Potentiating Health and the Crisis of the Immune System S. Fulder,A. Mizrahi,N. Sheinman,2013-06-29 With all the enormous resources that are invested in medicine it is sometimes a mystery why there is so much sickness still in evidence Our life span though higher than at any time in history has now leveled off and has not significantly increased in the last two generations There is a one third increase in long term illness in the last 20 years and a 44% increase in cancer incidence which are not related to demographic issues In some modern countries the level of morbidity defined as days off work because of sickness has increased by two thirds in this time Despite 1 trillion spent on cancer research in 20 years the War On Cancer has recently been pronounced a complete failure by the u s President s Cancer Panel Evidently we still have a long way to go The goal of Health for All by the Year 2000 as the World Health Organization has put it is another forgotten dream As ever the answer will be found in breaking out of the old philosophical patterns and discovering the new as yet unacceptable concepts The problems of medicine today require a Kuhnian breakthrough into new paradigms and new ways of thinking And these new ways will not be mere variations of the old but radical departures This book and the conference upon which it was based is part of a search for these new pathways

Intensifying the moral panic of the obesity epidemic they depict civilization itself as a disease and offer diet as the one true cure Bitar reads each diet the Paleo Diet the Garden of Eden Diet the Pacific Island Diet the detoxification or detox diet as both myth and manual a story with side effects shaping social movements driving industry and constructing fundamental ideas about sickness and health Diet and the Disease of Civilization unearths the ways in which diet books are actually utopian manifestos not just for better bodies but also for a healthier society and a more perfect world The Family Good Health Guide John Fry, E. Gambrill, A. Moulds, G. Strube, 2012-12-06 Although we have no good definition of health all people have their own ideas of whether they are healthy or not Based on personal experience and knowledge each person comes to accept that within themselves there is a normal range of feelings and performance departure from which could be considered abnormal or unhealthy Despite the many amazing technological advances made over recent decades it cannot be said that access to advanced medical care is the main determining factor in the healthiness or otherwise of a society Even in these modern times most diseases and health problems are non curable in the strict sense and the scope for effective prevention of disease is more limited than some enthusiasts suggest Individuals must appreciate the limitations of modern medical care and while seeking to use the care available to best possible effect accept that the responsibility for trying to prevent major disease rests in their own hands In this book we have tried to present a balanced and realistic picture of the many factors that must be taken into account if optimum disease prevention and health maintenance are to be achieved The health of your family is your responsibility An understanding of what can go wrong how it can be prevented or how it can best be coped with can only be helpful to you Guided Imagery for Self-Healing Martin L.
