David Milward, Charles Ferguson

The Canadian Criminal Justice System:

The Canadian Criminal Justice System Nick Larsen, 1995 The administration of justice is an area of social policy that defies attempts to achieve a balance between order and the protection of the public and respect for individual rights The media contain daily accounts of the failure of the criminal justice system to repress crime It is within this social and legal context that this work is situated In addition to including a range of articles in the standard areas of policing courts and corrections recent articles deal with such controversial issues as aboriginal justice the recruitment of visible minorities by Canadian police forces and the role of women in the Canadian criminal justice system The collection concludes with a critical assessment of the retributive model that currently serves as the philosophical underpinnings of the Canadian criminal justice system

DeKeseredy, 2000 Covering the subject of crime committed by women and girls in Canada this introductory text examines the nature and extent of female crime and provides an overview of theories explaining it as well as the Canadian justice system's response to it Special attention is given to the relationship between women's victimization and their subsequent offending as well as the role of the media in shaping public perceptions of the crime problem The final chapter considers new approaches to the control and prevention of female crime in Canada Each chapter includes discussion questions problem solving scenarios and a selection of suggested readings The Canadian Criminal Justice System Subhas Ramcharan, Thomas Fleming, Willem De Lint, 2001 Unsettling Colonialism in the Canadian Criminal Justice System Vicki Chartrand, Josephine Savarese, 2023-12-08 Canada's criminal justice system reinforces dominant relations of power and further entrenches the country in its colonial past Through the mechanisms of surveillance segregation and containment the criminal justice system ensures that Indigenous peoples remain in a state of economic deprivation social isolation and political subjection By examining the ways in which the Canadian justice system continues to sanction overtly discriminatory and racist practices the authors in this collection demonstrate clearly how historical patterns of privilege and domination are extended and reinforced

The Canadian Criminal Justice System Craig L. Boydell, Ingrid Arnet Connidis, 1982 Understanding the Canadian Criminal Justice System Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics. Integration and Analysis Program, 1993 A Reporter's Guide to Canada's Criminal Justice System Harold J. Levy, Canadian Bar Foundation, 1986 The Art of Science in the Canadian Justice System David Milward, Charles Ferguson, 2017-04-07 Part autobiography part thought piece part references the book takes an insightful look at the experience and cases of renowned paediatrician and forensic expert witness Dr Charles Ferguson The book presents the interaction of science and law as it applies specifically the Canadian courts but the justice process as a whole Dr Ferguson's experience from a scientist and medical professional's perspective in dealing with lawyers, judges and the process of testifying in numerous court offers a unique glimpse into how the two worlds of science and law don't always mesh. In some cases the evidence is compelling and definitive. In others far from it. Ultimately the book presents the important role of the forensic expert and expert witness as a vital and deciding factor as the courtroom proceedings play out. The cases presented in the book cases Dr Ferguson was personally involved with are interesting, the conclusions and results arrived at by Dr Ferguson are well thought out and backed by his scientific expertise. The results and conclusions arrived at by the courts is often expected, sometimes surprising in specific cases even controversial. Throughout all Dr Ferguson casts an independent and sometimes critical eye on the process, presenting a compelling argument and heartfelt recommendation for science, objectivity and justice to be served based on truth, truth insofar as the facts of the cases presented through evidence and the testimony provided within the judicial process. A fascinating read for university students, experts and witnesses, lawyers and judges and anyone involved in the forensic process in the trying of criminal and civil cases.
