The New Minister And The Devils Booth:

Exorcism and Deliverance Ministry in the Twentieth Century James M. Collins, 2009-11-10 This study seeks to demonstrate that exorcism deliverance ministry is an innately enthusiastic practice utilizing John Knox's classic study of Christian enthusiasm. The twentieth century provides an ideal arena for such a study since it frames a complete lifecycle for this rite from its infancy during the early decades through its heyday in the 1970s and 80s on to creeping routinisation by the end of the century. Two enthusiastic settings, Charismatic and Evangelical Fundamentalist, are identified and examined as the environment in which two related streams of exorcism deliverance ministry were practiced. Finally, enthusiastic Sacramentalist exorcism is considered in order to establish the thesis that enthusiastic settings provide a conducive atmosphere for the emergence and practice of exorcism deliverance ministry. Attention is paid to historical factors within the Charismatic and Evangelical Fundamentalist streams that underlie the development of this rite. As a result, important secondary insights are gained into the tidal nature of enthusiastic movements, the role of itinerant preachers in the propagation of enthusiasm, the routinisation of enthusiastic practices, and the manner in which enthusiasm overcomes institutional denominational boundaries. The study provides the foundation for future investigation of the manner in which enthusiastic experience is presented for apologetic purposes, the relationship between exorcism deliverance ministry and millenarianism, and the practice of this rite within non-Western churches.

Like a Mighty Army David W. Taylor, 2015-02-26 In 1937, prior to the 1948 inauguration of the World Council of Churches, Karl Barth challenged the churches to engage in real, strict, sober, genuine theology in order that the unity of the church might be visibly realized. At that time, The Salvation Army didn't aspire to become formally known as a church, even though it was a founding member of the WCC. Today, it is globally known as a social welfare organization concerned especially to serve the needs of those who find themselves at the margins of society. Less well known is that seventy years after Barth's challenge, it has made its peace with the view that it is a church denomination. Accepting Barth's challenge to the churches and in dialogue with his own ecumenical ecclesiology the concept of the church as an Army is interrogated in service to The Salvation Army's developing understanding of its identity and to the visible unity of God's church
