Stendhal A Geneve:

Stendhal a Geneve Alexis Francois, 1969-06-30 Alexis François. Stendhal à Genève. [Extraits de sa correspondance, de son journal et de ses mémoires. Extraits des 'Souvenirs de Genève' d'Alexandre Andryane.]. Stendhal, 1954 Stendhal's Parallel Lives Francesco Manzini, 2004 This book deals with the important and hitherto neglected relationship between the works of Stendhal and Plutarch's Parallel Lives Stendhal's readings of Plutarch are shown to inform his literary representations of Revolution and Empire Restoration and Orleanism as well as his theorizations of Romanticism In particular the Plutarchan concept of Parallel Lives is used to analyse one of the major themes of Stendhal's writing the self construction of individual identity whether auto biographical or fictional by means of the emulation as distinct from the imitation of heroic exemplars As a consequence the balance between irony and idealism often identified by critics in Stendhal's work is shown rather to be an imbalance weighted in favour of an idealism derived from Plutarchan conceptions of heroism particularly as they are represented in the Lives of Julius Caesar and Marcus Brutus Stendhal Francesco Manzini, 2019-10-15 This is a book about the life and work of a singular writer an author well known for his biographies and travel writing but most famous for his novels The Red and the Black and The Charterhouse of Parma As a child Stendhal witnessed the unfolding of the French Revolution as a young man he served Napoleon first as a soldier and then as an administrator and as a middle aged man he made it his task not to pursue his career but instead to take as much paid leave as possible in order to be free and to be happy and to write Stendhal's works often take the form of conversations with his readers the Happy Few as he called them about the things that matter most He once claimed that he spent the majority of his life carefully considering five or six main ideas This book makes clear what those main ideas were why they mattered to Stendhal and why they continue to matter to all of us Société D'Histoire et D'Archéologie de Genève Bulletin , La république de Genève Alexandre Cingria, 1914 Geneva Constance Alice Barnicoat Grande, Julian Grande, 1920 La Revue de Genève Robert de Traz, 1920 The National Habitus Marie-Pierre Le Hir, 2014-08-27 Stories about border crossers illegal aliens refugees that regularly appear in the press everywhere point to the crucial role national identity plays in human beings' lives today The National Habitus seeks to understand how and why national belonging became so central to a person's identity and sense of identity Centered on the acquisition of the national habitus the process that transforms subjects into citizens when a state becomes a nation state the book examines this transformation at the individual level in the case of nineteenth century France Literary texts serve as primary material in this study of national belonging because as Germaine de Staël pointed out long ago literature has the unique ability to provide access to inner feelings The term habitus in the title of this book signals a departure from traditional approaches to nationalism a break with the criteria of language race and ethnicity typically used to examine it It is grounded instead in a sociology that deals with the subjective dimension of life and is best exemplified by the works of Norbert Elias 1897 1990 and Pierre Bourdieu 1931 2002 two sociologists who approach belief systems like nationalism from a historical instead of an ethical vantage point By distinguishing between two groups of major French writers three who experienced the 1789 Revolution firsthand as adults Olympe de Gouges Fran ois Ren de Chateaubriand and Germaine de Sta l and three who did not Stendhal Prosper M rim e and George Sand the book captures evolving understandings of the nation as well as thoughts and emotions associated with national belonging over time Le Hir shows that although none of these writers is typically associated with nationalism all of them were actually affected by the process of nationalization of feelings thoughts and habits irrespective of aesthetic preferences social class or political views By the end of the nineteenth century they had learned to feel and view themselves as French nationals they all exhibited the characteristic features of the national habitus love of their own nation distrust and or hatred of other nations By underscoring the dual contradictory nature of the national habitus the book highlights the limitations nation based identities impose on the prospect for peace Précis de littérature française du XIXe siècle
