

Key steps to executing A HIGH PERFORMING PUBLIC RELATIONS PLAN

Who do you want your message to go to? What are the key demographics, where does your audience spend its time? What messages resonate with your defined audience?

What action do you want your audience to take; every message must contain a relevant call to action which directly pertains to your overall objectives

Plug all gaps in your strategy on an ongoing basis, figure out what is working and redirect resources to that work stream. Implement different tactics for the streams that are not working

Take baby steps towards putting together the plan and executing it, you can solve the puzzle piece by piece and start getting results

Identify what it is you want to achieve through the plan, spend the most amount of time ensuring your plan is aligned with the end goals you have in mind

To manage and execute the plan ensure that each aspect is clearly broken down into actionable and measurable steps. Identify your media outreach, your content, and platform goals

Measure, evaluate and respond accordingly. Are you meeting your defined metrics, what are the gaps? How can the overall strategy and implementation be improved?

Provision for and track the budget for each activity. As you continue to invest in the plan, measure your ROR's and keep an upper ceiling on the potential investment at risk
