Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1993 Resources in Education ,2001-04 Assessment in Higher Education Clifford Adelman,1986 Making the Grade Martin V. Covington,1992-04-24 Achievement behaviour in schools can best be understood in terms of attempts by students to maintain a positive self image For many students trying hard is frightening because a combination of effort and failure implies low ability which is often equated with worthlessness Thus many students described as unmotivated are in actuality highly motivated not to learn but to avoid failure Students have a variety of techniques for avoiding failure ranging from cheating to setting low goals which are easily achieved In Making the Grade Martin Covington extracts powerful educational implications from self worth theory and other contemporary views of motivation that will be useful for everyone concerned with the educational dilemmas we face He provides a comprehensive insightful review of research and theory both contemporary and historical on the topic of achievement motivation and arranges this knowledge in ways that lead to imminently practical recommendations for restructuring schools

Shaping the Learning Curve Franklin G. Mixon Jr., Franklin Mixon Jr., 2005

This edited volume contains a collection of essays that reflect a broad area of economic education inquiry ranging from teaching assessment to the philosophy of the classroom Written by economics scholars from across the nation this volume presents recent discoveries in presentation assessment and other aspects of economic education at colleges and universities in the U S These articles represent but a sample of the growing commentary among academics on the importance of effective teaching and economic education scholarship
