The Breaker Library Edition:

Horror and Mystery Photoplay Editions and Magazine Fictionizations Thomas Mann, 2024-10-11 Photoplay editions were usually hardcover reprints of novels that had been made into movies illustrated with photographs from the film productions. Sometimes instead they were fictionized versions of film scripts rewritten in narrative form. Here is an annotated checklist of more than 500 horror and mystery photoplay novels and magazine fictionizations collected over a period of four decades. Photo illustrated stories that are not strictly in the horror or mystery genres are included if they are linked to films with such stars as Lon Chaney, Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi, or other genre figures. Mysteries are generally defined as novels or stories featuring a detective as the central character, although in some cases melodramas, thrillers, and film noir books having crime as a plot element are included. Science fiction and fantasy works and others having outre aspects are also within scope. With a few exceptions, the cut off date for inclusion in the catalog is the year 1970. In an entertaining introductory essay, the author reflects on the attractions of assembling such a collection, analyzes aspects of the social significance and aesthetic content of its books, and draws many surprising inferences from their advertisements, illustrations, and marks of previous ownership. The subsequent catalog is the first survey in the field to extend bibliographical coverage beyond books to movie tie-in magazine stories. Included in an appendix is the complete text of The Gorilla, a short story version of a lost First National Film, reprinted from a rare issue of Moving Picture Stories from 1927. The Congregationalist, 1892 The Bookseller, 1920 The Publishers Weekly, 1888 The American Magazine, 1887 More Than Just War Charles A. Jones, 2013. This book raises questions about the just war tradition through a critical examination of its revival and by juxtaposing it with a literary phenomenology of war. Recent public debate about war has leaned heavily on a just war tradition dating back many centuries. This book examines the recent revival of that tradition in the United States and Britain, arguing that it is less coherent and comprehensive as an approach to the ethical issues arising from war than is generally supposed, and that it is inconsistent in important ways with the theology on which it was originally based. A second line of criticism is mounted through close readings of modern texts in English from Britain, Australia, and the USA that together constitute a more subjective bottom-up understanding of the moral dilemmas of military life. In this second tradition, the task of representing war is seen as more problematic and its rationality more questionable than in just war discourse. Works by William Shakespeare, Sir Walter Scott, James Fenimore Cooper, Stephen Crane, John Buchan, Robert Louis Stevenson, Joseph Conrad, Tim O'Brien, and Kurt Vonnegut are featured. The book will be of great interest to students and scholars of security studies, military studies, theology, and international relations. The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1891 The Literary World, 1893 New Masses, 1926 Round Table, 1868
