The Jinn Demons:

Ibn Taymeeyah's Essay on the Jinn (demons) Ibn Taymeeyah, 1989 Analysis of the 13th century essay arguing for the reality of demons and demonic possession The World of Angels Malaikah & Demon Jinn in Islam Religion Muhammad Vandestra, 2017-09-14 In common folklore angels or malaikah are thought of as good forces of nature hologram images or illusions Western iconography sometimes depicts angels as fat cherubic babies or handsome young men or women with a halo surrounding their head In Islamic doctrine they are real created beings who will eventually suffer death but are generally hidden from our senses They are not divine or semi divine and they are not God's associates running different districts of the universe Also they are not objects to be worshipped or prayed to as they do not deliver our prayers to God They all submit to God and carry out His commands In the Islamic worldview there are no fallen angels they are not divided into good and evil angels Human beings do not become angels after death Satan is not a fallen angel but is one of the jinn demon a creation of God parallel to human beings and angels Angels were created from light before human beings were created and thus their graphic or symbolic representation in Islamic art is rare Nevertheless they are generally beautiful beings with wings as described in Muslim scripture The Arabic word Jinn is from the verb Janna and means to hide or conceal The Jinn or Demon are so called because they conceal themselves from people's sight The words janneen fetus and mijann shield come from the same root Jinn or demon as the name suggests are normally invisible to humans The jinn are part of God's creation They were created from fire before the creation of Adam and humankind And indeed We created man from dried sounding clay of altered mud And the jinn Demon We created aforetime from the smokeless flame of fire Quran 15 26 27 According to the traditions of Prophet Muhammad the angels were created from light the jinn from fire and humankind from what has been described to you meaning clay God created the angels jinn and humankind for no other purpose than to worship Him I did not create the Jinn and mankind except to worship Me Quran 51 56 Jinn exist in our world but they live on their own Jinn have their own distinct nature and features and they generally remain hidden from humankind Jinn and humans do have some common traits the most important of which is free will and with it the ability to choose between good and evil right and wrong The jinn eat and drink they marry have children and die Risālat Ibn-Taimīya Fi 'l-ğinn Aḥmad Ibn-ʿAbd-al-Ḥalīm Ibn-Taimīya, 2007 The World of Jinn (Demon) & Sorcery in Islam Faith Muham Sakura Dragon, 2016-03-19 Throughout history humankind has been attracted to the supernatural Spirits ghosts and many other strange creatures have filled our minds and captured our imaginations Strange and beguiling spectres have at times lead people to commit the greatest of all sins Shirk So are these spirits real Are they more than just figments of our imagination or shadows moulded from smoke and illusion Well according to Muslims they are very real Spirits ghosts banshees poltergeists and phantoms can all be explained when one understands the Islamic concept of spirits the world of the Jinn Demon The Arabic word Jinn is from the verb Janna and means to hide or conceal The Jinn are so called because they conceal themselves from people's sight. The words janeen, foetus and mijann (shield) come from the same root. Jinn, as the name suggests, are normally invisible to humans. The jinn are part of God's creation. They were created from fire before the creation of Adam and humankind. According to the traditions of Prophet Muhammad, the angels were created from light, the jinn from fire, and humankind from what has been described to you, meaning clay. God created the angels, jinn, and humankind for no other purpose than to worship Him. I did not create the jinn and mankind except to worship Me. Quran 51:56. Jinn exist in our world, but they live on their own. Jinn have their own distinct nature and features, and they generally remain hidden from humankind. Jinn and humans do have some common traits, the most important of which is free will, and with it, the ability to choose between good and evil, right and wrong. The jinn eat and drink, they marry, have children, and die. Islamic scholar Ibn Abd al Barr said the jinn have several names and are of various types. In general, they are called jinn. A jinn who lives among people, a haunter or dweller, is called Aamir, and if it is the type of jinn that attaches itself to a child, it is called Arwaah. An evil jinn is often called Shaytaan (devil). When they are more than evil, demonic, they are called Maarid, and the most evil and strong jinn are called Ifreet (plural afaareet). In the traditions of Prophet Muhammad, the jinn are divided into three classes: those who have wings and fly in the air, those who resemble snakes and dogs, and those who travel about endlessly. Among the jinn are those who believe in God and the message of all the Prophets of God, and there are those who do not. There are also those who will abandon their evil ways and become true believers, faithful, and patient. Ibn Taymeeyah's Essay on the Jinn \(demons\) Ahmad ibn 'Abd al-Halim Ibn Taymiyah, 2003. The Demons \(the Jinn\) Razzab Shaikh, 2014-10-30. Arabian spirits, perhaps animistic but more probably strictly mythological, like the Persian divs. The jinn were said to have been created out of fire and to have occupied the Earth for several thousand years before Adam. They were perverse and would not reform, although prophets were sent to reclaim them; they were eventually driven from the Earth and took refuge in the outlying islands of the sea. One of the number, named Azazeel, afterward called Iblees, was carried off as a prisoner by angels. He grew up among them and became their chief, but when he refused to prostrate himself before Adam, he was degraded to the condition of a shaytan (devil) and became the father of the shaytans. The jinn are not immortal, and according to legend, are destined ultimately to die. They eat and drink, and propagate their species; live in communities and are ruled over by princes. They can make themselves visible or invisible, and they assume the forms of various animals, such as serpents, cats, and dogs. There are good jinn and bad jinn. They are said to frequent baths, wells, latrines, ovens, ruined houses, rivers, crossroads, and marketplaces. Like the demons of Jewish traditions, they ascend to heaven and learn the future by eavesdropping. With all their power and knowledge, however, they are liable to be reduced to obedience by means of talismans or occult arts, and become obsequious servants until the spell is broken. It is far from certain that the jinn of the East were derived from the mythology or philosophy of the West, and the practice of translating the Arabic word jinn by the Latin term genius arose more from an apparent resemblance in the names than from any identity in the nature and functions of those imaginary beings.

This similarity of name however must have been purely accidental for the Arabs knew little or nothing of the Latin language Demon not genius is the word they probably would have used if they had borrowed this part of their creed from the West Jinn appears moreover to be a genuine Arabic word derived from a root signifying to veil or to conceal it therefore means properly that which is veiled and cannot be seen In one sense states Fr s b d C m s vol 3 p 611 the word Jinn signifies any spiritual being concealed from all our senses and for that reason the converse of a material being Taken in this extensive sense the word Jinn comprehends devils as well as angels but there are some properties common to both angels and Jinn some peculiar to each Every angel is a Jinn but every Jinn is not an angel In another sense this term is applied peculiarly to a particular kind of spiritual being for such beings are of three kinds the good which are angels the bad devils and the intermediate comprehending both good and bad who form the class of Jinn Thus Arabs acknowledged good and bad jinn in that respect agreeing with the Greeks but differing from the Persians The genii so long familiar to European readers through the Arabian Nights are not the same beings but rather are the divs and d vat s of Indian romance dressed up in a foreign attire to please the tastes of readers in Persia and Arabia The principal differences therefore between the genii of the West and the jinn of the East seem to have been as follows the genii were deities of an inferior rank the constant companions and guardians of men capable of giving useful or prophetic impulses acting as mediators and messengers between the gods and men Some were supposed to be friendly others hostile and many believed one of each kind was attached from birth to every mortal The former was called Agathodemon the latter Cacodemon The good genius prompted men to good the evil to bad actions That of each individual was as a shadow of himself Often the genius was represented as a serpent His age also varied He was generally crowned with a chaplet of plane tree leaves His sacrifices were wholly bloodless Ibn Taymiyah's Essay on
