The Hand Of The Master Craftmanship Ivory And Society In Byzantium 9th 11th Centuries:

The Hand of the Master Anthony Cutler, 1994 This book is the first detailed study in fifty years of Byzantine ivory carving in the tenth and eleventh centuries the era when work in that medium reached its highest level of attainment Unique in its aim and range The Hand of the Master considers how when and why the Byzantines used ivory for icons and other luxurious items Based on direct study of the objects the book discusses more than 150 pieces and is illustrated with new photographs that are indispensable to an understanding of carving techniques and styles Cutler analyzes the normal working methods of Byzantine carvers as well as aspects of craftsmanship that enable us to identify distinct hands These observations are then made the basis of both a revised chronology and a more rigorous system of classification than has existed heretofore But the recognition of particular sculptors is a means rather than an end in this book Similarities and differences within this huge body of production allow answers to such broader questions as the functions of craftsmen in this society their relations with clients and designers and ultimately the significance of ivory in the visual culture of Byzantium *Anthony Cutler, The Hand of the Master : Craftsmanship, Ivory, and Society in Byzantium (9th-11th Centuries). Urban and Religious Spaces in Late Antiquity and Early Byzantium Jean-Michel Spieser, 2024-12-11 Professor Spieser deals here with a number of the transformations that took place in the world of Late Antiquity and early Christianity focusing upon notions of space The first set of articles opening with a newly written introductory essay addresses the development of urban landscapes from the Roman period up to the iconoclast era in Byzantium In particular he looks at the consequences of christianisation and argues that the changing fortunes of the town cannot be attributed to a few causes such as war or natural disaster but resulted from a complex interplay between the economy and ideology religion and politics A second group concerned with the relationship of late antique man with his surroundings and therefore his perception of space sets out to explain how the decoration of churches on apses for example or on doors reflects new senses of how religious spaces should be organised Six of these studies have been translated into English for this volume and it ends with an important section of additional notes and comment

Clair, 2003-08-29 From 1989 to 1994 more than fifteen hundred bone and ivory objects were excavated from the northeast slope of Rome's Palatine Hill. These remains constitute the largest such find in the western Mediterranean and the first traces of the actual working of ivory in Rome itself. In this original work art historian Archer St Clair explores the significance of these finds in understanding both the development of artisanship in Rome and the broader Greco-Roman cultural and artistic tradition to which they belong. Dating primarily from the first through the fifth century C.E. the carved objects include ornamentation for furniture and boxes in the form of plaques and framing strips; jewelry; dolls; a wide variety of pins as well as smaller numbers of handles, needles, and other implements. Also present at the site was extensive evidence of a bone and ivory workshop including prepared blanks and waste fragments that provide valuable evidence for artisanal practices in both materials. This volume includes a representative catalog of 648 objects from Palatine East, extensively illustrated with photographs and detailed drawings. Four chapters of introductory material offer a comprehensive overview of the material properties of bone and ivory, the literary evidence, and wider context of their use in the ancient world and the particular significance of the Palatine East site. While bone has often been treated simply as an inferior and less valuable alternative to ivory, St Clair notes the close association in their use and elucidates a complex relationship between them. In doing so she offers a detailed contextual study of the uses, social perception, and distribution of the two materials, revealing a shared Mediterranean vocabulary of form and technique.

Byzantium/Modernism, 2015-06-29 Byzantium/Modernism features contributions by fourteen international scholars and brings together a diverse range of interdisciplinary essays on art, architecture, theatre, film, literature, and philosophy which examine how and why Byzantine art and image theory can contribute to our understanding of modern and contemporary visual culture. Particular attention is given to intercultural dialogues between the former dominions of the Byzantine Empire with a special focus on Greece, Turkey, and Russia, and the artistic production of Western Europe and America. Together these essays invite the reader to think critically and theoretically about the dialogic interchange between Byzantium and modernism and to consider this cross-temporal encounter as an ongoing and historically deep narrative rather than an ephemeral or localized trend. Contributors are Tulay Atak, Charles Barber, Elena Boeck, Anthony Cutler, Rico Franses, Dimitra Kotoula, Marie Jos Mondzain, Myroslava M. Mudrak, Robert S. Nelson, Robert Ousterhout, Stratis Papaioannou, Glenn Peers, Jane A. Sharp, and Devin Singh.

Memory & Oblivion A.W. Reinink, Jeroen Stumpel, 2012-12-06 Memory is a subject that recently has attracted many scholars and readers not only in the general historical sciences but also in the special field of art history. However, in this book, in which more than 130 papers given at the XXIXth International Congress of the History of Art, Amsterdam 1996, have been compiled, Memory is also juxtaposed to its counterpart Oblivion, thus generating extra excitement in the exchange of ideas. The papers are presented in eleven sections, each of which is devoted to a different aspect of memory and oblivion, ranging from purely material aspects of preservation to social phenomena with regard to art collecting, from the memory of the art historian to workshop practices.

from art in antiquity to the newest media from Buddhist iconography to the Berlin Wall The book addresses readers in the field of history history of art and psychology
