The New Middle Class And Regime Stability In Saudi Arabia:

The New Middle Class and Regime Stability in Saudi Arabia Mark Heller, Nadav Safran, 1985 From the John Holmes Library collection

Regime Stability in Saudi Arabia Stig Stenslie, 2012 This book examines the structure of political power amongst elites inside Saudi Arabia and how they might cope with the very serious challenge posed by succession. Presenting a new and refreshing theoretical approach that links elite integration with regime stability, the author shows that the kingdom's royal elite is far more integrated than it has generally been given credit for. Based on extensive field work inside Saudi Arabia, the book offers a detailed up-to-date survey and assessment of all the key sectors of the elites in the country. The author examines how the succession process has been used in highly different circumstances, including deposition, assassination, and death by old age, and demonstrates how regime stability in Saudi Arabia rests on the royal family's ability to unite and to solve the challenge of succession. He offers a strong analysis of intra-ruling family mechanisms and dynamics in this notoriously private royal family and addresses the question of whether, as the number of royals rapidly grows, the elite is able to remain integrated. Providing a rare insight into the issues facing the royal family and ruling elite in Saudi Arabia, this book will be of great interest to scholars and students of Middle Eastern politics and Saudi Arabia in particular.

Muslim Societies in the Age of Mass Consumption Johanna Pink, 2020-07-13 In the course of the 20th century, hardly a region in the world has escaped the triumph of global consumerism. Muslim societies are no exception. Globalized brands are pervasive, and the landscapes of consumption are changing at a breathtaking pace. Yet Muslim consumers are not passive victims of the homogenizing forces of globalization. They actively appropriate and adapt the new commodities and spaces of consumption to their own needs and integrate them into their culture. Simultaneously, this culture is reshaped and reinvented to comply with the mechanisms of conspicuous consumption. It is these processes that this volume seeks to address from an interdisciplinary perspective. The papers in this anthology present innovative approaches to a wide range of issues that have so far barely received scholarly attention. The topics range from the changing spaces of consumption to Islamic branding, from the marketing of religious music to the consumption patterns of Muslim minority groups. This anthology uses consumption as a prism through which to view and better understand the enormous transformations that Muslim societies, Middle Eastern, South East Asian, as well as diasporic ones, have undergone in the past few decades.

Reconstructions in Middle East Economic History Don Babai, 2024-10-24 This volume explores major theoretical and empirical themes in the study of the economic history of the Middle East. Despite the relative neglect of economic history in Middle Eastern studies, this book makes a case for its importance as a discipline of study. On the one hand, it shows promise in illuminating the economic base of historical trends and events; on the other, it can elucidate the historical foundations of economic continuity and change. The chapters employ an array of theoretical and methodological approaches and ultimately demonstrate how economics and history, along with political economy, complement each other in studying the Middle East Among the substantive topics explored are the trajectories of the Arab Spring institutional change and economic development in the early Ottoman Empire the destructive effects of the reordering property rights in Iraq by the American led occupation authority the evolution of the political economy of the Islamic Republic of Iran and the determinants of movements in the yields of Egyptian and Ottoman sovereign debt following political and economic crises in the 19th and early 20th centuries The book will be of interest to scholars and students of economic history political economy and the Middle East

Political Modernization in the Gulf Shahid Jamal Ansari,1998 The entire Gulf is passing through a transitional phase The member states of the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC are witnessing change in varying degrees The change has become too evident from the 1960s It was oil more than any other factor which was responsible for a rapid transition Control over oil production and marketing have led to the strengthening of governmental role as owner and distributor of oil income The regions tribal society is being transformed into a modern society Political modernization is a recent phenomenon if the nature and extent of structural and informal transformations are taken into account Three broadly defined phases of political change can be discerned in the Arabian Peninsula the traditional the neo traditional and the modernizing or post traditional The modernizing phase was initiated by radical policies of socio economic development including the necessary restructuring of replacement of regimes and a redefinition or expansion of the scope and role of the state However the pace and direction of change is not clear enough The coming few decades are crucial in this regard

Education System in Saudi Arabia Md. Muddassir Quamar,2020-12-17 This book is a comprehensive study on the education system of Saudi Arabia placing the reforms and changes it has undergone in the past two decades within the context of the historical evolution of the education system An education system cannot be seen in isolation of the society it plays a significant role in shaping the individual state and the society that in turn have a bearing on the education system and its evolution Therefore this book locates Saudi education in the backdrop of the changes in the society how they have facilitated or hindered the education reforms and how the education reforms have impacted the society The book does not ignore the immediate trigger for the beginning of a comprehensive reforms process but goes beyond it to find much deeper socio political and economic rationales that paved the way for the reforms It provides a nuanced understanding of the interplays of various socioeconomic as well as political factors that have shaped the education system in Saudi Arabia
