survival Professor Larry E Greiner Marshall School of Business University of Southern California USA The aspiration to adopt the right strategy still prevails over the business world But is there a single best strategy for a company Can an organization create sustainable competitive advantage from an off the peg strategy And are most companies likely to craft a strategy that genuinely creates uncontested market space and makes the competition irrelevant The answer to all these questions is probably No And the rising tide of companies like Dell CostCo Skype and Linux means that asking them at all may soon be futile While strategists have foundered in old paradigms a new breed of competitors has emerged Value destroyers Old style thinking understood value destruction when it was confined to an industry and driven by a new product or technology But what are the implications when the destruction stems from a new way of thinking from a strategy that simultaneously creates value The implications are enormous Every company in every industry is potentially at risk This risk or opportunity is precisely the reason for this book and its focus on exploring why and how some companies have bridged the gap between differentiator and cost leader strategies to emerge as winners in hypercompetitive markets and what this entails in terms of value destruction and creation Discounting organizations are here to stay are you World Out of Balance Paul A.
