Jones Beach John Hanc, 2010-03-02 Jones Beach looms large in the hearts and lives of millions of New Yorkers From its windswept beginnings on the far edge of an empire to its twentieth century status as America's greatest public beachfront resort it has been home to countless memories In this evocative book John Hanc explores the traditions institutions controversies and characters of this beloved seaside resort now a state historic landmark He tells the stories of those who have shaped Jones Beach into a cultural icon including public planning giant Robert Moses and beloved entertainer Guy Lombardo The foreword is by Mr Long Island former Newsday columnist Ed Lowe Army Life

A. O. Marshall, 2009-09-01 In 1884 when Albert O Marshall published Army Life a memoir of his service as a private in the Thirty Third Illinois Regiment twenty years had passed since his 1864 discharge Marshall left the journal untouched at publication and today it is a journal that is rare in what it is not This memoir is not a complete story of the Thirty Third known as the Normal Regiment because many of its soldiers were from Illinois State Normal University nor is it a complete roster of regiment members nor a list of killed and wounded Army Life is not even a purely military account written from an officer's point of view It is the story of a twenty year old private whose engaging writing belies his age but also allows his youth to shine through Marshall tells of the battles he fought and the games he played of his friends fellow soldiers and officers and of the regiment's activities in Missouri and Arkansas at Vicksburg and in Louisiana and on the Texas Gulf Coast Enhanced with careful editing and thorough annotations this journal Marshall carried faithfully to every mustering out is a rich and important Civil War memoir specific inhibition modalities with respect to efficacy in vivo What information do medicinal chemists and pharmacologists need from their biochemistry and enzymology colleagues to effectively pursue lead optimization Beginning with a discussion of the advantages of enzymes as targets for drug discovery the publication then explores the reaction mechanisms of enzyme catalysis and the types of interactions that can occur between enzymes and inhibitory molecules that lend themselves to therapeutic use Next are discussions of mechanistic issues that must be considered when designing enzyme assays for compound library screening and for lead optimization efforts Finally the publication delves into special forms of inhibition that are commonly encountered in drug discovery efforts but can be easily overlooked or misinterpreted This publication is designed to provide students with a solid foundation in enzymology and its role in drug discovery Medicinal chemists and pharmacologists can refer to individual chapters as specific issues arise during the course of their ongoing drug discovery efforts
