Canada's Jews Gerald Tulchinsky, 2008-05-24 The history of the Jewish community in Canada says as much about the development of the nation as it does about the Jewish people Spurred on by upheavals in Eastern Europe in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries many Jews emigrated to the Dominion of Canada which was then considered little more than a British satellite state Over the ensuing decades as the Canadian Jewish identity was forged Canada itself underwent the transformative experience of separating itself from Britain and distinguishing itself from the United States In this light the Canadian Jewish identity was formulated within the parameters of the emerging Canadian national personality Canada's Jews is an account of this remarkable story as told by one of the leading authors and historians on the Jewish legacy in Canada Drawing on his previous work on the subject Gerald Tulchinsky illuminates the struggle against anti-Semitism and the search for a livelihood amongst the Jewish community He demonstrates that far from being a fragment of the Old World the Canadian Jewry grew from a tiny group of transplanted Europeans to a fully articulated diversified and dynamic national group that defined itself as Canadian while expressing itself in the varied political and social contexts of the Dominion Canada's Jews covers the 240 year period from the beginnings of the Jewish community in the 1760s to the present day illuminating the golden chain of Jewish tradition religion language economy and history as established and renewed in the northern lands With important points about labour immigration and anti-Semitism it is a timely book that offers sober observations about the Jewish experience and its relation to Canadian history

Isaac Landman, 1940 Twentieth Century Land Settlement Schemes Roy Jones, Alexandre M.A. Diniz, 2018-10-17 Land settlement schemes sponsored by national governments and businesses such as the Ford Corporation and the Hudson's Bay Company took place in locations as diverse as the Canadian Prairies the Dutch polders and the Amazonian rainforests This novel contribution evaluates a diverse range of these initiatives By 1900 any land that remained available for agricultural settlement was often far from the settlers' homes and located in challenging physical environments Over the course of the twentieth century governments corporations and frequently desperate individuals sought out new places to settle across the globe from Alberta to Papua New Guinea This book offers vivid reports of the difficulties faced by many of these settlers including the experiences of East European Jewish refugees New Zealand soldier settlers and urban families from Yorkshire This book considers how and why these settlement schemes succeeded found other pathways to sustainability or succumbed to failure and even oblivion In doing so the book indicates pathways for the achievement of more economically socially and environmentally sustainable forms of human settlement in marginal areas This engaging collection will be of interest to individuals in the fields of historical geography environmental history and development studies

The Agricultural Activities of the Jews in America Leonard George Robinson,1912 New Canada and the New Canadians Howard Angus Kennedy,1907 The English Language in
