Stepping Out Unwin Hyman Short Stories:

The Wonders of Creation Kristen Page, 2022-11-29 In this insightful exploration of Narnia and Middle earth Biologist Kristen Page discovers what we these beloved fictional landscapes might teach us about our real life landscapes and how to become better stewards of God's good creation Stepping Out Hyman, 1986-10 Stepping Up! Mollie V.

Blackburn, Caroline T. Clark, Ryan Schey, 2018-03-23 Stepping Up offers inspiring suggestions for ways teachers and teacher educators can stand up and speak out for students to create welcoming classroom climates for LGBTQ and gender diverse youth Building from ten years of collaborative longitudinal inquiry including interviews with parents students teachers and administrators the authors share stories from different perspectives to support teachers with concrete examples of advocacy The authors show teachers how to step up by working with students through and beyond curriculum and by working with families and administrators to improve school culture for LGBTQ and gender diverse students Additionally they explore the potential constraints involved in such social justice work and share strategies and resources for transforming schools to be more queer friendly Sweet and Sour Gervase Phinn, 1986 Stealing from the Mother Jerry Aldridge, Lois McFadyen

Christensen, 2013-08-11 This book is the only available compilation of women in education and psychology whose work has been marginalized forgotten or attributed to their male colleagues This resource includes women from the progressive era 1900 1950 the psychological period 1950 2000 and the political period 2000 2010 Caucasian and African American scholars from the Northeast Southern and Midwestern states are highlighted Some of the chapters are shorter than others due to the limited literature concerning some of the women In addition chapters describing the elimination of gender inequity in early childhood education the marginalization of women in education under No Child Left Behind as well as discrimination of women in higher education are included The book concludes with the need to rethink teacher education to include the exceptional contributions of the women who are showcased in this book Finally this source is an attempt to eliminate gender inequity in teacher education and educational psychology by restoring the contributions of feminine scholars Walking a

Tightrope Carol Harvey, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 Both the world of work and the sphere of family life are greedy demanding time and energy of participants These demands often conflict so that people have to make choices and balance requirements of both This book explores ways families meet the challenges of work and family balance in modern societies Drawing from work of researchers in nine countries on four continents the complex interaction of workplace practices social policies and family values is highlighted The Material Unconscious Bill Brown, 1996 Within the ephemera of the everyday old photographs circus posters iron toys lies a challenge to America's dominant cultural memory What this memory has left behind Bill Brown recovers in the material unconscious of Stephen Crane's work the textual residues of daily sensations that add up to a new history of the American 1890s As revealed in Crane's disavowing appropriation of an emerging mass culture from football games and freak shows to roller coasters and early cinema the decade reappears as an underexposed moment in the genealogy of modernism and modernity Brown's story begins on the Jersey Shore in Asbury Park where Crane became a writer in the shadow of his father a grimly serious Methodist minister who vilified the popular amusements his son adored The coastal resorts became the stage for debates about technology about the body's visibility about a black service class and the new mass access to leisure From this snapshot of a recreational scene that would continue to inspire Crane's sensational modernism Brown takes us to New York's Bowery There in the visual culture established by dime museums minstrel shows and the Kodak craze he exhibits Crane dramatically obscuring the typology of race Along the way Brown demonstrates how attitudes toward play transformed the image of war the idea of childhood and nationhood and the concept of culture itself And by developing a new conceptual apparatus with such notions as recreational time abstract leisure and the amusement knowledge system he provides the groundwork for a new politics of pleasure A crucial theorization of how cultural studies can and should proceed The Material Unconscious insists that in the very conjuncture of canonical literature and mass culture we can best understand how proliferating and competing economies of play disrupt the so called logic and work of culture

Walking Methods Maggie O'Neill, Brian Roberts, 2019-07-09 This book introduces and critically explores walking as an innovative method for doing social research showing how its sensate and kinaesthetic attributes facilitate connections with lived experiences journeys and memories communities and identities The book situates walking methods historically sociologically and in relation to biographical and arts based research as well as new work on mobilities the digital spatial and the sensory The book is organised into three sections theorising experiencing and imagining walking as a new method for doing biographical research There is a key focus upon the Walking Interview as a Biographical Method WIBM on the move to usefully explore migration memory and urban landscapes as part of participatory visual and ethnographic research with marginalised communities and artists and as re formative and transgressive The book concludes with autobiographical walks taken by the authors and a discussion about the future of the walking interview as biographical method Walking Methods combines theory with a series of original ethnographic and participatory research examples Practical exercises and a guide to using walking as a method help to make this a rich resource for social science researchers students walking artists and biographical researchers

Apocalypse Then Robert R. Tomes, 1998 Prior to the Vietnam War American intellectual life rested comfortably on shared assumptions and often common ideals Intellectuals largely supported the social and economic reforms of the 1930s the war against Hitler's Germany and U.S. conduct during the Cold War By the early 1960s a liberal intellectual consensus existed The war in Southeast Asia shattered this liberal consensus by causing a relentless series of crises which effectively undermined its fundamental assumptions Throughout these years a sense of passion and urgency prevailed as idealism optimism and American exceptionalism gave way to disillusionment pessimism and a diminished confidence in and trimmed expectations for American life For all involved the war in Vietnam assumed apocalyptic dimensions as somehow the very best or very worst America had to offer seemed at stake Apocalypse Then stands as the definitive account of the impact of the Vietnam War on American intellectual life Crossover Fiction Sandra L. Beckett, 2010-11-24 In Crossover Fiction Sandra L. Beckett explores the global trend of crossover literature and explains how it is transforming literary canons concepts of readership the status of authors the publishing industry and bookselling practices This study will have significant relevance across disciplines as scholars in literary studies media and cultural studies visual arts education psychology and sociology examine the increasingly blurred borderlines between adults and young people in contemporary society notably with regard to their consumption of popular culture
