The Brakhage lectures Stan Brakhage, 2010-01-13 Je vais vous mentir comme le font les camelots Je vais vous raconter une histoire dans le but de dévoiler la vérité Mon histoire est bien évidemment basée sur des faits Cependant il est vrai qu'un fait touchant un monde inconnu ne peut être que fabriqué Je vais par conséquent produire une fiction en fait The Brakhage

Stan Brakhage Marco Lori, Esther Leslie, 2018 Essays on the work of this iconic experimental filmmaker from a variety of scholars Stan Brakhage's body of work counts as one of the most important within post-war avant-garde cinema and yet it has rarely been given the attention it deserves Over the years though diverse and original reflections have developed distancing his figure little by little from critical categories This collection of newly commissioned essays plus some important reprinted work queries some of the consensus on Brakhage's films In particular many of these essays revolve around the controversial issues of representation and perception This project sets out from the assumption that Brakhage's art is articulated primarily through opposing tensions which donate his figure and films an extraordinary depth even as they evince fleetingness elusivity and paradoxicality This collection aims not only to clarify aspects of Brakhage's art but also to show how his work is involved in a constant mediation between antinomies and opposites At the same time his art presents a multifaceted object endlessly posing new questions to the viewer for which no point of entry or perspective is preferred in respect to the others Acknowledging this this volume hopes that the experience of his films will be revitalized Featuring topics as diverse as the technical and semantic ambiguity of blacks the fissures in mimetic representation of the it within the itself of an image the film maker as practical psychologist through cognitive theories the critique of ocular centrism by mingling sight with other senses such as touch films that can actually philosophize in a Wittgensteinian way political guilt and collusion in aesthetic forms a disjunctive reflexive and phenomenological temporality realizing Deleuze's image time and the echoes of Ezra Pound and pneumophantasmology in the quest of art as spiritual revelation this book not only addresses scholars but also is a thorough and thought provoking introduction for the uninitiated Contributors include Nicky Hamlyn Peter Mudie Paul Taberham Gareth Evans Rebecca A Sheehan Christina Chalmers Stephen Mooney and Marco Lori

Avant-Garde Film, 2015-07-14 This volume on avant garde film has emerged as part of a wider reassessment of 20th century avant garde art literature and film carried out in the framework of a research project at the University of Edinburgh It paves the way for a fresh assessment of avant garde film and develops its theory as an integral part of a newly defined conception of the avant garde as a whole by closing the gap between theoretical approaches towards the avant garde as defined on the basis of art and literature on the one hand and avant garde cinema on the other It gathers contributions by the most esteemed scholars in the field of avant garde studies relating to the classical avant garde cinema of the 1920s to new trends emerging in the 1950s and 1960s and to the impact that innovative technologies have recently had on the further development of avant garde and experimental film The contributions reflect the broad range of different moving image media that make up what we refer to today simply as film at the same time as reconsidering the applicability of the label avant garde to offer a comprehensive and updated framework that will prove invaluable to scholars of both Moving Image Studies and Art History disciplines

Hollis Frampton Michael Zryd, 2023-05-09 Hollis Frampton was an American filmmaker photographer and theorist who bridged the experimental film and contemporary art worlds in the 1960s and 1970s Best known for avant garde films including Zorns Lemma 1970 and nostalgia 1971 Frampton spent his later years working on the unfinished epic Magellan a monumental cycle that used the metaphor of Ferdinand Magellan's circumnavigation of the world to rethink the natures and meanings of history modernity and cinema Frampton's career was cut short by cancer at age 48 with his vast ambitions for the project left incomplete This book is a groundbreaking and comprehensive account of this remarkable figure's work in its totality from Frampton's earliest films through Magellan Michael Zryd explores the connections linking Frampton's art and thought to other media forms histories and cultural frameworks He foregrounds Frampton's notion of the infinite cinema which redefined the parameters of the medium to encompass all forms of moving image and sound media across the past and future of cinematic possibility Zryd analyzes Frampton's ambivalent relationship with modernism and the Enlightenment showing how the artist navigated between attraction to radical artistic investigation and awareness of this tradition's implication in colonialism and other oppressive power structures Shedding new light on Frampton's project of exploring and critiquing how cinema attempts to capture and understand the world this book also considers his significance for contemporary art

Avant Garde Film Alexander Graf, Dietrich Scheunemann, 2007 This volume on avant garde film has emerged as part of a wider reassessment of 20th century avant garde art literature and film carried out in the framework of a research project at the University of Edinburgh It paves the way for a fresh assessment of avant garde film and develops its theory as an integral part of a newly defined conception of the avant garde as a whole by closing the gap between theoretical approaches towards the avant garde as defined on the basis of art and literature on the one hand and avant garde cinema on the other. It gathers contributions by the most esteemed scholars in the field of avant garde studies relating to the classical avant garde cinema of the 1920s to new trends emerging in the 1950s and 1960s and to the impact that innovative technologies have recently had on the further development of avant garde and experimental film. The contributions reflect the broad range of different moving image media that make up what we refer to today simply as film at the same time as reconsidering the applicability of the label avant garde to offer a comprehensive and updated framework that will prove invaluable to scholars of both Moving Image Studies and Art History disciplines. Becoming Film Literate Vincent LoBrutto, 2005-03-30 Though movies have remained our foremost cultural pastime for over 100 years many of us still know very little about the tools used to create them. Thus did one Vaudeville theater manager describe Georges Méliès' A Trip to the Moon (Le Voyage dans la lune) after it was screened for enthusiastic audiences in October 1902. Cinema's first true blockbuster A Trip to the Moon still inspires such superlatives and continues to be widely viewed on DVD on the Internet and in countless film courses. In Fantastic Voyages of the Cinematic Imagination leading film scholars examine Méliès' landmark film in detail demonstrating its many crucial connections to literature popular culture and visual culture of the time as well as its long afterlife in more recent films television and music videos Together these essays make clear that M li s was not only a major filmmaker but also a key figure in the emergence of modern spectacle and the birth of the modern cinematic imagination and by bringing interdisciplinary methodologies of early cinema studies to bear on A Trip to the Moon the contributors also open up much larger questions about aesthetics media and modernity In his introduction Matthew Solomon traces the convoluted provenance of the film s multiple versions and its key place in the historiography of cinema and an appendix contains a useful dossier of primary source documents that contextualize the film s production along with translations of two major articles written by M li s himself
