An Evening of Long Goodbyes Paul Murray,2007-12-18 Vastly entertaining and outright hilarious Paul Murray's debut heralds the arrival of a major new Irish talent His protagonist is endearing and wildly witty

part P G Wodehouse's Bertie Wooster with a cantankerous dash of A Confederacy of Dunces Ignatius J Reilly thrown in With its rollicking plot and colorful characters An Evening of Long Goodbyes is a delightful and erudite comedy of epic proportions Charles Hythloday observes the world from the comfortable confines of Amaurot his family estate and doesn't much care for what he sees He prefers the black and white sanctum of classic cinema especially anything starring the beautiful Gene Tierney to the roiling and rumbling of twenty first century Dublin At twenty four Charles aims to resurrect the lost lifestyle of the aristocratic country gentleman contemplative walks an ever replenished drink and afternoons filled with canapés as prepared by the Bosnian housekeeper Mrs P But Charles's cozy existence is about to face a serious shake up His sister Bel an aspiring actress and hopeless romantic has brought to Amaurot her most recent and to Charles's mind most ill advised boyfriend Frank is hulking and round and resembles nothing so much as a large dresser probably a Swedish one He bets on greyhounds and talks endlessly of brawls and pubs in an accent that brings tears to Charles's eyes And most suspiciously his entrance into the Hythlodays lives just happens to coincide with the disappearance of an ever increasing number of household antiques and baubles Soon Charles and Bel discover that missing heirlooms are the least of their worries they are simply not as rich as they have always believed With the family fortune teetering in the balance Charles must do something he swore he would never do get a job Booted into the mean streets of Dublin he is as unprepared for real life as Frank would be for a cotillion And it turns out that real life is a tad unprepared for Charles as well
