The Buddhist Revival In China:

The Buddhist Revival in China Holmes Welch, 1968 Building the Buddhist Revival Gregory Adam Scott, 2020-02-28

Between 1850 and 1966 tens of thousands of Buddhist sacred sites in China were destroyed victims of targeted destruction accidental damage or simply neglect During the same period however many of these sites were reconstructed a process that involved both rebuilding material structures and reviving religious communities The conventionally accepted narrative of Chinese Buddhism during the modern era is that it underwent a revival initiated by innovative monastics and laypersons leaders who reinvented Buddhist traditions to meet the challenges of modernity Gregory Adam Scott shows however that over time it became increasingly difficult for reconstruction leaders to resist the interests of state actors who sought to refashion monastery sites as cultural monuments rather than as living religious communities These sites were then intended to serve as symbols of Chinese history and cultural heritage while their function as a frame for religious life was increasingly pushed aside As a result the power to determine whether and how a monastery would be reconstructed and the types of activities that would be reinstated or newly introduced began to shift from religious leaders and communities to state agencies that had a radically different set of motivations and values Building the Buddhist Revival explores the history of Chinese Buddhist monastery reconstruction from the end of the Imperial period through the first seventeen years of the People's Republic Over this century of history the nature and significance of reconstructing Buddhist monasteries changes drastically mirroring broader changes in Chinese society Yet this book argues that change has always been in the nature of religious communities such as Buddhist monasteries and that reconstruction rather than a return to the past represents innovative and adaptive change In this way it helps us understand the broader significance of the Buddhist revival in China during this era as a creative reconstruction of religion upon longstanding foundations The Buddhist Revival in China

Holmes Welch, 1968 The Buddhist Revival in China Holmes Hinckley WELCH, 1968 Tibetan Buddhists in the Making of Modern China Gray Tuttle, 2005-04-26 Over the past century and with varying degrees of success China has tried to integrate Tibet into the modern Chinese nation state In this groundbreaking work Gray Tuttle reveals the surprising role Buddhism and Buddhist leaders played in the development of the modern Chinese state and in fostering relations between Tibet and China from the Republican period 1912 1949 to the early years of Communist rule Beyond exploring interactions between Buddhists and politicians in Tibet and China Tuttle offers new insights on the impact of modern ideas of nationalism race and religion in East Asia After the fall of the Qing dynasty in 1911 the Chinese Nationalists without the traditional religious authority of the Manchu Emperor promoted nationalism and racial unity in an effort to win support among Tibetans Once this failed Chinese politicians appealed to a shared Buddhist heritage This shift in policy reflected the late nineteenth century academic notion of Buddhism as a unified world religion rather than a set of competing and diverse Asian religious practices While Chinese politicians hoped to gain Tibetan loyalty through religion the promotion of a shared

Buddhist heritage allowed Chinese Buddhists and Tibetan political and religious leaders to pursue their goals During the 1930s and 1940s Tibetan Buddhist ideas and teachers enjoyed tremendous popularity within a broad spectrum of Chinese society and especially among marginalized Chinese Buddhists Even when relationships between the elite leadership between the two nations broke down religious and cultural connections remained strong After the Communists seized control they continued to exploit this link when exerting control over Tibet by force in the 1950s And despite being an avowedly atheist regime with the exception of the Cultural Revolution the Chinese communist government has continued to recognize and support many elements of Tibetan religious if not political culture Tuttle s study explores the role of Buddhism in the formation of modern China and its relationship to Tibet through the lives of Tibetan and Chinese Buddhists and politicians and by drawing on previously unexamined archival and governmental materials as well as personal memoirs of Chinese politicians and Buddhist monks and ephemera from religious ceremonies

Toward a Modern Chinese Buddhism Don Alvin Pittman,2001-01-01 The Venerable Master Taixu 1890 1947 is the most important and controversial Chinese Buddhist reformer of the 20th century This work focuses on his teachings and provides an interpretation of Taixu s aims and the diverse controversies that surrounded him The Pilgrimage of Buddhism and a Buddhist Pilgrimage James Bissett Pratt,1928

The Future of China's Past Albert Welter,2023-01-01 The Future of China s Past examines how China s traditional culture is being reinvented and manipulated for political purposes Like no time before in its recent history and certainly at no time in the history of the People s Republic China is being shaped in terms of its past but which past Confucianism Legalism Daoism Buddhism or combination of pasts is being held up as the model Given its growing economic political and cultural significance it is incumbent upon us to take China s rise seriously yet perspectives involving modern and contemporary geopolitical and intrastate dynamics are insufficient on their own for understanding China s rise and the same holds true for economic analyses however pertinent Instead this book looks at current engagements with models of China s past introducing the four traditional lenses of Chinese thought and reflecting on their potential relevance for China s and the world s future

The Buddhist Revival in Post-Mao China Wen-jie Qin,2000 The Buddhist Annual of Ceylon ,1923 State of the Field and Disciplinary Approaches André Laliberté,Stefania Travagnin,2019-08-05 The three volume project Concepts and Methods for the Study of Chinese Religions presents a history of the study of Chinese religions. It evaluates the current state of scholarship, discusses a variety of analytical approaches and theories about methodology, epistemology, and the ontology of the field. The three books display an interdisciplinary approach and offer debates that transcend national traditions. It engages with a variety of methodologies for the study of East Asian religions and promotes dialogues with Western and Chinese voices. This volume covers successive historical stages in the study of religion in modern China, draws out the genealogy of major figures and intellectual achievements in a variety of research traditions, and highlights as well the challenges and evolutions experienced by the main disciplines in the last 30 years. This volume serves as a reference for graduate students and scholars interested by religions in modern Chinese societies, i.e. mainland China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and Chinese communities overseas. Using a wide range of methods from textual analysis to fieldwork, it presents case studies via the disciplines of religious studies, anthropology, sociology, history, and political science.

Modernity and Re-enchantment Philip Taylor, 2003-08-01. The richness and vibrancy of Vietnamese spirituality are vividly portrayed in these twelve essays that shed light on the remarkable renaissance of religion in this communist country. Ancestor worship, mediums, sacrifices, and communal rituals have not only survived Vietnam's reintegration into the capitalist world; they are intrinsic to the dramatic reshaping of its contemporary social and cultural life. Transnational Buddhism and Christianity challenge the political status quo as they answer conflicting aspirations for enlightenment, justice, national development, and cultural identity. Making conceptual contributions to anthropology and comparative religion, this book provides insights from post-revolutionary Vietnam into the diverse passages to re-enchantment in the modern world.

The Revival of Buddhist Monasticism in Medieval China Huaiyu Chen, 2007. Original Scholarly Monograph. The Buddhist Revival in Post-Mao China, 2000. A Tale of Two Stūpas Albert Welter, 2022. In A Tale of Two Stūpas, Albert Welter tells the story of Hangzhou Buddhism through the conceptions, erections, and resurrections of Yongming Stupa, dedicated to the memory of one of Hangzhou's leading Buddhist figures, and Leifeng Pagoda, built to house stupa relics of the historical Buddha. China's Real Revolution Paul Hutchinson, 1924. Readings of the Gateless Barrier Jimmy Yu, 2025-01-07. The Gateless Barrier is one of the most cherished yet also one of the most enigmatic Chan or Zen texts of East Asian Buddhism. Compiled by the Chinese Chan master Wumen Huikai in 1228, it contains forty-eight Zen stories of spiritual awakening called public cases or gong'an, known as k'an in Japanese and kong'an in Korean. This book presents a new English translation with close readings and creative analyses of the Gateless Barrier from both scholarly and practitioner perspectives, allowing a range of readers to venture into the rich world of Chan and Zen. Specialist contributors offer insights on historical context, literary structure, philosophical implications, and gendered dimensions, as well as the embodied practice and contemporary experience of the stories in the Gateless Barrier. By bringing together academic expertise with experiential insight from Zen teachers, this book provides a grounded and nuanced account of how the Gateless Barrier has been and continues to be practiced and lived in China Korea Japan and the West An innovative and sophisticated study this book is ideal for university classroom use and it also makes the Gateless Barrier accessible to other first time readers Buddhist practitioners and scholars The Missionary Review of the World ,1926 The Missionary Review ,1905
