The Planetary Interest A New Concept For The Global Age

Michele Schweisfurth, Clive Harber

The Planetary Interest A New Concept For The Global Age:

The Planetary Interest: The vital planetary interest and legitimate global power ,1999 This text argues that the planet and humanity must be considered as a single entity for political decision making and problem solving planetary rather than national interest is introduced as a tool for solving global problems

The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities Kathrin Maurer,2023-10-03 A comprehensive overview of how civilian drones sense the world and how they build the aesthetic imaginaries of our communities Drone technology has garnered critical attention across many fields from engineering to the humanities While the first wave of drone scholarship was key in initiating the debate on drones it also privileged the idea of the scopic regime a militarized regime of hypervisuality in its analyses of the connection between vision and power The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities broadens the drone s spectrum of perception by acknowledging its creative life affirming possibility with the notion of the sensorium The sensorium of the drone is a multimedia synesthetic sensing assemblage in which the human agent is enmeshed with the drone Drone sensoria can sense in many more ways than the scopic regime with sound touch smell temperature and movement In The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities Kathrin Maurer shows how drone sensoria can change our understanding of human communities by constructing imaginaries of social communities based on decentralized and fluid sensing processes Maurer takes an aesthetic approach to technology working with two understandings of aesthetics One understanding refers to aesthetics as a way of experiencing and it explores how the drone human assemblage perceives the world The other refers to aesthetic mimetic representation and focuses on how aesthetic drone imaginaries in literature popular culture visual arts and films negotiate the sensorial technology of the drone Bringing together key ideas in technology studies studies of aerial views visual and aesthetic studies posthuman sensing machine human interaction and communities The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities sheds a welcome and necessary light on this technology s creative potential as well as its dangers and risks

World Regional Geography Concepts Lydia Mihelic Pulsipher,Alex Pulsipher,Conrad M. Goodwin,2009-03-27 The authors of World Regional Geography have answered the need for an exceptionally brief textbook for the evolving world regional course In World Regional Geography Concepts eight major thematic concepts frame the coverage and give students a way of approach the wealth of information in the text Like the Pulsiphers longer text World Regional Geography Concepts emphasizes global trends and the interregional linkages that are changing lives throughout the world humanizes geographical issues by representing the lives of women men and children in various regions of the globe

Reading for the Planet Christian Moraru,2015-11-05 In his new book Christian Moraru argues that post Cold War culture in general and in particular the literature philosophy and theory produced since 9 11 foreground an emergent planetary imaginary a planetarism binding in unprecedented ways the world s peoples traditions and aesthetic practices This imaginary Moraru further contends speaks to a world condition planetarity increasingly exhibited by human expression worldwide Grappling with the symptoms of planetarity in the arts and the human sciences the author insists is a major challenge for today's scholars a challenge Reading for the Planet means to address Thus Moraru takes decisive steps toward a critical methodology a geomethodology for dealing with planetarism's aesthetic and philosophical projections Here Moraru analyzes novels by Joseph O'Neill Mircea Cartarescu Sorj Chalandon Zadie Smith Orhan Pamuk and Dai Sijie among others as demonstration of his paradigm

A Cultural History of the Sea in the Global Age Franziska Torma, 2023-02-09 In 1972 an image became an icon Blue Marble a photograph of the Earth as seen from outer space The picture features prominently the globe's water covered surface The ocean connects nature and culture in the modern world Within the time span of 100 years the sea changed its cultural meaning from a dangerous place to an endangered environment This volume traces diverse processes of oceanic transformation in the Anthropocene it follows scientists seafarers diplomats and filmmakers from ship decks to the arenas of political decision making on land The essays lead from underwater dumping grounds to islands in the south pacific Tiny organisms like plankton and charismatic megafauna like whales accompanied the human voyages The presence of the animals challenges common notions of human culture The global age has to take non human agents into account to fully understand the cultural history of the seas

Regional Security and Global Governance Kennedy Graham, Tânia Felício, 2006 A compelling study of the interaction between regional agencies and the UN Security Council that includes a proposal for a regional global security mechanism which should be of interest to policy makers worldwide This ground breaking exploration into how peace and security might best be attained in the 21st century its central message is the importance of realizing UN Secretary General Kofi Annan's vision of a regional global security mechanism within the next decade The book reviews the historical tussle between universalism and regionalism as the cornerstone of international security over the past century culminating in the new regionalism that has characterised international relations in recent decades The complexities of contemporary regional sub regional and other organizations blessed and burdened with overlapping membership evolving mandates and even shifting focal areas are analysed The multidimensional phenomenon of regional security is explored cultural political and legal with a view to understanding how regional organizations work today This book is one of those rare offerings a policy oriented prescription for peace and security that is based on factual analysis and creative reasoning It is a must for national diplomats regional officials and international civil servants

Education and Global Justice Michele Schweisfurth, Clive Harber, 2014-06-11 Education and Global Justice discusses key themes concerning the relationship between education and global justice in a varied series of highly relevant national contexts Major international issues such as war conflict and peace social justice and injustice multicultural education inclusion privatisation and democracy are explored in relation to the Middle East Colombia South Korea India Uganda and Pakistan An interdisciplinary approach is also taken to explore both the nature of global justice and the possibilities for education for global justice in the future Some of the contents of the book may surprise or even shock readers who like to think that education is inherently and solely a force for good in an unjust world. Instead, in discussing the realities, resistances and challenges facing education for global justice, the contributors show that education can be harmful to individuals and societies while maintaining a hopeful view of education's potential to contribute to greater global social justice. This book was originally published as a special issue of Educational Review. The Planetary Interest Kennedy Graham, 2003-09-02. This text suggests that contemporary political and institutional arrangements for problem solving based on sovereignty as a principle and the nation state as a decision making unit are not equipped to handle such problems and that concepts and methods of decision making are therefore needed to augment existing ones in dealing with the challenges of the 21st century. Kennedy Graham argues that henceforth the planet and humanity must be considered as a single entity for decision making purposes. He introduces and develops the idea of the planetary interest as a vital conceptual tool to assist citizens and policy makers in understanding emerging global problems and approaching them with global solutions. The book includes contributions from 20 current or former politicians who discuss the particular global problems threatening their countries, looking at the ways in which the planetary interest can help them pursue a legitimate national interest. Climate Leviathan Joel Wainwright, Geoff Mann, 2018-02-13. Winner of the 2019 Sussex International Theory Prize. Despite the science and the summits, leading capitalist states have not achieved anything close to an adequate level of carbon mitigation. There is now simply no way to prevent the planet breaching the threshold of two degrees Celsius set by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. What are the likely political and economic outcomes of this? Where is the overheating world heading? To further the struggle for climate justice, we need to have some idea how the existing global order is likely to adjust to a rapidly changing environment. Climate Leviathan provides a radical way of thinking about the intensifying challenges to the global order. Drawing on a wide range of political thought, Joel Wainwright and Geoff Mann argue that rapid climate change will transform the world's political economy and the fundamental political arrangements most people take for granted. The result will be a capitalist planetary sovereignty, a terrifying eventuality that makes the construction of viable radical alternatives truly imperative. Luc Reyhler: A Pioneer in Sustainable Peacebuilding Architecture Luc Reyhler, Arnim Langer, 2020-05-07. This book provides a unique personal perspective on the field of peace research. It not only highlights Luc Reyhler's significant contributions to the theory and praxis of sustainable peacebuilding but also offers important reflections on the evolution of peace research as an independent discipline. The central concept of this book and of Reyhler's academic career for that matter is sustainable peacebuilding architecture. Reyhler introduced this concept in order to draw attention to the architectural principles and considerations that have to be addressed in sustainable peacebuilding processes. Reyhler's work on sustainable peacebuilding architecture has been groundbreaking and has not lost any of its relevance in the twenty-first century. By bringing together Reyhler's seminal texts on sustainable peacebuilding architecture, the current book aims to offer academics, students and policymakers an essential guide to understanding studying and applying this crucial concept Provides a unique personal view of the development of peace research Lists the necessary building blocks for sustainable peacebuilding Offers tools for monitoring and evaluating interventions Discusses the scientific nature and often provocative findings of peace research Discusses ten lessons learned and the future Peace Research III
