The Invisible Line An Introduction To Land Reform Land Ten:

The Invisible Line Henri A.L. Dekker, 2017-03-02 During the past two decades there has been a resurgence of interest in issues of land reform in developing and transitional countries This has been initiated by the large scale re distributive activities in former communist countries and by the growing number of claims by displaced indigenous population groups to restore their rights to land This book provides a timely and clear overview of the historical and theoretical context of current land reform and tenure issues Illustrated with global case studies from Europe Asia Africa and Latin America key sections explore land and rights to land property land tenure and reform and land registration Beginning by discussing the need to demarcate space by creating invisible lines which give certainty to what extent authority over land can be established the book then explores legal and theoretical definitions of land and property and looks at the various different policies and forms of land tenure One of the most recent developments in land reform policy has been to look to traditional forms of access to land and of resource conservation The book argues that while such policies on land property rights have great potential they are best being adopted in a long term incremental way It also shows how land policy reforms must be embedded in institutional and general policy reforms complemented by rural development and educational opportunities for beneficiaries The book summarises the main principles of land reform activities and practices and argues that the perception of land tenure security is the most critical factor of success to land reform

Zionism and Land Tenure in Mandate Palestine
Aida Essaid, 2013-12-04 A fundamental aspect of the conflict between Palestinians and Israelis is the territorial dispute which began long before the State of Israel was established Analysing the land tenure system in Palestine under the administration of the British Mandate this book questions whether and to what extent the land tenure system in Palestine facilitated Zionist land acquisition The research uses benchmarks elaborated in the guidelines of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme as its analytical starting point and looks at the formation and implementation of the land tenure system in Palestine It goes on to place the penetration of Zionism into the land tenure system within the theoretical context of a colonial settler framework employing information from land registry records located at the Jordanian Department of Lands Providing a political historical analysis of the land tenure system from the end of Ottoman Rule until the end of the British Mandate this book will be of interest to scholars and students of Middle Eastern History Imperial and Colonial History and Middle Eastern Politics
