Skaarup, 2001-11-29. The purpose of this handbook is to provide aviation enthusiasts with a simple checklist on where to find the surviving retired military aircraft that are preserved in Canada. The majority of the Canadian Warbird Survivors are on display within a great number of well-maintained aviation museums; many others are displayed as gate guards near or in a number of Canadian Forces Bases, and a good number are in the hands of private collectors. Many are not listed in any catalogue but have been found by word of mouth or personal observation. The museum staffs and volunteer organizations throughout Canada have done a particularly good job of preserving the great variety of Canadian military aircraft illustrated here. Hopefully, as more aircraft are recovered from their crash sites in the bush and restored, traded or brought back from private owners, they too will be added to the record. The book lists the aircraft alphabetically by manufacturer, number, and type. This list is also appended with a brief summary of the aircraft presently on display within the nation and a bit of its history within the Canadian Forces. Canadian Warbirds books are available through the iUniverse.com or the Amazon.com online bookstores.

Canada's Air Force David J. Bercuson, 2024-10-17. The Royal Canadian Air Force (RCAF) was founded in 1924 as a sort of federal air service carrying out civilian type operations for Ottawa. In the Second World War, the RCAF grew to more than 200,000 personnel in overseas squadrons and performed virtually every type of mission, including bombing and hunting submarines. Over the decades since, the RCAF has tried valiantly to carry out its mission of defending Canada, even when starved of funds by the federal government. Today, it is once again on the verge of becoming a modern, well-equipped air force. In Canada's Air Force historian David J. Bercuson shares the history of the first one hundred years of the Royal Canadian Air Force from its inception in 1924 to its centennial in 2024 Drawing on memoirs diaries unpublished histories archival sources interview transcripts and standard reference works such as The Bomber Command War Diaries Bercuson traces the history of the RCAF as not only a fighting force but also a human institution Canada's Air Force analyses the first century of the RCAF through the clear eyed perspective of a Canadian historian who has closely scrutinized one hundred years of the RCAF's story
