subjects were experiencing they had to come up with significant innovations including notation strategies testing protocols and the linking of scientific theories across disciplines From the robotic tortoises of Grey Walter and the mark test of Beulah Amsterdam and Gordon Gallup to anorexia research and mirror neurons the mirror test offers a window into the emergence of such fields as biology psychology psychiatry animal studies cognitive science and neuroscience The Mirror and the Mind offers an intriguing history of experiments in self awareness and the advancements of the human sciences across more than a century

Vocal Apparitions Michal Grover-Friedlander, 2014-12-25 Cinema and opera have become intertwined in a variety of powerful and unusual ways Vocal Apparitions tells the story of this fascinating intersection interprets how it occurred and explores what happens when opera is projected onto the medium of film Michal Grover-Friedlander finds striking affinities between film and opera from Lon Chaney's classic silent film The Phantom of the Opera to the Marx Brothers A Night at the Opera to Fellini's E la nave va One of the guiding questions of this book is what occurs when what is aesthetically essential about one medium is transposed into the aesthetic field of the other For example Grover Friedlander s comparison of an opera by Poulenc and a Rossellini film both based on Cocteau s play The Human Voice shows the relation of the vocal and the visual to be surprisingly affected by the choice of the medium Her analysis of the Marx Brothers A Night at the Opera demonstrates how as a response to opera s infatuation with death cinema comically acts out a correction of opera s fate Grover Friedlander argues that filmed operas such as Zeffirelli s Otello and Friedrich s Falstaff show the impossibility of a direct transformation of the operatic into the cinematic Paradoxically cinema at times can be more operatic than opera itself thus capturing something essential that escapes opera s self understanding A remarkable look at how cinema has been haunted and transformed by opera Vocal Apparitions reveals something original and important about each medium

Mimesis and Its Romantic Reflections Frederick Burwick, 2010-11-01 In Romantic theories of art and literature the notion of mimesis defined as art s reflection of the external world became introspective and self reflexive as poets and artists sought to represent the act of creativity itself Frederick Burwick seeks to elucidate this Romantic aesthetic first by offering an understanding of key Romantic mimetic concepts and then by analyzing manifestations of the mimetic process in literary works of the period Burwick explores the mimetic concepts of art for art s sake Idem et Alter and palingenesis of mind as art by drawing on the theories of Philo of Alexandria Aristotle Immanuel Kant Friedrich Schiller Friederich Wilhelm Joseph von Schelling Thomas De Quincey and Germaine de Sta l Having established the philosophical bases of these key mimetic concepts Burwick analyzes manifestations of mimesis in the literature of the period including ekphrasis in the work of Thomas De Quincey mirrored images in the poems of Samuel Taylor Coleridge and William Wordsworth and the twice told tale in the novels of Charles Brockden Brown E T A Hoffmann and James Hogg Although artists of this period have traditionally been dismissed in discussions of mimesis Burwick demonstrates that mimetic concepts comprised a major component of the Romantic aesthetic impressed and inspired by his insights his optimism his prescience and his humanity These papers are particularly relevant for students of developmental psychology language special education and the history of these fields Becoming

Visionary Eyal Peretz,2008 How is one to think the significance of the art of film for philosophy What would it mean to introduce film as a question into the heart of the philosophical enterprise This book develops a matrix for thinking the relations between philosophy and film and by extension between philosophy and the arts An Anthropological Guide to the Art and Philosophy of Mirror Gazing Maria Danae Koukouti,Lambros Malafouris,2020-09-03 Looking at one s face in the mirror and finding one s self in the mirror are not the same The former capacity is something we share with other animals the latter is a skill something we have to learn What does it mean and what does it take to find oneself the mirror This book provides a comparative anthropological enquiry into the unity and diversity of mirror gazing The reader is encouraged to reflect upon and experiment with different mirror gazes through a range of case studies Koukouti and Malafouris weave together anthropology with philosophy and draw on examples from literature and experiments from psychopathology in a way that has never been attempted before The master metaphor is that of the mirror as trap Mirror gazing is viewed on a par with hunting Mirroring signifies the hunt for self knowledge In a time obsessed with the digital self image Koukouti and Malafouris reflect on the structures of consciousness that underpin the different ways of looking at and through the mirror Combining metaphor comparison and estrangement they gesture towards a therapeutic alliance between body and mirroring This allows us to look in the mirror and think of our shared humanity differently The Mind-brain Continuum Rodolfo Riascos Llinás,Patricia Smith Churchland,1996 Bringing together contributors working on a common problem but addressing different levels of brain organization by way of different techniques The Mind Brain Continuum seeks to determine which scientific questions are most pressing as we move toward discovering the neurobiology of psychological processes As the title implies contributions are organized around the notion that mental activity is brain activity providing a broad integrated view of a particular subset of brain function The focus is on sensory perception processes that include somatosensory auditory and olfactory processes as well as research on vision Being and Nothingness Jean-Paul Sartre,2022-04-28 First published in French in 1943 Jean Paul Sartre s L tre et le N ant is one of the greatest philosophical works of the twentieth century In it Sartre offers nothing less than a brilliant and radical account of the human condition The English philosopher and novelist Iris Murdoch wrote to a friend of the excitement I remember nothing like it since the days of discovering Keats and Shelley and Coleridge This new translation the first for over sixty years makes this classic work of philosophy available to a new generation of readers What gives our lives significance Sartre argues in Being and Nothingness is not pre established for us by God or nature but is something for which we ourselves are responsible At the heart of this view are Sartre s radical conceptions of consciousness and freedom Far from being an internal passive container for our thoughts and experiences human consciousness is constantly projecting itself into the outside world and imbuing it with meaning Combining this with the unsettling view that human existence is characterized by radical freedom and the inescapability of choice Sartre introduces us to a cast of ideas and characters that are part of philosophical legend anguish the bad faith of the memorable waiter in the caf sexual desire and the look of the Other brought to life by Sartre s famous description of someone looking through a keyhole Above all by arguing that we alone create our values and that human relationships are characterized by hopeless conflict Sartre paints a stark and controversial picture of our moral universe and one that resonates strongly today This new translation includes a helpful Translator s Introduction a comprehensive Index and a Foreword by Richard Moran Brian D Young Professor of Philosophy Harvard University USA Translated by Sarah Richmond University College London UK
