Small Nonprofits: Strategies for Fundraising Success Mary Louise Mussoline, 1998-12-14 As advocates for the poor builders of community and guardians of the environment small organizations are big players in the work of the not for profit world This volume of New Directions for Philanthropic Fundraising was written to help people within these small organizations approach fundraising in the same way they approach their programs with pride determination and passion The authors consider areas of special importance for small organizations diversity of income sources strength of the board of directors involvement of diverse constituencies in fundraising issues that all small nonprofits face today They also discuss more focused topics important to small organizations such as the conversion of special events donors to annual fund donors and the important human aspects of working with volunteers This is the 20th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Philanthropic Fundraising THOUGHTFUL FUNDRAISING, MORDAUNT Jill Mourdaunt, Rob Paton, 2013-10-31 Comprehensive and edited by leading names this book takes a critical and discursive approach to the various forms and contexts of fundraising Fundraising is a maturing profession but one that is becoming increasingly controversial Media reports of poor practice have contributed to concerns about the integrity of fundraisers and the uses which have been made of the resources they raise As a result a consensus now exists among senior figures in the industry about the changes that are required Technique is no longer enough Many more of the next generation of practitioners must be capable of considered reflection organizational and inter organizational strategic thinking and value based leadership Exploring new developments taking place in the area of fundraising the specially commissioned articles by experts in the field move the thinking in the profession beyond its familiar formulae and assumptions opening up critical debate about the nature contribution and limitations of fundraising This volume is essential reading for anyone who aspires to work at senior levels in fundraising or is currently engaged in studying this challenging area National Directory of Corporate Giving Andrew N. Grabois, 2008-08 Corporations donate billions of dollars every year to help nonprofit organizations This Directory provides the most current information available in print on over 4 100 corporate donors You ll find background on the sponsoring company including plant office division and subsidiary locations names of corporate officers financial data and Forbes and Fortune ratings Get the latest facts on America s leading corporate funders with the National Directory of Corporate Giving new 11th edition Accountability: A Challenge for Charities and Fundraisers Putnam Barber, 2002-03-26 This issue provides background on the development and the current state of various approaches to accountability Authors outline the legal powers of donors to charities and and consider choices in structuring gifts to increase leverage as well as examine the scope of federal laws affecting nonprofits They also review tools to improve performance analysis and discuss the National Center for Charitable Statistics role in accountability and examine how to create more effective government oversight of charitable activities This is the 31st issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Philanthropic Fundraising Fundraising in Diverse Cultural and Giving Environments Robert E. Fogal, 2003-04-02 Bringing diverse cultural traditions into philanthropic fundraising can be rewarding for all parties involved Accomplishing that daunting task successfully is the theme of this issue Opening a constructive dialogue between theory and practice in philanthropic fundraising in diverse cultural and giving environments editor Robert E Fogal executive director of St Mary s Duluth Clinic Foundation is joined by contributing authors from the 2002 Think Tank on Fundraising at St Mary s College Notre Dame Indiana Exploring the topic from a variety of perspectives editor and authors seek a set of normative recommendations and findings that will promote a stronger philanthropic community and extend professional academic and public conversations about philanthropic issues Chapters examine trends in giving in African American Asian American Latino and Native American communities Pier C Rogers presents the results of structured interviews with African American philanthropic professional managers volunteer leaders and fundraisers for nonprofits and provides insight into values attitudes and practices in this community Janice Gow Petty addresses the theme of remittances in nonmajority immigrant families and explores ways that the majority culture can understand and engage this tradition to create new models of giving that successfully blend various and distinct methods of giving and sharing Mike Cortes examines common assumptions about the Hispanic community and illustrates the more specific geographical identities in that diverse Latino community that supersedes the term Similarly Kay C Peck reminds fundraising professionals that there is no single American Indian culture and stresses the importance of recognizing the history of cultural destruction as a prerequisite to understanding philanthropic traditions within the American Indian community Effects of race and gender on giving and volunteering are explored Presenting the results of a survey of 885 Indiana households a research team at the School of Public and Environmental Affairs Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis examines these effects and tracks them across different survey methodologies used in eight past studies Findings from this study bring to light significant and surprising trends in giving and volunteering behaviors by race and gender Philanthropic fundraisers must also recognize emerging cultures Working at the Community Foundation Silicon Valley Barbara Larson explores the new philanthropy in the dot com world and reveals the breakdown of donor market categories in the face of the variety of options and vehicles for giving in this volatile constantly changing donor community Unexpected trends emerging in the wake of the Bush administrations initiatives to foster faith based engagement in social welfare through government funding must be recognized as well Director of Development for Catholic Near East Welfare Association Margaret Guellich examines some of the potential risks to mission integrity stewardship and donor erosion Thomas H Jeavons visiting fellow at the Yale University Program on Nonprofit Organizations at Yale Divinity School cautions against perceive faith based organizations as monolith social entities and demonstrates that the impact of the proposed government program is likely to be small What does the fundraising professional need to face these and other emerging challenges Roger C Hedgepeth principal consultant for CWC Hedgepeth Group asserts that fundraising and fundraising professionals are not prepared to deal with the cultural and social changes they face Instead they need to become boundary spanners characterized by uncommon professional skills that are supported by keen self awareness and multicultural literacy This volume is a crucial tool for philanthropic fundraisers committed to achieving that goal

Engaging Youth in Philanthropy Bill Stanczykiewicz, 2003-05-21 Explores ways nonprofits can foster lifelong philanthropic habit in today's youth Editor Bill Stanczykiewicz president and CEO of the Indiana Youth Institute and contributors examine successful youth engagement programs that illustrate that philanthropy is a habit that can be demonstrated taught and inculcated at a very young age Programs discussed include a YMCA program encouraging civic activity among children with backgrounds in lower income communities and lower academic achievement which demonstrates that the instruction of philanthropic values and behaviors can transcend traditional qualifiers of income and education Contributors also present results of a four year study on college undergraduates who earn college scholarships that require recipients to participate in community service and show how they reveal increased philanthropic values these students in addition to other personal skills that benefit civic engagement and service to others Other aspects of youth philanthropy examined include the significant legal issues surrounding adolescents raising money for organizations youth serving on nonprofit boards and youth casting deciding votes on board matters The issue also includes an informative primer on youth and philanthropy that demonstrates how young people learn philanthropic behavior from several sectors within civil society including community foundations nonprofit organizations schools and government With insight from professionals in the field as well as the passionate voices of philanthropic youth themselves this issue illustrates how we must be actively engaged in the lives of children and youth in our families and in our communities not just to develop healthy habits of philanthropy but for their overall healthy development National Guide to Funding in Religion ,1999

Understanding Donor Dynamics: The Organizational Side of Charitable Giving Eugene R. Tempel,2002-05-08 This issue explores the approaches of organizations and outlines the approaches that donors take today and how organizations can respond to them The authors document the ways in which philanthropy has been changing how donors want to be treated and the dynamics that have fueled the growth of philanthropy in this century They reflect the shift to supply side focus and indicate that focusing on the donor and relying more on discernment of donor interests values and satisfaction and less on scolding demanding and challenging will create a larger and more thoughtful philanthropic response This issue serves as a complement to Understanding the Needs of Donors The Supply side of Charitable Giving New Directions for Philanthropic Fundraising 29 This is the 32nd issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Philanthropic Fundraising Diversity in the Fundraising Profession Janice Gow Pettey,2002-10-11 Examining the distinctions of diversity from within the fundraising profession or exploring strategies to enhance diversity in the nonprofit sector this volume participates in the ongoing discussion on the opportunities and obligations for fundraising practitioners to incorporate culture and tradition in their practice Chapters examine prospect research cultivation and solicitation practice communication strategies in the workplace the importance of diversity in philanthropic boards inclusiveness in the mission and work of nonprofit organizations and the evolution of current gay and lesbian issues as well as the cultural sensitizing that needs to occur in order to develop successful donor relationships Acknowledging the challenge for increased quantifiable data on diversity and promoting continued dialogue this book is a valuable addition to the literature in the fundraising field This is the 34th issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Philanthropic Fundraising Guide to Funding for International and Foreign Programs ,2000

Exploring the Relationship Between Volunteers and Fundraisers Rebecca E. Hunter,2003-07-31 Are volunteers still relevant to the fundraiser's work. If so, for what reasons? If not, why not? This issue looks at volunteers and fundraising. Contributing authors examine fewer of the how-tos of working with volunteers and more of the psychological and psychosocial aspects of volunteers and development professionals' personalities. The assessment extends to organizational characteristics, evolutionary stage and size, and the reasons that certain types of volunteers and fundraisers may be drawn to work with a particular nonprofit group. Moving from broad concept to microcosm, articles in this issue examine all aspects of volunteerism and the rise in professionalism in fundraising in recent years. Bruce Bonnicksen addresses the new roles of volunteers in development, highlighting both the changing reasons for working with volunteers and volunteers' shifting expectations of fundraising professionals. Donald Zeilstra discusses a new paradigm for considering how professionals can work with and relate to volunteer fundraisers by implementing reciprocal learning in teams. Contributors draw from research in the field for their analysis of volunteering and its relationship to fundraising. Linda Lysakowski presents the volunteer's perspective with primary research drawn from 104 nonprofit fundraisers. Another survey of 140 development officers provides issue editor Rebecca E. Hunter the opportunity to analyze relationship building between volunteers and fundraising professionals. Kenneth Knox examines volunteer recruitment, training, and management process in smaller organizations and presents a case study on the Medical Society Fundraising Network. With a targeted survey of the top 25 small liberal arts colleges, Jody Abzug and Rikki Abzug explore the specific roles of volunteers in fundraising efforts at that type of institution. A final case study of Everybody Wins Foundation summarizes the issue's primary themes and presents views from both sides of the table, with some volunteers actively engaged and others content to let the staff lead the charge.

Taking Fundraising Seriously: The Spirit of Faith and Philanthropy Dwight F. Burlingame, 2002-11-14 Exploring the relationship between spiritual motivation and identification in the philanthropic practice, this issue brings scholars and practitioners together to debate, discuss, and examine a variety of findings from different viewpoints. Offering a selected sample of revised papers and presentations from the 14th annual symposium sponsored by the Center on Philanthropy at Indiana University, this issue fosters a deeper understanding of philanthropic action based upon spiritual and religious beliefs. Contributors discuss faith-guided giving, parachurch organizations, the Native American experience of giving, the ethics of wealth, the role of faith-related organizations in community building, and the role faith can play in our professional calling and in our giving.

Approaching Foundations: Suggestions and Insights for Fundraisers Sandra A. Glass, 2001-05-28 This issue presents valuable insight into the processes of foundation fundraising and provides practical suggestions that will be helpful to new and experienced fundraisers. The authors discuss preparation and submission of applications but also strongly emphasize preparations and tasks that organizations need to complete before beginning to approach foundations.
