Technical Manual United States. War Department, Natural Object Recognition Thomas M. Strat, 2012-12-06
Natural Object Recognition presents a totally new approach to the automation of scene understanding Rather than attempting to construct highly specialized algorithms for recognizing physical objects as is customary in modern computer vision research the application and subsequent evaluation of large numbers of relatively straightforward image processing routines is used to recognize natural features such as trees bushes and rocks The use of contextual information is the key to simplifying the problem to the extent that well understood algorithms give reliable results in ground level outdoor scenes

New Approaches to Chinese Word Formation Jerome Lee Packward, 1997 TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by approaching language from an interdisciplinary perspective TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the design of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing
